HOW REDS RULE WAR PLANT

Nazi Attack Drives Back Russians

GERMANS SEIZE TOWNS IN PUSH NEAR ZHITOMIR

Reds' First Setback in 4 Months.

LONDON, Nov. 18 [Thursday]—(AP).—A German counter-attack by a force reported to total 150,000 men sent the Red army into reverse yesterday in the Zhitomir region of the northern Ukraine. It was the first admitted soviet setback since the Russian offensive began four months ago.

However, in the Dnieper bend soviet troops killed 2,000 Germans and seized several towns and in the Korosten rail junction area 60 more hamlets were captured. Advances also were made in the Gomel-Rechitsa area and a new soviet drive was reported near Orsha, 75 miles southwest of Smolensk.

The unusual announcement of the soviet retreat came in Moscow war summaries recorded here by the soviet radio monitor. These said the Germans concentrated "superior forces" on a small sector and that after 1,500 Nazis had been slain the Russians were forced to "abandon a few populated places and entrench themselves in new positions."

Retreat Minor, Berlin Hints.

The Berlin radio itself indicated the soviet retreat was not on a large scale when it reported the Russians' "backward movement at the moment is not very considerable."

The German war summary said the counter-attacks were "making good headway and the enemy, despite stubborn resistance, was thrown back in several sectors."

At the same time, however, the Russians resumed their drive to clear out the Dnieper river bend southeast of the Zhitomir region. Here the Red army captured Tomakovka, 22 miles northeast of the great manganese center of Nikopol.

Gain in Korosten Drive.

North of Zhitomir, the Russians surged north and west toward Korosten. One town captured is 15 miles east of the railway and 26 miles northeast of Korosten.

Farther north in the Rechitsa area, where the Russians are in position to outflank Gomel, six German strongpoints were captured and the Russians drove into the western outskirts of Rechitsa.

Take 10 Towns West of Kiev.

Other Russian advances were made north of Kiev in the lower reaches of the Pripet river where a town 55 miles northwest of Kiev and nine other places were captured.

Moscow was silent on the fighting in the Crimea. The Germans said some Russian units were wiped out in the Kerch sector and important heights were reoccupied.

Army Bombs 3 Mid-Pacific Bases of Japan

PEARL HARBOR, T. H., Nov. 17. (AP).—Continuing their aerial offensive in the Central Pacific, army Liberator bombers raided the Jaluit and Mille atolls in the Marshall Islands and Makin in the Gilbert group the afternoon of Nov. 15, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced today.

The bulletin gave the following results of the attack:

One enemy ship set on fire and three others possibly hit in Jaluit harbor; many fires started in hangars, shops, and fuel dumps at Imieji [Emidj], and Jabor Islands of the Jaluit atoll; several fires started at Mille atoll.

Third Raid in 3 Days.

Clouds prevented accurate observation at Makin.

It was the third successive day on which Liberators of Maj. Gen. Willis H. Hale's 7th air force had struck against Japanese bases in the Central Pacific in an offensive which the general said would be continued until they become "completely untenable."

There was no enemy interception at any point in the November 15 raid and no damage to American planes or personnel. Intense anti-aircraft fire was encountered at Mille, but it was weak at Makin and Jaluit.

Sight Seaplanes.

The Japanese have a strong seaplane base and a good harbor at Jaluit lagoon, where the pilots reported they saw several seaplanes and many barges, in addition to the transports attacked.

Mille has a good air field, but the absence of aerial opposition indicates either that the enemy is running short of planes or that he did not expect a return attack on that atoll in this series of raids. Mille had been bombed the previous night.

Warn France Bombing Blitz Is on the Way

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

The OWI overseas branch and the British radio joined last night in a special warning to the French that the allies are going to unleash new and massive aerial assaults on Nazi war plants in France to "shorten the war."

Thirty-six places, including the Paris area, were listed as liable to be attacked. The French people were warned to stay away from the designated areas, most of which are the sites of important aircraft factories.

Among the areas listed, in addition to Paris, were Gennevilliers, Bois Colombes, Argenteuil, Ivry, Courbevoie, Nantes, Le Mans, Toulouse, Lille, Strasbourg, Lyons, Clermont, Metz, and Denain.

R. A. F. Bombs Germany.

LONDON, Nov. 18 [Thursday]—(AP).—The R. A. F.'s heavy bombers, taking to the air from British bases for the first time since Armistice day, battered Germany again last night in a renewal of the allied aerial offensive. A preliminary British announcement disclosed neither the weight of the attack nor the specific targets.

Yesterday R. A. F. Typhoon bombers hit Nazi held channel ports. Two minesweepers, a trawler, and a motor launch were damaged.

'JEEP DISEASE' ARMY'S LATEST

Bass Horn Backache Is Bared to Medics.

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 17.—"Jeep disease," "destroyer stomach," and "Sousaphone backache" were described to the Southern Medical association today as three of the newer medical complaints of men in the armed forces.

The jeep ailment is a condition suffered by many persons in civilian life and which does not necessarily cause disability but, Brig. Gen. Fred Rankin of the army surgeon general's office said, the rigors of mechanized warfare—"riding on jeeps, trucks and tanks"—resulted in many cases of disability among such sufferers entering the fighting services.

Rough Riding Does It.

The ailment stems from a cyst formation near the base of the spine. In some cases the abnormality is no more than a pimple. The rough riding that mechanized warriors have to do very often causes the tissue to become further inflamed.

Operation is often indicated to remove the diseased tissue, said Dr. Louis A. Buie of the Mayo clinic, but he said military surgeons faced a problem of selecting cases requiring surgery.

The "destroyer stomach" complaint was described by Lt. Comdr. W. T. Gibb Jr. of the National Naval Medical center of Bethesda, Md., who said it was a condition "appearing mostly in hospitals that receive men directly off the ships."

"Apparently," he said, "it is a form of subacute gastritis due to protracted seasickness, irregular meals, and constant nervous tension, and occurs mostly in the rough waters of the North Atlantic.

Backache from Bass Horn.

Comdr. Gibb told this one:

"A boy who was a member of the navy school of music complained, among other things, of a backache which he attributed to a Sousaphone, an instrument which weighs about 50 pounds. He wanted to play a clarinet.

"The backache persisted for weeks and ultimately he was sent back to duty in spite of it.

"The next time I saw this individual he was playing a clarinet in a navy sponsored show, and in addition did a "jitterbug" dance.

"He said he never felt better in his life. He was doing exactly what he wanted to do."

Tyler Girl a Suicide, Doctors' Jury Rules; Record Fake Hit

Pictures illustrating the Tyler case will be found on page 10 and the back page.

A coroner's jury of six distinguished Chicago physicians returned a verdict of suicide last evening in the death of Miss Marjorie Tyler, and severely criticized falsification of the record of her case in County hospital.

The jury found that Miss Tyler died of carbon monoxide poisoning after inhaling illuminating gas in her apartment at 223 East Superior street.

"We regard the falsification of the hospital records as highly reprehensible," the verdict asserted. "We urge that autopsies be held immediately on all cases of suspected unnatural death."

Nine Witnesses Heard.

Before retiring to decide on a verdict, the jury heard nine witnesses tell the story of Miss Tyler's life and death. The last witness was Dr. Raymond W. McNealy, chief surgeon at Wesley Memorial hospital and chief of the County hospital staff, for whom Miss Tyler worked as private secretary.

Dr. McNealy, 57 years old, a gray haired balding man with a white mustache, was in tears as he ended his testimony. With desperate earnestness, he defended his young friend and protege, Dr. Victor A. Lands, who earlier had admitted that he altered the hospital records to make it appear that Miss Tyler died of natural causes.

"By changing the records Dr. Lands did a terrible thing," said Dr. McNealy, "but he was trying to cover up the circumstances of Miss Tyler's death for the benefit of her distraught parents. I admit he overstepped, but he was only trying to be helpful."

Denies Having Apartment Key.

Dr. McNealy was asked if he had a key to Miss Tyler's apartment.

"Positively not," he replied.

Asked if any of his belongings were kept in the apartment, he said:

"None." Then the surgeon hesitated and added: "Wait, she borrowed a book on the philosophy of life, some high sounding book by John Erskine. And she may have had another book of mine. But nothing else."

Dr. Lands, who preceded McNealy on the stand, is a sharp featured, sallow complexioned man with close cropped hair. He spoke quietly and his poise was shaken only once, when the American flag standing behind Coroner A. L. Brodie toppled over and nearly struck Lands on the head.

Dr. Lands Tells Story.

Dr. Lands reviewed his account of finding Miss Tyler desperately ill in her apartment last Wednesday, and told how he took her to County hospital, where she died on Saturday. He explained that he did not take Miss Tyler across the street to Wesley Memorial hospital because he wished to save her embarrassment in the event of her recovery.

High point of his testimony concerned the alteration of the hospital records. Here are Dr. Lands' statements in response to questions by the coroner and members of the jury:

Q.—Did you change the records in this case? A.—I did.

Q.—Why did you change the records? A.—I was motivated by the same desires that led me not to take her to Wesley hospital. I thought I was being noble. I realize now I was just foolish.

Q.—What did you do with the old records? A.—I tore them up. All of the interns on the case knew exactly what was the matter with Miss Tyler so my changing the records did not affect the treatment she received in any way.

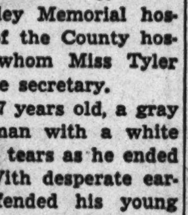
JOHN THOMPSON, TRIBUNE WRITER, AWARDED MEDAL



John Thompson.

ALLIED HDQ., Algiers, Nov. 17 (AP).—John Thompson, war correspondent of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE and Mutual Broadcasting system, was decorated today with the Purple Heart for an injury he suffered when he jumped with American parachute troops near Vittoria in Sicily on July 9.

The award was made by Maj. Gen. Mathew B. Ridgway, commanding the 82d air borne division, and the medal was pinned on Thompson by Lt. Col. Edward E. Bomar of the allied headquarters public relations staff.

Thompson also lost his portable typewriter and was almost captured during the assignment, which he undertook in order to write an eye-witness account of parachute troopers in action. He had previously jumped with the paratroops in the Tunisian campaign.

BREAD SUBSIDY TO HOLD DOWN PRICE PLANNED

Expect House to Ban Payments.

BY LAURENCE BURD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 17.—Administration plans for a new 100 million dollar a year subsidy to hold retail bread prices at current levels were disclosed today as the house prepared to open debate tomorrow on a pending bill outlawing all food subsidies.

House adoption of the anti-subsidy measure over administration opposition was predicted by both opponents and proponents of the measure, which is expected to come to a vote Monday. The bill, if enacted into law, would nullify the new bread plan as well as present subsidy payments on meat, butter, and other products.

The bread subsidy, authoritative sources said, will be invoked to relieve a "squeeze" on the flour milling industry brought about by rising wheat prices in the face of fixed retail ceilings on bread. The only alternative to the subsidy, if a bread shortage is to be averted, it was claimed, would be a rise of 1 to 2 cents a loaf in bread prices to consumers.

Plan Wheat Ceiling.

The plan, it was said, calls for payments of federal funds to flour mills on wheat used in making bread. Mills would be paid the difference between the wheat parity price and the price for which wheat flour can be sold under current ceilings without squeezing millers out of business.

In conjunction with the program, it was explained, the office of price administration plans to place a ceiling, amounting to the parity price, on hard or winter wheat, which is the chief crop used in making bread. [Parity is a price intended to give farmers their 1909-'14 purchasing power.]

The pending house bill would prohibit all federal payments for the present so-called consumer food subsidies on meat, butter, etc., after Dec. 31, and would ban the inauguration of any new subsidy programs from the date the bill became law.

Cost 1⅓ Billions a Year.

The administration is seeking blanket authority for the payment of any consumer subsidies it deems necessary and Price Administrator Chester Bowles has estimated the enlarged program would cost about 1⅓ billion dollars a year, compared with the present annual rate of 800 millions.

The pending house bill also extends the life of the Commodity Credit corporation until June 30, 1945, and authorizes that agency to guarantee support prices to producers on farm products where this is found necessary to maintain or increase food production.

The latter provision is expected to meet with little or no opposition in congress, and almost the entire two day house debate is scheduled to center on the issue of consumer subsidies.

Speaker Sam Rayburn [D., Tex.] told reporters the bill will probably reach a house vote on Monday.

Rep. Jesse Wolcott [R., Mich.], ranking minority member of the banking committee, predicted all proposals to extend subsidies will be defeated in the house. He said the bill probably will be vetoed by the President, but said there is a "good chance" in the house to override the expected veto.

SLASH 2 POINTS OFF RATIONING VALUE OF PORK

Washington, D. C., Nov. 17 [Special].—The government tonight slashed ration point costs of nearly all cuts of pork by two points in an effort to stimulate retail pork purchases and thus relieve the supply congestion in leading markets. The cut is effective at 11:01 p. m., Chicago time, tomorrow.

In addition, the office of price administration extended government support of hog prices to all markets in the country. The support price, $13.75 per hundred pounds, had previously been in effect only in Chicago. Heavy selling of hogs by producers recently has resulted in wide breaks in the price floor.

Report Accord in Film Star's Paternity Suit

New London, Conn., Nov. 17 [Special]—An out-of-court settlement was reported tonight to have been reached in film star Constance Bennett's sensational legal fight to prove her 14 year old son the offspring of playboy Philip Morton Plant and entitled to his $500,000 fortune.

Peter Bennett Plant.

The two day hearing ended abruptly this afternoon a moment before the glamorous, blonde actress was to go on the stand and tell all about her married life with Plant, the second of her four husbands, and the strange maternal urge that prompted her to fake the identity of her son since birth.

Attorneys Confer Five Hours.

Because of the intimate details that had been expected to emerge from the revelations, Connie's attorney tried to have the public excluded from the courtroom. The Superior Judge James E. Murphy overruled the request, there was no occasion for the apprehension because of the trial's sudden termination.

It was reported that a compromise settlement had been reached by attorneys who conferred among themselves and with Judge Murphy for about five hours this afternoon. The judge this evening announced adjournment of court until 10 a. m. tomorrow at which time it is expected the attorney's decisions will be offered for court approval.

Crowds Besiege Star.

While the attorneys met in heavy conference, the tiny, smartly gowned actress smilingly gave autographs to scores of fans who besieged her in an anteroom off the trial chamber. Occasionally she swallowed cough medicine from a small bottle, having come to court from a three day sickness of bronchitis that prevented her appearance when the trial opened yesterday.

Today's climax, which followed legal body blows to the case of attorneys representing the Plant estate, was reached before young Plant's widow, Marjorie King Plant, en route by plane from California, could get here and enter the contest against the woman who preceded her in the playboy's affections.

Old Hollywood Mystery.

It had been expected that a full trial of the case would bring an answer to a Hollywood mystery of many years—the paternity of Peter Bennett Plant, 14 years old, who is now in a midwestern military academy.

Thruout his life, in legal documents and elsewhere, Connie had contended she was not his natural mother, that she adopted him in London following his birth there in 1929 to her cousin.

But now she claims this was all untrue, that she misrepresented his identity with tender solicitude in a long nurtured plan of concealment because she didn't want him exposed to the "drinking and promiscuity" of his father, the late Phil Plant.

When young Plant died, June 18,

TERRORIZE ALL WORKERS; SLOW UP PRODUCTION

Betting and Dice Games Flourish.

BY ORVILLE DWYER AND GEORGE HARTMANN.

Evidence that thousands of workers in one of Chicago's great new war plants are completely controlled and their production efforts sabotaged by Communists in the CIO United Automobile Workers union has been obtained in an extended investigation by TRIBUNE reporters.

The plant was begun before Pearl Harbor by the government with taxpayers' millions and turned over to the management of the Studebaker corporation. It is located on the southwest side of Chicago. Thousands of men and women are employed there making airplane engine parts vital to the prosecution of the war.

Flagrant as the Communists' activities have become and serious as is the resultant lag in production, neither the federal bureau of investigation, the army, nor any other government agency has been able to do anything about it. Now the right wing non-Communist officials of the UAW international, headed by R. J. Thomas and Walter P. Reuther, are reported ready to oust the Communists who run the Chicago union and put an administrator in charge. The union involved is local 998.

Battle Against Obstacles.

Fighting almost unbelievable obstacles, the company, with the help of some loyal workers, has managed so far to maintain production in its Chicago plant at a rate which keeps enough engine parts flowing to the 20,000 other Studebaker workers to fill its army air corps quotas.

In fact, the Chicago plant by employing extra workers—some estimates place the extras at 30 per cent—won its army and navy "E" last spring and only a week ago was able to add the star denoting good production.

Despite the management's refusal to coöperate in revealing the conditions under which the plant operates, Tribune reporters in scores of interviews with workers, bosses, and guards, learned that Communist members and officials of local 998, UAW-CIO actually dictate to the management on production quotas. The Reds have virtually taken over the plant; the management, fearful of walkouts, slowdowns, and failure to meet quotas, has given in on most controversial points.

Condoned to Fill Quotas.

Inability of the Studebaker management to control the Communist leaders and stamp out the gambling, loafing, and sabotage is said largely to arise from the company's decision to fill in war quotas at all costs. Practices which would be fought to a finish in peace time have been condoned for this reason. Nor are the bad conditions existing in the Studebaker Chicago plant restricted to that one factory. The same evil conditions are to be found in many other of Chicago's big war plants.

Outline of Conditions.

1. Open gambling, syndicate controled, is carried on thruout the plant. Horse race betting is general, the bookies on one "bad" day lost $18,000. Betting sheets are posted in open lockers. Dice games and penny pitching for much larger denominations are indulged in day and night openly on the floor of the plant.

2. The Communist dominated union has set the production quotas so low that the majority of day and night workers on all shifts have two hours or more on each shift to loaf. Thus hundreds constantly are wandering about the various divisions, gambling or talking.

3. Hundreds of workers daily are malingering and sleeping in the washrooms. A doctor who served 10 months as plant physician reports that a line of 100 employes each morning demands aspirin and other attention. This medical man was forced out by the Communists.

4. In some cases workers in the open shop plant have been threatened with broken legs and arms if they didn't conform to low

War Workers in Chicago Factory Ruled by Communists in CIO Union

quotas. Slowdown and sitdown strikes have been called to enforce the Communists' demands that workers be fired.

5. Wives "in droves" have invaded the plant to protest against conditions which allowed their husbands to lose their wages in the dice games and horse betting.

6. Open contempt of the management and officials is encouraged by the union. Communist workers have destroyed machines and spoiled workers' products to enforce their slowdown orders. Union officers and stewards have followed employes into the offices of plant officials from the plant manager down and forced the employes to quit talking without taking a union representative into the management office with them.

Need Letters to Get Jobs.

7. Many of those seeking jobs in the plant at the start of operations were compelled to obtain letters from CIO officials or a Democratic ward committeeman on the southwest side.

8. In a number of instances women workers say they were fired because the Communist union members enforced sitdown or slowdown strikes while they were "on the line."

9. Taking newspapers or other printed matter into the plant is barred by government order but hundreds of copies of the Daily Worker, the Communist newspaper and hundreds of Communist pamphlets are passed from hand to hand inside the plant. Communist pamphlets of a length to be read in 20 or 30 minutes and part of the soviet plan for "mass education" are scattered around the work benches. Employes, without their knowledge, have been put on the Daily Worker subscription lists.

Red School Commended.

10. For months an advertisment for the Communist Abraham Lincoln school at 30 West Washington street held a conspicuous place on the plant bulletin boards. The "democratic and patriotic curriculum" of the school was commended in The Studebaker Pilot, house organ of local 998, UAW-CIO. This was distributed to all workers.

11. During the two years the company has been operating the plant the management has been compelled to call on the federal bureau of investigation, Lt. George Barnes, head of the police labor detail, and other governmental agencies in vain attempts to curb the Reds in slowdowns, sitdowns, and other sabotage efforts.

Three officials of local 998, now working in the plant, are members of the Communist party. They are:

Lillian Portnoy, a union steward. She is president of the Victor Barron branch of the Communist party. She leads in the plant agitation.

Evelyn Fargo, member of the bargaining committee and said to be the guiding hand behind Carl Swanson, its chairman. She was a member of the International Workers Order, is a past president of Young People's Communist league, member of the 6th ward branch of the Communist party.

Gertrude Selig, secretary of the union; lectured at Abraham Lincoln school; said to have joined the party in New York City.

Another Communist, who until he was recently inducted into the army was an official of the union, is William Sennett. He was arrested for communist activities when he was 17. He was formerly a Young People's Communist league organizer on the west side, was an instructor in the Chicago workers' school, predecessor of the Abraham Lincoln school, and was editor of the plant house organ.

How Plant Bookies Operate.

The betting operations at the plant duplicate the methods used in the regular syndicate horse parlors. The five known bookies operating in the plant daily are Joe, Hank, Tony, Eddie, and Herman. The former four operate out of Locker Room No. 19, and are in the polishing department. Herman is on the prop-line department.

When the play is too big for these men—and since the $18,000 one day loss experienced by them last August—they use the telephone booth on the plant floor and "lay off" some of the bets.

Run-off sheets and charts are kept in the locker room of the plant at the east end behind the wheelroom. The locker room is usually crowded with betting and loafing employes. Wall sheets are hanging in one of the 3 foot high, 18 inch wide lockers so that bettors may go and see how their horses ran.

[One employe made a $1 bet for a Tribune reporter. Later the employe brought out the war plant bookie's receipt for the money and the run-off sheet for that day, taking it out of locker No. 9495, to show that Cravenwon ran third.]

Employes tell how more than a year ago a new company guard saw money passed between a bettor and a bookie. He demanded an explanation. The guard, seeing the bookie stuff a notebook into his shirt pocket, reached over and flushed it out. He noted bets listed in the book and went to report to his chief.

Anton J. Kirincic, captain of the guards, employes say, met the new guard before he got to Kirincic's office. Some one had phoned the captain on the house system. This guard, now out of the plant, reports that Kirincic "bawled" him out, told him he had no business "to search" employes. A few days later Kirincic ordered all the guards to let the workers bet if they wanted to and to keep away from the bookies.

Roll Dice on Plant Floor.

The gambling in the plant includes big dice games. These are held daily. At first these were confined to the lavatories. Lately they've been held right out on the plant floor. The men roll dice at all hours of the day and night. They're making $80 to $90 a week. Employes say the dice are rolled for comparatively "heavy money."

The gambling, loafing, malingering, slowdowns, sitdowns, and deliberate throttling of production all may be laid down directly to the terrorism, threats, strikes, and coercion of the union chiefs. The management is compelled to put up with it, to stand veritably helpless. The union dominates the factory; the Communists dominate the union.

[Another article telling details of the Communists' control and how it is effected in the war plants will appear in The Tribune tomorrow.]

Chicago's Own

The people of Chicago and especially organized workers should be proud of its new institution of learning, the Abraham Lincoln School.

The Abraham Lincoln School is dedicated to the tradition for which Lincoln lived and died — that government of the people, by the people and for the people should not perish from the earth.

The School has already a proud record of achievement. In its first two terms over two thousand students have enrolled in its classes.

The School is making a great contribution to the development in the Middle West of truly popular culture. The broadly patriotic and democratic curriculum, authentically American in its content and broad as humanity in its outlook, which is planned is being accepted by wider circles in the Middle West. The ever-increasing acceptance of this curriculum has helped to hold in check those forces who would wish to thwart, distort, and destroy the tradition of American democratic culture.

DEMANDS WAGES FOR HOUSEWIVES IN BRITAIN, TOO

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 17.—Wages for British housewives, who "have a full-time job cooking, scrubbing, and bearing children," were demanded today by Dr. Edith Summerskill, member of parliament and chairman of the Married Women's association.

Dr. Summerskill said in an article in the London Star that the women's property act of 1882 should be amended to make Britain's 10,000,000 wives eligible for "an equal share of the family income after expenses are paid."

She hinted that wives, who have been making and saving money while working in war plants, are going to take a glum view upon returning to their homes and working for nothing. "Housewives are the only category of workers who are denied monetary recognition for their services."

The question of wages for wives came up here recently when a court upheld a husband's claim to 40 cents a week his wife had saved while taking in roomers over a 17 year period. According to British law, the housekeeping allowance belongs to the husband and if the wife saves any of it it is his property.

Mrs. Webster's eldest child, George, 14 years old, who was at home in a dazed condition when the slaying was discovered, was being questioned.

NEWSPRINT CUT TO RISE TO 23% IN NEXT QUARTER

Larger Papers Will Be Hit Hardest by Proposal.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 17.—United States newspapers will slash their newsprint consumption in the first three months of 1944 by an overall average of 23 per cent below the 1941 level, war production board officials predicted today. Under the proposed sliding scale, the larger newspapers will cut their newsprint use 28 per cent.

The curtailment was recommended by the newspaper industry advisory committee after a two day meeting, Harry M. Bitner, director of the WPB printing and publishing division, said. The WPB is expected to accept the recommendation and make it effective thru an amendment to the present newsprint limitation order which has cut consumption more than 10 per cent this year.

Supply 23 Per Cent Off.

The newspaper industry committee received a WPB report that the 1944 newsprint supply will be approximately 3,050,000 tons, or about 23 per cent less than the 3,915,000 tons in 1941.

The committee, in its recommendation to WPB, suggested the newsprint curtailment be applied on a sliding scale with the largest papers taking the heaviest cut and with some of the smallest papers exempt. The committee estimated the reduction would save approximately 194,000 tons in the first quarter of 1944.

The proposed reduction would be applied against a base quota which would be 100 per cent of the newsprint used in printing each newspaper's net paid circulation in the corresponding quarter of 1941, plus 3 per cent for waste, plus the percentage its net paid circulation increased in the fourth quarter of 1942 over the fourth quarter of 1941.

The recommended quota basis is the same used in 1943 except for the inclusion of the additional allowance for increased circulation in the 1942 fourth quarter. The committee also suggested that newspapers be allowed to carry forward for later use any saving in print paper affected in any 1944 quarter.

Four Point Program.

At the same time, the WPB announced that American and Canadian newsprint representatives have agreed on a four point program to conserve the supply of wood pulp used in making the paper on which newspapers are printed.

The program was developed at a meeting Nov. 15 in New York City of the WPB forest products bureau and paper division, and the newsprint administration of the war time prices and trade board of Canada. The joint statement warned that the suggested conservation methods will increase newsprint costs. The program follows:

1. Reduce the weight of the newsprint.
2. Add mineral filler, replacing wood fiber.
3. Reduce sulphite pulp content by slowing down paper making machines if necessary. This would permit replacement of sulphite pulp by ground wood pulp which requires less wood per ton.
4. Replace some new fiber with waste paper.

50TH RAID MADE BY EX-CHICAGOAN IN ITALIAN AREA

Lt. Norton Goodwin.

Friends of Lt. Norton Goodwin of Washington, D. C., who was born in Chicago and studied at the Bell school in Lake Forest, yesterday received word that he recently completed his 50th mission as co-pilot of a B-25 Mitchell bomber. The son of former Illinois Appellate Judge Clarence Norton Goodwin, now a Washington attorney, won the air medal with oak leaf clusters for bombing raids on targets in Tunisia, Sicily, Pantelleria, Sardinia, Corsica, Greece, and Italy. He participated in the first bombing of the Rome area on July 19. Lt. Goodwin is stationed in Italy at present.

DROP U. S. PLAN TO HELP FINANCE ARABIA REFINERY

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 17 (AP).—Termination of negotiations between the government's Petroleum Reserve corporation and the California-Arabian Standard Oil company for government participation in an Arabian oil refinery development, was disclosed by company officials today.

The officials, who would not be quoted directly, said discussions ended when it became apparent no agreement could be reached on terms. There was a hint that the war was the determining factor in ending negotiations, since the proposed refinery could not have been placed in operation within a year.

Petroleum Reserve corporation, under the original plan, was to take a one-third interest in return for partial financing of the Arabian refinery.

BIG MILWAUKEE WAR FACTORY IS CLOSED BY U. S.

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 17 [Special].—The Milwaukee Ordnance plant, one of the largest producers of small arms ammunition in the country, will cease production immediately and its 5,000 employes will be released on or before Dec. 31, it was announced here officially today.

Closing of the huge plant, which has been producing ammunition since August, 1942 and which cost the government approximately 22 million dollars, was ordered by the army ordnance department because of "changing needs of combat forces, plus the fact that a sufficient bank of finished ammunition is now accumulated."

Made .50 Caliber Bullets.

Maj. R. L. Davis, commandant at the plant, said the plant has been engaged principally in the production of .50 caliber armor piercing machine gun bullets and that it had turned out enough of these to fire 12 rounds at every soldier in all the armies of our enemies.

"This one plant has turned out more of this ammunition than all ordnance plants in existence in the country during the first World war," Maj. Davis said.

Letter to Tell Why.

Maj. Davis said a letter to employes from Maj. Gen. L. H. Campbell, chief of ordnance, has been received and will be posted on the plant's bulletin board. This letter cautions against any assumption by employes that the end of the war is near and asserts that on the contrary "a long and bitter war" lies ahead.

The production of ammunition at the plant is being halted solely because such a magnificent job has been done that all such ammunition now needed has been manufactured, the letter states.

Utah Plant Closed, Too.

The order for the closing was brought here by Maj. Edward J. Smith, of the office of chief of ordnance of the army, who said he had come here from Utah where, on Monday, he had transmitted a similar order for the closing of the Utah Ordnance plant, which employs 6,000 persons.

Maj. Davis and F. L. Swanson, factory manager for the United States Rubber company, which has operated the plant for the government, signed a joint notice informing employes that the closing is imminent and assuring them that workers will be released in an orderly manner and "will be given every possible consideration."

When Andrew Garrigan, 31 years old, pins on his probationary patrolman's badge and reports for duty Sunday at the Town Hall station his police veteran brothers, John J., 44, and Daniel F., 40, will be on hand to greet him. They are the sons of Mrs. Anna Garrigan, 6431 North Oakley avenue.

PACIFIC WILDER THAN LAKE, SAYS NAVAL SKIPPER

Lt. J. S. Pedersen.

Yachting experience on Lake Michigan is valuable when you're in the navy and in stormy waters, said Lt. John S. Pedersen, 453 Belmont avenue, who has returned home for a brief visit after a year of patrol duty in the Pacific and Aleutians areas. He has been assigned to a new station. Lt. Pedersen formerly was a member of the Chicago Yacht club and knows Lake Michigan from end to end.

"But rough as Lake Michigan can be, it is nowhere near as bad as parts of the Pacific," said Lt. Pedersen. "At times our ship has listed as much as 50 degrees, until we thought it was a goner. Many times my chief boatswain's mate and I were the only ones of the entire crew who were not seasick."

Lt. Pedersen was the commanding officer of his ship, a patrol craft. He has a brother, Maj. Robert Pedersen, in the army overseas.

Large scale relief measures necessitated the mobilization of "all governmental agencies," the radio said, addressing the Philippines.

PRODUCTION WAY TO MEET GIANT DEBT: BRICKER

Warns Against Continued Deficit Financing.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 17 (AP).—Gov. John W. Bricker told the National Association of Real Estate Boards today that the only way to meet the nation's debt burden is thru full industrial production at present day standards. He warned against continued deficit financing after the war.

Gov. Bricker.

In his first major speech since announcing his candidacy for the Republican Presidential nomination, the Ohio governor declared in a prepared address:

"With the coming of war, we faced no alternative to more deficit financing. Our national life was at stake. We had to build, almost overnight, defensive military weapons which we had shamefully neglected.

Day of Reckoning Ahead.

"We do not complain about this cost—only victory and national security and world peace really matter. Every dollar honestly and wisely spent for these purposes is more than worth the expenditure.

"But we must not close our eyes to the day of reckoning or fail to plan for it. The welfare of future generations is involved. They, with us, must lift the mortgage."

"If given a chance, I believe we can meet this problem and at the same time retain our American way of life," he said. "But it cannot be met under a system of burocratic regimentation or an economy of scarcity. It cannot be met by an administration that practices extravagance and waste. And it cannot be met by continued deficit financing after the war. That means national bankruptcy.

Only Way Is Production.

"There is only one way to meet our debt burden. That is thru full production. This means that we must forget our pre-war production standards. We cannot think even in terms of 1940. We must think in terms of maintaining present day production standards."

"And this is fully possible," he added, reporting that the National Committee for Economic Development believes the nation must maintain an increase in productivity from 30 to 50 per cent over 1940."

"The principal campaign issue of 1932 was economy in government, a balanced budget, and the wiping out of deficits," the governor said. "But from the very beginning, the policy actually followed was deficit financing. Being honest with our people and keeping promises would do more to restore confidence in government than any other factor. A campaign platform is a solemn compact with the people."

He added: "People should cease asking the question: 'What can government do for me' and proudly ask: 'What can I do for my government?'"

SEN. NYE WARNS G.O.P. TO AVOID NEW DEAL TRICK

BY GEORGE TAGGE.

Warning against a sellout of the Republican party in 1944 was served last night by Sen. Gerald P. Nye [R., N. D.] in his blunt handling of a theme also taken up by other speakers before 2,000 persons attending a meeting in Orchestra hall sponsored by the Republican Nationalist Revival committee.

The ominous winds blowing into the White House from the hills of Kentucky, where Republicans swept to a historic state victory again have put the temptation of fraud before the New Dealers, Sen. Nye said.

The newest deal of the New Deal envisions the saddling of the Republican party with the Democrats' own handicap of alien internationalism, according to the North Dakotan.

Heartening Note Found.

"Secretary Knox and Wendell Willkie and now Secretary of State Cordell Hull advocate the same foreign policy for both the Republican and Democratic parties," Sen. Nye said, adding: "It is heartening to note that as yet no Republican has entered into so preposterous a plan."

Foreign policy and the shape of things to come for America are bound to be vital issues in the 1944 campaign, said Nye.

"Notice should be served that we Republicans are not ready to sell the American people out in this manner," he said. "Republicans still have the sellout of their 1940 leader on the international matter to explain. This is enough handicap to start with.

"Those who would throw our country into an alliance that would make us an international police force would do well to ask themselves what might have been the destiny of America if there had been an international police force in 1776."

Dr. Alfred P. Haake, industrial economist, assailed New Deal economics and declared that the public was alert to the danger of losing its liberty.

"Uncle Sam is gullible, yes—but he does wake up," Dr. Haake said, "and when he does awaken his wrath is something to fear. The people will one day wake up and then they will make short shrift of their seducers."

Praises Col. McCormick.

Ex-Rep. Patrick H. Moynihan, in charge of the meeting with Capt. William J. Grace, recalled, amid great applause, that the organization previously had adopted a resolution urging Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of THE TRIBUNE, to become a candidate for President.

"I do not know his reaction to that proposal," Moynihan said. "But I do know that no man in the United States has stood more firm and endured more abuse than he has in his fight against regimentation and global government."

OHIO CONGRESSMEN PLEDGE BACKING TO BRICKER FOR 1944

Washington, D. C., Nov. 17 (AP).—Ohio Republicans in the house launched a Bricker for President campaign tonight. At a meeting called by Rep. Thomas A. Jenkins, chairman of the delegation of 20, they adopted a resolution calling for "honest and sensible domestic policies" and pledging themselves to active support of the governor.

Bricker decided recently to forego seeking a fourth term in his post to enter the race for President.

Meeting privately in the banquet room of a downtown hotel, the Ohioans discussed politics, exchanged ideas on prospective candidates for President, and agreed that 1944 would be a Republican year.

Neither Senators Robert A. Taft nor Harold H. Burton was invited to the congressional meeting. They previously had indorsed Bricker for President.

LEADERS EXPECT MORE WOMEN IN NEXT CONGRESS

Washington, D. C., Nov. 17 (AP).—There'll be more women members at the next session of congress, the house leadership believes, and both Republicans and Democrats are glad.

"I wish I had 50 more women on my side of the aisle," declared Minority Leader Joseph W. Martin Jr. [R.], Mass., who now counts six. Majority Leader John W. McCormack [D., Mass.] says he would welcome an increase over the one now on the Democratic side—Rep. Mary Norton of New Jersey.

Both agreed that with so many men in military service, women have their best opportunity in history to enter politics.

They think a large percentage of next year's vote will be cast by women and there is a likelihood that many will vote for members of their own sex.

Chinese Envoy Predicts Nazi Collapse in 1944

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 17.—Predicting a German collapse next year, V. K. Wellington Koo, Chinese ambassador to London, today told a Hull audience, "When the time comes for a full scale offensive against Japan, China will be ready to bear the brunt of the fighting on land, while the fighting at sea and in the air naturally falls principally on Britain and the United States."

BYRD REVEALS U.S. OWNS 20% OF LAND IN NATION

60 Bureaus in Charge; Liquidation Asked.

BY WILLIAM MOORE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Sen. Byrd.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 17.—The government was pictured today as a great war time purchaser of real estate, with more than 60 agencies participating individually in real estate administration, and none of them knowing how much land the government owns, where it all is, or its total cost.

The picture was painted in a report by the joint senate and house committee on reduction of nonessential federal expenditures, of which Sen. Harry F. Byrd [D., Va.] is chairman.

The committee recommended that government agencies immediately begin liquidating surplus land and real estate, and that consideration be given a proposal to consolidate all government real estate operations under some existing governmental agency.

Owns Fifth of Land in U. S.

Statistics gathered by the committee indicated that:

The government now owns one-fifth of all the land in the United States—383,600,533 acres—equal in size to the combined areas of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Rhode Island, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, West Virginia, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Ohio, Alabama, Kentucky, and Indiana.

The war department has acquired 17,308,636 acres in the last 2½ years. Total United States land now in use for war purposes, almost all controled by the war department, was 43,181,183 acres on March 30.

The war and navy departments have bought 15 hotels at an estimated total cost of 15 million dollars during the war. The war department purchased 12 of these, among them the Stevens hotel in Chicago. Some, including the Stevens, have been returned to private ownership.

The committee explained that its statistics are incomplete, and that reports of different agencies on the same properties vary as a result of different agency systems of computation.

Methods Not Uniform.

Recent land acquisitions of the war department are not all purchases, as some of the land previously was in the public domain, or government public lands. The committee commented in its report to the senate:

"The committee finds that no uniform method of acquisition, disposal, and recording of federal real estate holdings is now extant. The 60 odd federal establishments are all on a parity as to administrative control and responsibility, each functioning in its own separate sphere, yet none is equipped to assemble and correlate the information. No one knows how much land the government owns, where it is, or how much it cost.

"The committee has watched with apprehension the alarming increase in land acquisitions in the last few years. While the committee recognizes that much of this acquisition has been for purposes connected with the national emergency, it nevertheless finds that excessive amounts of land have been purchased by the government since 1938."

Criticize Stevens Deal.

The committee said of the Stevens hotel transaction:

"The Stevens was purchased by the war department in December, 1942, for $5,528,101. At that time the committee protested against the unnecessary cost to the government of the purchase. Later, in September, 1943, the hotel was sold for $5,251,000. The committee believes the purchases of hotels should not be countenanced until all other methods of acquisition of property are exhausted, since purchases may frequently be financially unsound as well as dangerous to the economic stability of the communities involved."

Studying Problems—Patterson.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 17 (AP).—Post-war disposition of the war department's vast real estate holdings is a serious problem that is receiving careful study, Undersecretary of War Robert P. Patterson said tonight.

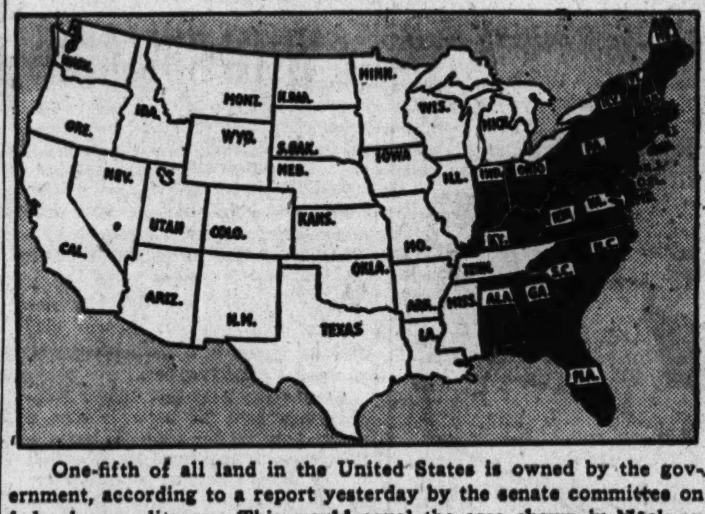
He told the National Association of Real Estate Boards the department opposed several bills in congress which would give former owners the first opportunity to repurchase the property.

"I sympathize with the objectives of such legislation," Patterson said, "but the legislation itself is impractical. Individual tracts have been merged in great reservations and covered with costly improvements. The administrative job of searching out original owners would in itself be insurmountable."

Patterson said that since June 1, 1940, the department had acquired almost 19 million acres of land for military purposes at a cost of 300 million dollars. "Of the 19 million acres, only about 6 million acres were formerly in the hands of private owners," he said.

Uncle Sam's Position as Land Owner

(Story in adjoining column.)



One-fifth of all land in the United States is owned by the government, according to a report yesterday by the senate committee on federal expenditures. This would equal the area shown in black on the map.

Appellate Court Names Bar Fitness Committees

Members of the Appellate court district committee were named yesterday by the Supreme court to pass on the character and fitness of applicants for admission to the bar. For the 1st district these members of the Cook county bar were named: William P. Churchill, Herbert C De Young, F. Howard Eldridge, William H. Haight, Stephen A. Love, John P. McGoorty Jr., Paul O'Donnell, John E. Owens, Don M. Peebles, Owen Hall, Robert W. Schupp, Len Young Smith, Arthur A. Sullivan, Lionel G. Thorsness and Dean Lake Traxler.

HULL TO GIVE CONGRESS DATA ON TRIP TODAY

Washington, D. C., Nov. 17 (AP).—Secretary of State Cordell Hull will report on the Moscow conference at an informal joint session of the two houses of congress tomorrow.

Whether his unprecedented appearance in the house chamber will be followed by similar visits by other cabinet officers was not apparent tonight, but a move in that direction appears in a resolution introduced in the house by Rep. Estes Kefauver [D., Tenn.]. Under it administrative heads would be invited periodically to report to congress and answer questions. Under tomorrow's procedure there will be no questions.

Secretary Hull's 25 minute speech at 12:30 p. m., eastern war time, is expected to provide the secretary with opportunity to recommend a nonpartisan foreign policy dedicated to the program of international collaboration pledge at Moscow. The speech will be broadcast over all networks.

DEMANDS SUGAR RATIONING END NOW, NOT LATER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Rep. Ditter.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 17 (AP).—Rep. J. William Ditter [R., Pa.], chairman of the national Republican congressional committee, today demanded the New Deal remove sugar from the ration list now, and "not await that more politically propitious time."

Asserting information in his possession indicates that there is enough sugar to meet normal requirements, in addition to lend-lease demands, and that shipping is no longer a serious problem, Ditter said he sees no legitimate reason for continued sugar rationing.

"At the beginning of 1943 there was a carry-over of 2 million tons of sugar in this country," he said. "Other estimated sources of supply for 1943 are a Cuban carry-over of 1⅓ million tons, a Puerto Rican carry-over of 140,000, and from new supplies as follows: Cuba, 2¾ million tons; Puerto Rico, 960,000; Hawaii, 800,000; mainland cane, 500,000, and mainland beet, 1,650,000, or a total estimated supply, including the carry-over in this country, of 10 million 300 thousand tons."

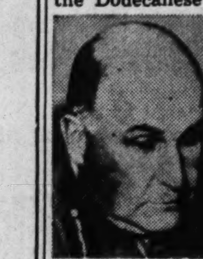
BRITISH PUBLIC IS DISTURBED BY LOSS OF LEROS

Hear Nazi Claim of 3,200 Britons Captured.

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 17.—The loss of the Dodecanese Island of Leros to the Germans today disturbed the public which has been "accustomed to a victorious tide and hitherto impressed with official dilation upon our great strength along Europe's southern flank," the London Star said. "Small tho it may be against the immense background of the war, this is an unpalatable reverse."



Gen. Henry Maitland Wilson.

Early editions of Thursday newspapers all demanded a full explanation of the surrender in parliament.

Along with press criticism there was some talk of replacing Gen. Henry Maitland Wilson, British middle east commander, but this found no support in military and official quarters. There was a tendency to urge that criticism be modified until the government can make an official explanation.

The fall of Leros, however, was distressing to the public in view of Cairo's official claims yesterday that the defenders had improved their position, and today's German announcement that 200 British officers and 3,000 troops and 5,350 Italian troops were captured along with considerable war material. Leros and Kos were occupied two months ago amid claims that they would prove thorns in the side of the enemy on Crete and thruout the Aegean.

Leros Taken by Tactics Similar to Crete Invasion.

CAIRO, Egypt, Nov. 17 (AP).—The tiny but strategic island of Leros has been captured by the Germans in five days of heavy fighting despite a "most determined resistance" put up by its British and Italian defenders, the British middle east command announced today.

The allied forces were unable to beat off the Nazis, who subjected the island's 28 square miles to a pounding from the air, meanwhile continuing to land reënforcements by boat and by parachute. The battle ended last night.

The Germans' tactics were similar to those used in their capture of Crete in a major victory in this area 2½ years ago, and with Leros they won the second Dodecanese Island in three weeks. The British announced on Oct. 26 the evacuation of Kos, 20 miles south of Leros, under similar German assault.

"Thruout yesterday," said today's British middle east bulletin, "the enemy continued the overwhelming air bombardment of Leros. After very severe fighting and in spite of a most determined resistance in the face of fresh enemy reënforcements, organized resistance ceased in the evening."

Tito Opens Counter-Blows Against Nazis in Jugo-Slavia.

LONDON, Nov. 17 (AP).—Jugo-Slav guerrillas announced today they had opened a counter-offensive against Marshal Erwin Rommel's month old campaign to smash Partisan forces in the Balkans.

A war bulletin, broadcast by the Partisan forces of Gen. Josip [Tito] Broz, said "successful offensive operations" were being carried out in Serbia, Sanjak, Montenegro, Herzegovina, and Macedonia and that "heavy losses" had been inflicted on six German divisions—60,000 to 70,000 men—battling the guerrillas in southeastern Europe.

Lending a hand to the guerrilla forces in the Balkans, allied planes based in Italy yesterday strafed enemy transport and bombed bridges near Durazzo, Albania, and harbor installations and a railway at Sibenik, Jugo-Slavia.

Gen. Catroux Talks with British Minister in Lebanon.

BEIRUT, Lebanon, Nov. 17, (AP).—Gen. Georges Catroux, French minister of state sent by the committee of national liberation to settle the Lebanese disturbances, conferred here today with Edward Spears, British minister. Catroux, yesterday had talked with French authorities.

Telephone service was resumed yesterday and the curfew was moved up from 6:30 to 8:30 p. m. A few shops reopened.

A. H. BARTON JR. WOUNDED IN AIR RAID ON FRANCE

On an Armistice day raid over Martinvas, France, Lt. Arthur H. Barton Jr., 914 Dakin street, bombardier-navigator on a Marauder bomber, was slightly wounded, his parents were notified yesterday by the war department.

A month ago, Lt. Barton informed his parents that he had been awarded the oak leaf cluster to add to his air medal. He is a former Waller High school student and was graduated from the Kokomo, Ind., High school. His father is sales manager for the Bowman Engineering company, 531 North La Salle street.

MOSLEY ILL; WILL BE FREED FROM BRITISH PRISON

LONDON, Nov. 17 (AP).—Oswald Mosley, pre-war leader of the British Blackshirt party, who has been detained since May, 1940, will be released from prison in a few days on medical grounds, it was disclosed tonight. His wife is also to be released.

Mosley, once member of parliament from Middlesex, was head of the British Fascists when war broke out. His group wore black shirts and used the Nazi salute. He was surrounded by steel helmeted bodyguards at mass meetings.

He has been reported to be suffering from debility and phlebitis.

REPORT HUNGARY NEARING BREAK WITH RUMANIA

[By Wireless to New York News and the Chicago Tribune.]

CAIRO, Egypt, Nov. 17.—Relations between Hungary and Rumania are rapidly approaching a crisis, according to reliable reports reaching here tonight. The Hungarians are said to be heavily fortifying their southern border and rushing troops and mechanized war vehicles to the frontier.

Within the past few hours Hungary was said to have handed a sharp note to her sister axis satellite threatening armed intervention if "repressive action" against Hungarian minorities in Rumanian Transylvania did not cease at once.

Charge Raids Fomented.

The Hungarian note is reported to have asserted that Rumanian Iron Guard officers, wearing civilian dress or disguised as soldiers, were leading forays across the frontier and fomenting raids on Hungarian nationals, resulting in "great damage" and confiscation of property, as well as mass arrests.

Hungary also alleged, the report continued, that Rumanian authorities have closed Hungarian schools and have set out systematically to force the whole Hungarian population in Transylvania out of the country.

The note was said to have been rejected by Bucharest with the comment that Hungarian schools have been closed because they had been erected in "cultural zones" forbidden to any one but Rumanians and from which not only Hungarians but all other non-Rumanians will be expelled.

Hundreds Leaving Countries.

The Rumanians also were reported to have asserted that the initiative always came from Hungarian troops, and this fitted into a general pattern of aggressiveness in which even Rumanian diplomats in Hungary were not given adequate protection.

The disturbed state of the frontier is reported being given prominence in Hungarian newspapers and stressed in radio broadcasts. This has led to angry demonstrations and stone throwing incidents in Budapest and other cities.

According to the reports, hundreds of Rumanians and Hungarians are crossing the border daily into their own countries. Official sources in Bucharest have announced that within the last few days nearly 3,000 Rumanians have fled to their homeland.

INITIATIVE OURS, WE MUST KEEP IT—ROOSEVELT

Supreme Advantage, He Tells Forum.

New York, Nov. 17 (AP).—President Roosevelt said tonight the allies now had the "supreme advantage of initiative" and their progress could be measured by the fact that they were producing "the important events of the war."

"We must not lose this advantage—the supreme advantage of initiative," he said in a message to the closing session of the New York Herald Tribune forum on current problems.

The President said that "in the years—and perhaps the centuries of peace—that are to follow this war, the forces of civilization and common decency, the overwhelming majority of the human race, must always maintain the initiative."

Mr. Roosevelt was not at the forum. His message was read by Mrs. Ogden Reid, vice president of the Herald Tribune.

Willkie, Wallace Speak.

Willkie urged that the Moscow accord reached by the United States, Great Britain, Russia, and China be made "the embryo of a general and vital international understanding" by enlarging participation to include all the allies and eventually all nations.

Willkie said there were "still frightening gaps in our moral front and still soft spots in our political warfare."

"Consider for a moment our present relations with French leaders, banned from the Moscow talks, marooned in a sort of North African illegitimacy, one day recognized, the next day undermined," he said. "Or consider our relations with Italy, where we have given the Italian people good reason to be confused by our actions and by our inability to distinguish between our friends and our enemies. Or think of our dickering with the reactionary oligarchs of Spain."

Warning by Wallace.

Vice President Wallace, in his speech, envisaged a new peace time world in which American initiative and dollars would provide millions of jobs in far corners of the earth. Wallace also warned against allowing private interests to "high pressure congress into higher tariffs" after the war.

He said that in the post-war decade government coöperation will be an "indispensable factor" in obtaining the full industrial production that will cure "most of our social and political evils."

A message also was read from Prime Minister Churchill of Great Britain. Churchill said the forum was meeting "in the glow of one of the most cheering developments in international affairs, the Moscow conference."

Report Nazis Levy Fine of $1,000,000 on Milan

New York, Nov. 17 (AP).—The Nazi controled Mussolini regime is reported to have fined Milan $1,000,000 and to have doubled to 2,000 the number of hostages seized from the defiant population to stem civilian violence against the army, Radio Sardinia said today.

Blast Kills 10 Soldiers.

BERNE, Switzerland, Nov. 17.—French patriots in Grenoble have blown up a powder magazine, killing 10 German soldiers on guard. Two large tanks of an illuminating gas plant exploded as a result of the fire. Several deaths were reported. Several hundred citizens have been taken as hostages.

New York, Nov. 17 (AP).—Boy met girl in Sydney, Australia, but following the global pattern of these days, the marriage will take place half a world away.

The girl, Nancy Tonkin, traveled 10,000 miles by boat and train to New York. The boy, 1st Lt. Fred G. Federle of Chicago, army air forces navigator and bombardier holding the distinguished flying cross, the air medal and credited with two Jap planes, came from Barksdale field, La., on a 10 day leave.

The wedding will be noon Monday, at St. Bartholomew's church, New York. They met when Nancy was working for the Red Cross in Sydney. Lt. Federle was on leave from the South Pacific theater. The father of the bride-elect, editor and manager of the New York office of the Australian Associated Press, will give the bride away.

GIRAUD RENEGES ON RESIGNATION; WANTS FREE HAND IN ARMY

ALGIERS, Nov. 17 (AP).—After a "satisfactory" conference with the French Committee of National Liberation and another meeting with allied officers, Gen. Henri Giraud withdrew today, for at least two weeks, his resignation as commander in chief of French armed forces.

His action was taken provisionally, altho the De Gaullist controled committee has not given Giraud written guarantees of a free hand in running the French army as he demanded.

Giraud expressed confidence a written statement of the committee's agreement with his conditions will be forthcoming soon. However, a De Gaullist spokesman predicted the committee would not accept Giraud's terms.

Bomb Bases in South France; Nazis Re-Enforce Line in Italy

Forts Bag 12 Planes

ALLIED HDQ., Algiers, Nov. 17 (AP).—Attacking on a front more than 1,000 miles wide, bombers of the Northwest African air force struck their heaviest blow of recent weeks at the Nazi air force yesterday when they smashed two enemy airdromes near Marseilles in southern France and one in the Athens area in Greece.

Onslaughts by Flying Fortresses and Marauders against fields at Istres le Tube and Salon near Marseilles were aimed primarily at the destruction of fleets of Dornier-217 and other German long range bombers which have been harassing allied shipping in the Mediterranean.

Chicagoan Tells of Raid.

At Istres le Tube Fortresses shot down 12 out of 25 to 30 Nazi fighters that engaged them.

In the Istres le Tube raid, Lt. Arthur Kerlison, of 7628 Marquette avenue, Chicago, said "most bombs hit as intended. I saw one string plop down on a hangar line like a row of .50 caliber bullets."

Ground Action Restricted.

Ground operations in Italy were restrained by dismal weather, with high winds, rain and snow hampering the movements of men and supplies.

Several brisk patrol actions were reported from the various sectors. The most important resulted in Americans of the 5th army regaining some high ground on Monte Santa Croce, north of Venafro.

Near the Tyrrhenian coast British forces intercepted a German patrol that had crossed the Garigliano river and shot it up badly. Eighth army troops improved their positions north of Atessa.

Strategy: Hold Hills

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ALLIED HDQ., Algiers, Nov. 16 [Delayed].—With their troops entrenched behind superbly finished concrete positions in the worst mountains the allies have yet tackled, the strategy of the German army in Italy appears to be pointed at holding Gen. Eisenhower's American and British armies on a distinct defense line corresponding roughly to the present situation.

Nazis Reënforce Line.

The enemy's forces opposite the 5th army front in the west are known to have been reënforced with fresh troops, so that the enemy now has five divisions opposing Gen. Clark's troops in the line with nearly three more divisions in reserve. The enemy's forces against Gen. Montgomery's 8th army in the east are believed to be not quite so strong, but the terrain there makes up for the lack of equal man power.

As indicated by a large scale map showing the exact nature of this difficult ground, the key to the position on the 5th army front, at least from the German point of view, appears to be around Venafro. Behind the town towers the 4,000 foot Monte Santa Croce with another peak just as high immediately behind it.

Highest Peaks.

These peaks are higher than all the surrounding mountains and hills, including those of Mignano pass, thru which runs the main road to Cassino.

The valley leading from Cassino to Rome is roughly 14 miles wide, wide enough to permit the deployment of armor for the first time on a proper scale, but the Germans can be expected to resist just as stubbornly there as they are now.

LIBERTYVILLE PILOT TELLS OF FIGHT OVER SEA

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WITH ALLIED AIR FORCES IN ITALY, Nov. 12 [Delayed]. — How two German planes were surprised and destroyed by a flight of American A-36 Invader fighter-bomber pilots only a few feet above the Mediterranean was told today shortly after the encounter by Lt. Allen Hansen of Libertyville, Ill. Lt. Hansen was credited with downing one of the enemy craft while three of his comrades shared in the victory over the other.

The American planes were bound for a bombing and strafing mission near Rome. After the battle, which took place about 10 miles out at sea, they continued on their assignment.

"There were 12 of us flying north just a little above the white caps when we saw a pair of Germans ahead," Hansen said. "Naturally, it wouldn't take all of us to dispose of them, but we went up to gain advantage height, and then eight of our flight went on, leaving four of us behind to take care of the enemy craft—JU-88s. I judge they were about 10 feet over the water when we jumped them. They tried to split and go in different directions. I was lucky. The guy I was after was not so lucky. He passed in front of my sights and I gave him a burst from one end to the other of his plane. His plane went down. I saw it explode when it hit the water."

Italian Soldiers Wreck Office of Liberal Paper

NAPLES, Italy, Nov. 17 (AP).—An attack by a group of Italian soldiers upon the offices of a liberal newspaper was under investigation today by allied military authorities. They said a group commanded by a major entered the Avellino office of the Irpinia Libera, smashed furniture, destroyed typefaces and threatened the editor—apparently because an editorial demanded the immediate abdication of King Victor Emmanuel "to clear the foul air of Italy." A number of anti-Monarchists in Avellino were threatened by the same soldiers.

BIG 3 EXPECTED TO DECIDE SOON ON '44 INVASION

Report Peace Flight

LONDON, Nov. 17 (AP).—Reuters news agency, in a Zurich dispatch, today said Bulgarian Foreign Minister Shishmanov had flown to Budapest to discuss the possibilities of joint peace action with Hungary.

LONDON, Nov. 17 (AP).—The day and hour of the promised 1944 grand offensive against Germany, possibly sometime between New Year's day and Memorial day, probably will be decided soon along with Germany's immediate future after her defeat.

The general strategy for the invasion of northwest Europe as well as the allocation and organization of the forces already is agreed upon and the troops are assembling and training here and elsewhere. In southwest England, large areas have been cleared for United States troops training for the final assault.

Big 3 Meeting Believed Near.

The possible imminence of the final decisions on the last act of the war and the first act of the peace coincide with reports from abroad of an early meeting of President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill, and Premier Josef Stalin.

The allies' leaders are believed to be so sure a combined assault on Europe will succeed that they wish an agreement in advance on how Germany and the countries it has overrun will be governed until they are capable of governing themselves.

Guided by Military.

Among other things, the allies are expected to offer the German people some measure of political and economic freedom—tho no military liberty whatsoever—if they will oust Hitler and his gang and stop the bloody struggle.

Considerable military spade work was done at the recent Moscow conference but it is likely there will be military advisers in on the final consultations to keep the big three abreast of war developments and to guide them in the final decisions on a second front.

ATTORNEY'S SON SLAIN IN ACTION; TRIAL IS HALTED

The second trial of a suit brought by the Cudahy Packing company to recover $300,000 paid to the government in 1933 as floor stock and processing taxes under the agricultural administration act, which later was declared unconstitutional, came to an abrupt halt before Federal Judge John P. Barnes yesterday when Atty. Vincent O'Brien, counsel for the packing firm, received word of the death of one of his sons in action in the Pacific war theater.

O'Brien, a member of the law firm of De Frees, Buckingham, Fiske and O'Brien, has two sons in service. The family declined to add details of the news of their son's death.

The trial was postponed until Jan. 24. The United States Circuit Court of Appeals reversed a summary judgment awarded the packing company at the first trial in 1941.

REDS HAIL F. D. R. FOR HELPING TIE U. S. WITH RUSSIA

Overcame Our Foes, Say Communists.

MOSCOW, Nov. 17 (AP).—The Communist party newspaper Pravda, in an editorial on the 10th anniversary of the beginning of diplomatic relations between soviet Russia and the United States, today pointed to increasingly friendly relations between the nations and gave warm praise for American war aid.

"The soviet union appreciates very much the moral and material aid accorded the soviet union by the United States since the beginning of the invasion by Germany," the editorial said. "It is known that during the war our country on the basis of the lend-lease agreement has received a big amount of arms, war material, and food. The good will of the American government and of the American people has been invested in these supplies."

Reds Hail Roosevelt.

Pravda gave credit to President Roosevelt for helping eliminate much misunderstanding of the soviet union.

"In the past," it said, "President Roosevelt had to overcome quite a number of harmful prejudices and wrong opinions about the soviet union which existed among Americans, partly because of lack of knowledge of real conditions and also because of the hostile position assumed by some people.

"Such people still exist in the United States, but they have been unmasked. These are not only enemies of the soviet union but enemies of their own country as well.

Another Bid for Second Front.

"Soviet public opinion has always considered and now considers that collaboration and friendship between the U. S. S. R. and the United States of America multiply their forces and contribute to prosperity, and will lead to victory over the common enemy."

Pravda, as did the government newspaper Izvestia yesterday, said the end of the war would be hastened when Russia's allies—the United States and Britain—fully concentrate their forces against Germany, in other words when a "second front" in the west is opened.

REVEALS FINNS AWAIT MOVE BY HULL FOR PEACE WITH RUSSIA

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Nov. 17 (AP).—Asserting that Russian propaganda toward Finland was "as hateful as ever," John Oesterholm, a member of the Finnish parliament and active peace advocate, today said in Helsingfors that Finland did not expect steps to get Finland out of the war to come from Moscow.

"We expect the word to come from Mr. [Cordell] Hull [United States secretary of state]," he continued.

"And if the reply is negative, our confidence in the truth and respect for the principles of liberty and justice which were solemnly proclaimed in America's name will be destroyed."

TWO GENERALS DEMOTED AFTER MOSCOW FIASCO

Washington, D. C., Nov. 17 (AP).—As a sequel to the recent shakeup of American military representation in Moscow, the war department disclosed today that one brigadier general has been reduced to the grade of colonel and another "will shortly revert" to that rank.

The former chief of the United States supply mission to Russia, Brig. Gen. Philip R. Faymonville, now is on duty as a colonel in the office of the chief of ordnance in Washington.

Brig. Gen. Joseph A. Michela, until recently military attache at the soviet capital, "is currently in Washington," said the department, and "having been relieved from duty as military attache, will shortly revert to the temporary grade of colonel."

Both were recalled from Moscow at the time of the recent three power conference there, and their places have been taken by the military mission headed by Maj. Gen. John R. Deane, formerly secretary of the joint American and the combined Anglo-American chiefs of staff.

Troublesome Situation.

While the war department has refused consistently to comment on the situation, it was known that the recall of the two officers ended a situation which had given great concern to American officials for months.

Friction within the official United States group in Moscow had been reported by official emissaries on their return to this country. They said it was one of the factors contributing to frequent misunderstandings between the allied powers.

The war department said tonight that both Faymonville and Michela were given the temporary rank of brigadier general because of their assignments in Moscow and their reduction in grade when relieved of those assignments followed normal war department policy.

However, their official biographies—mere recitals of the dates and places of service and promotions of officers in their military careers—have been placed on the "restricted" list and withdrawn from circulation by the war department bureau of public relations.

New Biography Issued.

A new official biography of Faymonville was issued, noting that he went to Moscow in September, 1941 as a member of the special war supplies mission, but concluding "he was assigned to the army group, Washington, D. C., in December, 1941," and containing no further reference to the fact that he remained in Moscow as chief of the supply mission for nearly two years.

Faymonville is said to be one of the few army officers who speak the Russian language fluently. He served with the American forces in Siberia from 1918 to 1920, and subsequently carried out several other far eastern assignments. He is a native of San Francisco and is 55 years old.

Michela, 40, was born at Iron Mountain, Dickinson county, Michigan, and is a 1928 graduate of West Point. He was once instructor in Russian at Columbia university.

PLANES BLAST 2 JAP VESSELS IN SO. PACIFIC

Drop 40 Tons of Bombs on Bougainville.

SOUTHWEST PACIFIC HDQ., Nov. 18 [Thursday] (AP).—Lt. Gen. George C. Kenney's 5th air force, centering its attacks on Japan's merchant marine, has scored damaging blows on two more merchantmen, Gen. MacArthur's headquarters reported today.

Catalina flying boats, whose recent night flying activities resulted in heavy damage to an enemy cruiser and the beaching of a 9,000 ton cargo ship, went after an enemy convey near Rabaul and left a 6,000 ton merchant ship sinking.

Sinks 2,500 Ton Ship.

The convoy, consisting of two destroyers, two merchantmen, and two corvettes, was attacked early Tuesday 23 miles north of Rabaul, moving northwest. A 1,000 pound bomb and a 250 pounder landed forward of the bridge. When last seen the ship was lying low astern.

Tuesday a Liberator bombed a 2,500 ton Japanese merchantman 40 miles northeast of Hansa bay, New Guinea, and left it sinking.

Other activities reported today included a 40 ton bombardment of the Kara airdrome on the south coast of Bougainville.

Along Bougainville's west coast allied air patrols destroyed 10 barges, damaged seven others, and set fire to a small cargo ship.

Seven Japanese planes were shot down and five others probably destroyed in air actions over Wewak and the Ramu valley in northeastern New Guinea.

[The Tokio radio said Japanese planes had sunk a large allied aircraft carrier, two medium sized carriers, three cruisers and a "large warship" in a dawn attack south of Bougainville Island.]

EDDIE LE BARON, BAND LEADER, IS HELD FOR DRAFT

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 17 (AP).—The federal bureau of investigation today disclosed the arrest of Orchestra Leader Eddie Le Baron on a charge of violating the selective training and service act. Le Baron declared his arrest was the result of "a clerical mixup by my New York draft board and will be straightened out."

He said the board had notified him of his classification of 1-A, but had not ordered him to appear for induction. Le Baron is a native of Venezuela.

3 U. S. WARSHIPS BATTLE 9 JAP CRAFT AND SINK 3

Navy Tells Details of Fight.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 17 (AP).—Fighting a long-odds battle against nine Japanese warships, three United States destroyers sent a cruiser and two enemy destroyers to the bottom and forced the other enemy craft to flee in disorder in the engagement Oct. 6 off Vella Lavella in the Solomons.

This was disclosed by the navy today in reporting details of the fight.

"Aware that they were far outnumbered in waters controled by the enemy," the navy said, "the United States ships boldly closed with the Japanese until less than 7,000 yards separated them.

"Then flashes split the silence and the battle was on. Torpedoes were launched by the destroyers just before the guns fired. Every five inch gun was brought to bear. The first salvos struck home on the cruiser and fire quickly raced along her topsides."

Chevalier Is Sunk.

Capt. Frank C. Walker, Long Beach, Cal., commanded the destroyer group, which consisted of the Selfridge, O'Bannon, and Chevalier. The Chevalier was lost in the one-sided battle, and her skipper, Comdr. George R. Wilson, Oakland, Cal., was wounded. Most of her personnel was rescued.

Comdr. Donald J. Macdonald, New York, skipper of the O'Bannon, told of the light Japanese cruiser blowing up "with the most terrific explosion it has ever been my pleasure to observe. Parts of the ship must have gone at least 500 feet into the air. When the area cleared up, the ship was nowhere in sight, although she was only about 6,000 yards away when the firing started. It is doubtful there could have been many survivors."

Only Two Get Away.

He told also of one ship believed to have been the Chevalier's target burning furiously and blowing up after she had been battered by shells from the Chevalier's five inch guns.

"Of the first attacking group of five ships," MacDonald said, "only two were observed to have gotten away. One of these was believed on fire and the other was smoking badly."

Comdr. George E. Peckham, Cresco, Ia., commanded the Selfridge in the short engagement, during which the Japanese at one time "apparently thrown into confusion by the accuracy of American fire, were observed to be firing upon one of their own ships."

Jap Admiral Shiozawa Dies of Pancreas Trouble

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

The Japanese navy ministry announced in a Tokio broadcast yesterday that Adm. Koichi Shiozawa, member of the supreme military council, had died of acute pancreas trouble. The broadcast said a state funeral would be held Saturday.

MAKE FREEDOM OF PRESS PART OF PEACE: KNIGHT

MANCHESTER, England, Nov. 17 (AP).—The right of newspaper correspondents to send uncensored dispatches from any part of the world must be a part of the peace, John S. Knight, publisher of the Akron, [O.] Beacon Journal and Miami [Fla.] Herald, said tonight.

"As part of the peace we must protect the right of our world wide news agencies to gather honest, unbiased, truthful news in the reborn and reconstituted countries now in the hands of the enemy," Knight told a meeting of the English Speaking union.

The people were entitled to honest, accurate news, he said, and after the war should not be forced to swallow governmental propaganda handed out by national press agencies subsidized to distribute official government views.

W. P. Crozier, editor of the Manchester Guardian, told the meeting he believed the American press, more than any other country, represented the freedom of expression and boldness of opinion essential to a true-governing community.

WAR GARDENERS SET GOAL FOR '44; IT'S 25% HIGHER

A 25 per cent increase in output is next year's war garden goal. It was set yesterday at the closing session of the National Victory Garden institute in the Blackstone hotel.

One resolution asked release by the war production board of 33⅓ per cent more insecticides, fertilizer, and tools next season. Another asked for 600,000 pressure cookers for canning, which would be approximately double the number available in 1943.

A third resolution urged the allocation of extra gasoline for war gardeners working in coöperative gardens so that each worker can make at least two trips a week to his plot.

DOCTORS' JURY DECIDES TYLER GIRL A SUICIDE

Six Physicians Condemn Faking of Records.

tendent of Augustana hospital, a member of the jury, interposed at this point: "What you did was not foolish. It actually was dishonest. It was the same thing as signing another man's name to a check. It gave all the hospitals a bad name."

"I realize that now," said Dr. Lands. "I'll never do it again."

Yesterday Dr. George M. Whitacre was discharged as an intern at County hospital because he admitted he knew that Dr. Lands intended to change the records but did not report or prevent it.

The state department of registration and education, which licenses physicians, has been investigating to determine whether action should be taken against Dr. Lands, under the medical practice act, for faking the records. A decision on this matter is expected today, when Frank G. Thompson, director of the department, arrives here from Springfield.

After the verdict, Coroner Brodie said the case was closed as far as he is concerned, and Assistant State's Atty. William Tuohy, who attended the inquest, said no prosecution in connection with the case was contemplated.

Members of the coroner's jury, in addition to Dr. Erickson, were Dr. Maurice Blatt, obstetrician; Dr. Edwin Hirsch, professor of pathology, University of Chicago; Dr. I. F. Volini, heart specialist; Dr. Joseph Baer, gynecologist, and Dr. Oscar Hawkinson, president of the Chicago Medical society.

Jury Aim: "Dispel Mystery."

The jury was appointed by Coroner Brodie in order to dispel the rumors and mystery which have surrounded the case for four days. Testimony at the inquest cleared up several points that, without an explanation, appeared to be sensational. One question involved several "burns" on Miss Tyler's cheek and right side.

On the witness stand, Dr. Lands explained these were marks caused by pressure on tissues lacking in oxygen, and affected the parts of Miss Tyler's body which rested on a gas stove and an ironing board. His explanation appeared to satisfy the medical experts on the jury, who did not cross-examine him on the point.

Testimony also established that the three men who found Miss Tyler unconscious in her apartment all agreed she inhaled gas with suicidal intent. Nor was there any marked conflict in the testimony given by Dr. Lands and that of Miss Tyler's parents, who came from their home in Plano, Kendall county, to testify.

The girl's mother, Mrs. Linna B. Tyler, a plump, kindly faced woman, spoke almost in a whisper as she told how she came to Chicago last Wednesday, and helped take her daughter to the hospital.

She said Marjorie had suffered from mental and nervous ailments for 12 years, and expressed belief that her daughter had taken her own life.

"I am sure that everything was done at the hospital for her and our good," Mrs. Tyler said. "There has never been anything dishonorable in Marjorie's life. She was a very good girl."

Miss Tyler's father, Charles, who is in charge of the shipping department of a plastics concern in Plano, agreed with his wife's description of Marjorie's mental condition.

"I have no doubt that she took her own life," he said. "She had an extremely brilliant, but fragile, mind. She lived in a constant fear that she would have a complete mental collapse."

Further testimony along this line was given by Miss Helen Peck, 321 Belden avenue, a close friend of Miss Tyler. Asked if she knew of any men in Miss Tyler's life, the witness said, "No, that is something that I always tried to find out about in our talks, but I couldn't."

Dr. Samuel A. Levinson, coroner's physician, reported the results of a post-mortem examination, and said death was caused by carbon monoxide poisoning.

ASKS WHY U.S. BOWS TO BRITISH BAN ON RELIEF

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 17.—Prime Minister Churchill and "a few" other members of the British government were blamed today for the ban against feeding the starving children of Nazi occupied countries in Europe.

Dr. Howard E. Kershner, director of relief in Europe from 1939 to 1942 for the American Friends Service committee, a Quaker organization, made the charge when he appealed for support of the relief project at an informal gathering of congressmen. He had asked aid for the project last week from a senate foreign relations subcommittee.

Why Bow to Britain?

Asserting that the British people and most of the British officials want to feed the starving, Dr. Kershner told of the opposition of a few officials, and demanded:

"Will you tell me any good reason why we should play second fiddle any longer to our magnificent ally just because a few people are against it?

"Just because we ought to stand with our ally is no reason why she should stand on us, as I think is the case."

"Is Mr. Churchill against us on this?" Dr. Kershner was asked.

"Yes," he replied. "Mr. Churchill is against us. So strong are the British against us that they won't allow us to use food that we already have inside their blockade."

British Control Lend-Lease.

"Great Britain O. K.'s all our lend-lease shipments," interrupted Rep. Ben F. Jensen [R., Ia.]. "She won't let it go anywhere without her approval. [Senators who traveled to the fighting fronts have complained that Britain claimed credit for American lend-lease gifts.] Why not give Great Britain the food and let her take credit for feeding these children?"

Dr. Kershner's appeal was for congress to pass resolutions approving the feeding project, which are now pending in both houses. He said the nations which would benefit now have frozen funds in the United States with which the feeding could be carried on.

American government officials favor the project, he said, but yield to Britain's ban.

Lt. John T. O'Brien.

Lt. John T. O'Brien, 24 years old, of Palatine, pilot of a Liberator and Tribune employe, has been missing in action over New Guinea since Nov. 6, it was learned yesterday. Notification was sent by the war department to his wife, Kathryn, who now resides with his father, William, in Minneapolis, Minn. They have a 2½ months old son, John T. Jr., whom the father never had seen.

In a letter to his father-in-law, Clarence J. Hans, 117 Colfax street, Palatine, received Nov. 4, Lt. 288 UNFINISHED DIVE BOMBERS TO BE SCRAPPED

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 17 [Special.]—Partially completed Bermuda dive bombers, originally intended for delivery to the British government by the Brewster Aeronautical corporation, will be reduced to scrap metal at the Ladenson Metal corporation here.

The scrapping of aluminum fuselages, wing sections, midsections, and panels resulted when the British ministry of aircraft production cancelled a contract with Brewster to permit two Brewster plants to devote their facilities to the production of navy Corsair fighter planes.

Herman Ladenson, owner and operator of the metal reduction plant, said his contract with Brewster called for the purchase of 288 fuselages, the same number of wing and mid sections and twice that number of panels. Melted down into ingots he said, the metal will produce about 500 tons of aluminum which will be sold to industries qaulified to receive it under priorities.

Do you have poor digestion?	☐	☐
Do you feel headachy after eating?	☐	☐
Do you get sour or upset easily?	☐	☐
Do you feel tired—listless?	☐	☐

Now everyone knows that to get the good out of the food you eat—you must digest it properly. But what most people don't know is that Nature must produce about two pints of the digestive juice—liver bile—each day to help digest your food. If Nature fails—your food may remain undigested—lie sour and heavy in your digestive tract.
Thus, it is simple to see that one way to aid digestion is to increase the flow of liver bile. Now, Carter's Little Liver Pills start to increase this flow quickly for thousands—often in as little as thirty minutes. When bile flow increases, your digestion may improve. And, soon you're on the road to feeling better—which is what you're after.
Don't depend on artificial aids to counteract indigestion—when Carter's aid digestion after Nature's own order, when taken as directed. Get Carter's Little Liver Pills today—at any drugstore—only 25¢. You will be glad you did.

ADDS 84 MILLION FROM CHINA TO UNRRA'S BURDEN

Delegate Tells of Need for Food, Transport.

Atlantic City, N. J., Nov. 17 (AP).—China alone will have 84 million persons in need of relief at the end of the war, D. T. F. Tsiang, Chinese delegate to the united nations relief and rehabilitation conference here, said tonight.

This brought to 134 million the known number of men, women, and children slated to receive help in UNRRA's program to alleviate distress in countries freed from axis occupation.

Experts of the conference's inter-allied committee previously had estimated that 50 million Europeans will be at least partially destitute, and their figures did not include Russia and Denmark, for which estimates have not been completed.

Rice and Wheat.

Tsiang said his country hoped to provide 5½ million tons of food in the first six months after hostilities cease, but that it would request, in addition, 3,200,000 tons from UNRRA for the same period.

Despite the importance of food, Tsiang said, his country's first need was transport—trucks, ships, locomotives and cars.

Dr. Thomas Parran, surgeon general of the United States Public Health Service, disclosed UNRRA would send "life-saving teams" behind advancing allied armies to combat disease and starvation.

Reports from France and Poland, Parran said, indicated speed was essential to block epidemics. Thousands of lives have been taken already, he said, by typhus and tuberculosis.

Shifting of Masses.

He said shifting of masses in Europe at the war's end will present a huge health problem which UNRRA hopes to overcome by funneling these traveling people thru centers where they will be fed, vaccinated, and quarantined, if necessary.

Before Dr. Parran revealed the plans to counteract disease, a high source said it had been decided that title to the relief supplies would pass, at the port of entry, into the hands of whatever existing government controls the territory.

Thus, if the first food boat into the Netherlands is followed shortly by a boat carrying Queen Wilhelmina and her cabinet, the distribution of food will be turned over to them.

FUGITIVE THIEF RECAPTURED.

Walter Mason, 27 years old, was in police hands yesterday after being at liberty since Sept. 14, when he escaped from the Willow Springs farm of the Bridewell. He had been sentenced to a term for larceny.

1/8 OF U. S. FOOD SUPPLY SHIPPED OVERSEAS—FEC

BY LLOYD NORMAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 17.—One-eighth of this country's food supply is being shipped abroad under lend-lease, the foreign economic administration disclosed today. Civilian population in the United States is obtaining about three-fourths of the total food supply, after deducting lend-lease and military requirements, it was estimated.

Leo T. Crowley, FEA chief, reported that in the first nine months of 1943 lend-lease shipments of all meats totaled 1,718,200,000 pounds, or 9.6 per cent of our total meat supply in the period.

Milk Shipments 3.2 Per Cent.

Milk product shipments in the nine months amounted to 2,911,700,000 pounds, or 3.2 per cent, he said; dried eggs, 622,300,000 pounds, or 10.6 per cent; edible fats and oils, 733,800,000 pounds, or 13.9 per cent, and canned fish, 163,300,000 pounds, or 21.2 per cent.

Shipments of canned fruits and juices totaled 84,200,000 pounds, or 2.5 per cent; dried fruits, 207,900,000 pounds, or 21.1 per cent; canned vegetables, 59,100,000 pounds, or 1 per cent; dried beans, 228,500,000 pounds, or 10.3 per cent; dried peas, 84,000,000 pounds, or 14.2 per cent; corn and corn products, 295,000,000 pounds, or 0.1 per cent, and wheat and wheat products, 837,500,000 pounds, or 0.9 per cent.

Only Russia Gets Butter.

Crowley noted that butter is being shipped only to Russia and represents about 2.5 per cent of the total domestic supply. The butter is used primarily to feed convalescent soldiers, he said.

The food exports in the first nine months this year and in the entire year of 1942 were compared by the FEA on the basis of the quantity withdrawn each week from the average American's consumption.

Crowley asserted that beef and veal supplied American soldiers in Australia and New Zealand almost counterbalanced this country's lend-lease shipments of these meats. These countries also have furnished large quantities of lamb and mutton, he said.

T. J. PENDERGAST LOSES APPEAL FOR CLEMENCY

Washington, D. C., Nov. 17 (AP).—The justice department has refused to recommend executive clemency for T. J. Pendergast, former Kansas City Democratic boss, now on parole after serving a prison sentence for income tax violation.

A petition asking clemency had been filed by a group of Kansas City business and professional men.

It was learned today, however, that the justice department has disposed of the plea by failing to forward it to President Roosevelt with a favorable recommendation.

REPORT ACCORD IN FILM STAR'S PATERNITY SUIT

1941, he willed to his mother, Mrs. William C. Hayward of New York, now the wife of Col. "Big Bill" Hayward, the trust fund left him by his father, the late Commodore Morton Plant, steamship magnate. The will provided the money was to go to his mother if he died without issue.

To clear up any question of issue, trustees for the Morton Plant estate brought the matter into Probate court a year ago. It was ruled there that young Plant had no children at the time of his death and that the trust fund should go to his mother as he had willed.

Connie did not come east from California to contest the Probate court action, but appealed from it, which formed the basis for the current case.

Repeat Connie's Story.

Attorneys for the Plant estate contended that not only was little Peter not the son of Phil Plant, he was not even the son of Miss Bennett. They told the story which Connie had told for nearly 14 years and they supported it with an armload of documents in both English and French.

There was no controversy over the date of the child's birth; it was agreed he was born in London on Jan. 21, 1929. The estate attorneys contended that he was born out of wedlock to Sabina Armstrong, a London nurse. Connie also had identified the nurse as his mother and had called her a cousin.

Connie made no mention of having a son thruout her divorce proceedings against Plant, and moreover, declared specifically that her union with Phil had produced no children.

Disavowed Any Children.

She served Phil with a divorce summons, charging abandonment, on Feb. 15, 1929, about a month after Peter's birth. She disavowed any children when she and Phil signed a separation agreement in Paris on April 19, 1929, when Peter was nearly 4 months old, and again on the following Dec. 5 at the time she got her divorce decree when he was 11 months old.

After suing Plant for divorce, Miss Bennett adopted the child in England, and in February, 1930, brought him to the United States, giving his name at Ellis Island as Dennis Armstrong.

Attorneys for the Plant estate brought all of this out in the hearing and offered documents to prove their statements. But Connie's young attorney waved it all aside contemptuously and asserted they were only part of the actress' plan of concealment.

Planned to Review Marriage.

"We will show the hectic married life of Constance Bennett and Philip Plant beginning in 1925 and the final breakup in 1928," he declared. "After the breakup she realized, almost immediately, that she was pregnant. She made an attempt at reconciliation but it failed because Philip Plant could not give up his mode of life."

McGuire said the baby was born to Connie near London and that she went thru adoption proceedings both in London and later in Los Angeles, in 1932, "as part and parcel" of her plan of concealment.

He ridiculed the idea that Connie, "then at the beginning of her career as a glamor girl," would have genuinly adopted "a child with a physical weakness and given him the name of Peter Bennett Plant," particularly after she was married to some one else.

Child in Poor Health.

Later, the attorney said the child suffered from no particular malady but was in extremely poor health, details of which he expected to bring out in the proceedings.

A year ago, after the Probate court had ruled that the boy was not entitled to the Plant fortune, Miss Bennett had explained:

"My son was born before my divorce from Philip Plant was final and it is correct that I did go thru with adoption proceedings, having been advised that such proceedings would make impossible any custody fight over the child."

The Plant estate attorneys, however, had evidence with which they expected successfully to rebut the "confession of concealment" but a judicial ruling based on a technicality deprived them of this weapon.

Their forte consisted of several important depositions taken in London. One was said to have been a statement in which the English nurse swore she had given birth to the boy. Another was from a doctor connected with that birth. And it was said there were others from various officials of a London adoption society that figured in Connie's acquisition of the child.

Arguments Unavailing.

But Judge Murphy refused to permit them to be entered in evidence because of an 1818 Connecticut law that such documents must contain a statement of why the depositions were taken and why the witness was not examined at first hand. This statement was missing, the American vice consul in London, John J. Coyle, having failed to complete certification of the depositions.

The Plant attorneys argued strenuously that it was very obvious why the depositions were taken—their witnesses were across an ocean, 3,000 miles away and then infested with submarines. But Judge Murphy was adamant. He said the reason, even tho obvious, should have been plainly stated.

The estate attorneys had to let the case go on without these major pieces of testimony. Then, with Connie ready to go on the stand when court reconvened at 2 p. m. this afternoon, the opposing attorneys decided to talk it over and the settlement conferences were begun.

RITA TO PAY AND PAY SO EX-MATE WILL BE SILENT

She Gives Property and $500 a Month.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 17 [Special].—A promise not to accuse Rita Hayworth of any offense involving moral turpitude was part of a property settlement between the screen actress and her former husband, Charles Judson, 47 year old oil man, it was revealed here today.

Details of the settlement, reached prior to their divorce in May, 1942, were made public for the first time with the routine unsealing in Superior court of documents in a suit brought against the actress by Judson last September. This suit, since settled out of court, contended Miss Hayworth still owed Judson $10,000 under the settlement.

Must Pay $500 a Month.

A copy of the property settlement was among the documents involved in the order. This revealed that Miss Hayworth obtained her husband's pledge of silence on their personal affairs by giving him most of their listed community property and agreeing to pay him $12,000 at the rate of $500 a month.

Judson, for his part, not only promised silence but agreed to turn over to Miss Hayworth "all written documents bearing her signature in his possession or under his control" and not to keep any copies.

Community property which went to Judson was listed as 200 shares of common stock in Columbia Pictures; 200 shares of preferred stock in 20th Century-Fox films; 150 shares of Metal Assemblies corporation; cash—$6,000 loaned to the Metal Assemblies corporation, and $2,600 in the possession of Judson's attorney, Harry G. Sadicoff.

What He Promised.

Among Judson's promises were:

That he "will not infer, directly or indirectly, that she has committed an offense involving moral turpitude under federal, state, or local laws, or that she has conducted herself in any manner which would cause her to be held in scorn or which would damage her career."

That he will not "sell, give away, circulate, or dispose of any matter arising out of their marital relationship."

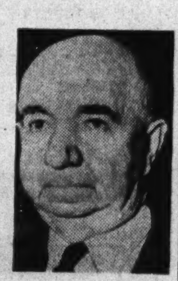
Air Forces to Take Over 5 Santa Barbara Hotels

Washington, D. C., Nov. 17 (AP).—The war department announced today that five Santa Barbara, Cal., hotels—Santa Barbara-Biltmore, Edgewater Beach, Miramar, Delmar, and Shangri La — were being acquired for a convalescent center for the army air forces.

TRIBUNE DRIVER RETIRES AFTER 44 YEARS ON JOB

Frank Crawford, or Old Crawf as he is better known to other Tribune circulation department drivers and hundreds of news dealers, policemen, waitresses, and others on the city's north side, was guest of honor yesterday at a party given by drivers and helpers he had worked with for the last 44 years. He has retired on pension.



Frank Crawford.

The party was held in a bowling alley at 3239 North Clark street. Refreshments were served, indoor sports enjoyed, and then his fellow workers gave Old Crawf a cash gift.

Crawford was an orphan. He thinks he is about 63. He weighs 250 pounds.

Old Crawf was around for some of the biggest stories in the last half century. He saw THE TRIBUNE circulation go from horse and wagon to motor truck and, with rubber and gasoline shortages, back to the horse and wagon.

Train Derailed, 3 Cars of Gasoline Destroyed

Fort Recovery, O., Nov. 17 (AP).—Nineteen cars of a Nickel Plate train, en route from Frankfort, Ind. to Lima, O., were derailed today and three of eight cars containing gasoline went up in flames, destroying 25,000 gallons of the fuel. A carload of meat and a carload of butter were damaged. Three carloads of beef cattle were released into a nearby field. The wreck is believed to have been caused by failure of a brake beam to function.

How to ruin a hotel clerk's day

1

When you get to the desk, complain at the length of time you have been forced to stand in line. Demand a certain type of room at a certain price, and let it be known that you won't accept anything else.

2

When the clerk asks if you have made a reservation, be insulted. Remind him that in all the years you have been traveling, you never make reservations ahead. Be highly indignant when the clerk suggests another type of room at a different price. Yell "Robbery" when you finally discover it's that or nothing.

3

Hit the ceiling when you learn the room won't be ready until 11 a. m. When you finally get into the room, call the manager and complain that there are only two towels instead of the usual four or five. And furthermore, you don't like the view from your window and the bed is too hard, or too soft, etc. This keeps the manager on his toes.

4

When you learn that Room Service has been restricted, call the manager again. Tell him about all the other hotels that still have unlimited Room Service. When he explains there's a shortage of help, say "Poppycock!" and hang up.

5

Be especially sure to complain about the dining room service, and the menu. Demand a thick steak, or lobsters, or extra pats of butter. If you don't get them, take it out on your waiter. Dawdle as long as possible after your meal, so that other people have to wait for your table. When you leave, loudly proclaim your dissatisfaction with everything about the meal, the waiters, the whole doggoned hotel.

Or... if you want to make your own day pleasanter –

You can do it by helping the hotel people.

Remember, nearly every hotel is jammed to capacity, these days. There's a tremendous scarcity of trained help. Laundry service has been cut to the minimum. Strict rationing and food shortages have made it impossible to give pre-war dining room service. Wartime problems are affecting every phase of hotel operation. So . . .

Try to be patient and understanding.

Don't forget—the hotel management feels far worse than you do when they can't provide perfect service!

P.S. If your hotel happens to be out of delicious Pabst Blue Ribbon Beer—remember, we're doing our best to see that all our retailers get a fair share of what we can produce. Your hotel will have a new supply before long . . . So, in the meantime—order some other good beer, won't you?

SHERIFF CLAMPS LID ON GAMBLING IN LAKE COUNTY

Orders 'Bookies' Closed; Bans Slot Machines.

Sheriff Walter L. Atkinson of Waukegan yesterday clamped the lid on all gambling in Lake county.

On Atkinson's orders, Chief of Police John De Schmidt of Highwood closed a handbook and gambling house at 417 Waukegan road, Highwood. Atkinson told De Schmidt that if the book were not closed by police, sheriff's deputies would close it. It did not open yesterday.

Orders Nine Places Closed.

Atkinson told Chief of Police Bart Tyrrell of Waukegan to close four handbooks and five other gambling establishments operating under an arrangement whereby the operators were arrested and fined each month. The fines, totaling $18,000 a year, helped pay police salaries.

John P. Dromey, mayor of North Chicago, was told to halt the operation of 75 slot machines in North Chicago.

Orders also went out that nearly 1,000 slot machines elsewhere in the county must be out of sight by today.

Chief's "Headache" Relieved.

Chief De Schmidt of Highwood expressed relief that the "book" on Waukegan road has been closed.

"It's been a headache to me," he said. "After the sheriff called up, I sent a man over and told them to close. They did."

Mayor Dromey of North Chicago said he would be glad to coöperate with the sheriff to stamp out gambling where it existed.

Proprietors of taverns and other places in North Chicago where slot machines were in operation, said last night they had received instructions to move them out at 1 a. m., at the close of business.

"It's all right with me," said Chief Tyrrell of Waukegan after receiving the sheriff's order. "I'll close 'em tomorrow, but I don't see why the law lets the state collect money from race tracks and won't let cities collect money from handbooks to help lighten the tax burden."

HOW SYNDICATE RAN UNION IN CHICAGO BARED

New York, Nov. 17 (AP).—A federal court jury was told today that a so-called syndicate of the Chicago underworld continued to rule over affairs of the Chicago unit of the AFL International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employes even after the union's president, George E. Browne, and his personal representative, William Bioff, were imprisoned for extortion.

Browne and Bioff were convicted in 1941 and sentenced to eight and 10 years in prison, respectively.

The syndicate maintained control as late as May, 1942, the witness, John P. Smith, business agent for the motion picture operators local No. 110, testified at the trial of eight men charged with conspiring to extort more than a million dollars from the movie industry. Smith said he was reëlected that year with the syndicate's support.

Smith testified he paid part of his salary and the salaries of two other officers of the local to Nick Circella, a member of the so-called syndicate, until Circella was convicted of extortion in 1941, and sentenced to eight years in prison. After that, Smith said, he paid the money to Paul De Lucia, a defendant.

New County Police Chief Arrests 3 in Gaming Raid

John McGinnis, new chief of the county highway police, led a handbook raid yesterday at 2411 Iowa street, Melrose Park. He arrested Peter Gregorio, 39 years old, 1803 73d avenue, Elmwood Park, as the alleged keeper, and David Taddeo, 38, of 1118 North 15th avenue, Melrose Park, and Frank Derrico, 44, of 113 21st avenue, Melrose Park, as alleged inmates. They will be arraigned at 10 a. m. today before Justice of the Peace Henry Pendl at Willow Springs station.

THE QUESTION.

Did you ever help solve a crime while on duty? [Asked of cab drivers.]

WHERE ASKED.

Yellow Cab garage, 1220 North Wells street.

THE ANSWERS.

Frank Bracciventi, 902 Sedgwick street—As I stopped the cab to let out a passenger I noticed a man pointing a gun at the cashier in a drug store. I turned around the corner and called the police from the nearest phone. They were there in no time and captured the holdup men before they had time to finish the job.

Samuel Glassberg, 875 North Wells street—If I hadn't seen an accident an innocent man would have been accused of being a hit and run driver. A woman crossing an icy street as the lights changed slipped and broke her leg. She told the police that the nearest car had struck her, but the driver, my passenger, and I knew he hadn't.

Floyd J. Meyers, 6151 Roscoe street—While waiting at a cab stand I saw a suspicious looking man carrying a set of luggage that looked too expensive for him. I studied his face, and next day I read that luggage had been stolen from a car in that neighborhood. A week later he attempted the same thing and I pointed him out to the police.

Melbourne Healey, 345 Belden avenue—As I was driving thru a park two men in a car forced my cab off the street and struck me on the head. I heard one say I was the wrong man and they drove away. A park policeman came along and we caught them. They had quite a record, and were wanted for several crimes.

William Doane, 6943 Cornell avenue—One of my passengers told me to follow a big car ahead of us. His wife was on her way some place with some one and he wanted to find out who he was and where they were going. I played the part of the bloodhound and my passenger was the Sherlock.

John R. Feeley, 1850 Orleans street—For a long time I had been on the lookout for a peeping Tom in our neighborhood. One late night as I was driving past I saw a man up on a ladder looking thru a lighted window. I kept track of him while the passenger summoned the police. The man was wanted on several other charges.

165 Mile Gale Is Just a Draft in Greenland

Nesquehoning, Pa., Nov. 17 (AP).—Sgt. Edward Koomar sat reading by the door of an army hut in Greenland. His companions, intent on a card game, shouted: "Shut the door." Sgt. Koomar looked at the door. It was shut. Then he looked up. The roof was gone—torn away by a 165 mile an hour gale. That, says Sgt. Koomar, is life in Greenland.

GUZIK GAMBLING IS 'DEAD,' BIDWILL CONVINCES JURY

BY JAMES DOHERTY.

Charles W. Bidwill, race track owner and professional football promoter, and several of his employes yesterday convinced the November grand jury that the Guzik gambling syndicate was enjoying one of its most prosperous years until late in September.

As of yesterday, Bidwill and his employes averred, the racket was and is dead.

Bidwill, who had defied the jury on two occasions and finally was ordered to appear yesterday with the books and records of his personally owned printing plant—Bentley, Murray and company—testified, but did not produce his books. He was excused from further questioning.

"A graph showing the rise and decline of the gambling racket in these parts could have been drawn from the grand jury testimony," State's Atty. Thomas J. Courtney announced. "Business records showed that by December, 1941, we had stopped nearly all syndicate gambling in the city and county.

Salesman's Commissions Soar.

"The records of Bidwill's company, and of the Lawton & Co., showed that business zoomed up again last January. A salesman whose pay came from commissions on printed material sold to handbooks made $100 last January, but by September his pay had risen to $700 for the month. During October he made $4 and so far this month he has made nothing."

Courtney and his chief assistant, Wilbert F. Crowley, said resumption of the gambling racket followed the whitewashing of Police Capt. Martin E. McCormick, who formerly had commanded the morals squad, which was held responsible for the suppression of gambling.

"When other police captains saw that McCormick wasn't punished, they felt that the gambling syndicate was all powerful," Crowley said.

400 Sets Daily at Peak.

Miss Alice Kross, 2341 12th avenue, Broadview, an employe for 10 years of Bidwill's firm, was said to have testified that until the crash came in September, the company was selling about 400 sets of horse race betting sheets per day. On Tuesday she sold only three "hard cards," which are pocket size lists of the horses running at various race tracks.

Louis Rosengard, a salesman for the Lawton company, 641 Plymouth court, said he sold betting tickets. He made $600 in September and nothing in October, he testified.

The Lawton company was a competitor of Bidwill's company on the sale of betting tickets, Rosengard explained.

Probe Punchboard Business.

Crowley said the grand jury is seeking information about the appearance of punchboards in Cook county taverns in recent weeks. Frank W. James, 9448 Drake avenue, Skokie, was a witness on this subject yesterday.

James said he operates the Novelty Manufacturers' Credit bureau, which represents a dozen or so manufacturers, five of which are local companies. He said he knew nothing about the placing of boards in suburban barrooms or of any monopoly enjoyed by the Guzik syndicate in reference to punchboards or juke boxes.

LONDON REPORTS STIMSON DUE TO LEAVE CABINET

Sees Patterson or Murphy in War Post.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 17.—Word that Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson is on the way out and may be succeeded by Undersecretary Robert P. Patterson or Justice Frank Murphy of the Supreme court has reached the capital from London.

Robert P. Patterson.

While the reports could not be confirmed they were given serious consideration because Washington is accustomed to getting its news from London not only on the war but on political developments.

Sees Hull Ascending.

Word that 76 year old Stimson may be on the way out reached here in Review of World Affairs, a publication of a British information service printed for subscribers. The publication is more than an ordinary information service as it is published by a committee under the chairmanship of William Nunn, member of parliament. Another committee member is Victor Raikes, also a member of parliament.

In speaking of new official alignments in Washington the publication mentioned the rise of Secretary of State Cordell Hull and the decline of Vice President Henry A. Wallace.

Kenneth de Coursey, editor of the brochure, wrote:

"The resignation of Sumner Welles [undersecretary of state] is recognized as a sign of the times. This, taken alongside Mr. Wallace's lessening influence, is considered to be most interesting.

How Wind Blows.

"Mr. Cordell Hull, who a few months ago seemed to many people an old and finished politician, is now more powerful than ever. His views on foreign policy are prevailing. They are strongly conservative. Mr. Wallace belongs to the leftist school and can be bracketed with Mr. Welles.

"Only the success of Mr. Stimson's visit to London saved him from eclipse. And perhaps that is only temporary. Mr. Patterson and Justice Murphy are mentioned as possible successors to the war secretary if he should fall from power."

COAL SHORTAGE FORCES CEMENT PLANT TO CLOSE

Stocks Are Meager, Survey Shows.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

An acute shortage of coal was reported yesterday by many widespread communities and a survey indicated supplies in dealers' yards were meager almost everywhere.

In Dayton, O., the shortage was so stringent that the Portland Cement company shut down its plant there, laying off 160 workers, and H. B. Doty, district manager for the war production board, ordered a survey of the fuel situation of other plants.

New regulations governing distribution of anthracite in 12 eastern states and the District of Columbia were announced during the day by the solid fuels administration, and informed sources said distributive controls over bituminous coal probably would be issued later in the week.

New Regulations.

The new anthracite regulations require a written statement from a purchaser as to his stocks on hand and annual requirements—something not demanded under previous regulations.

They permit delivery of two tons to consumers of less than 12 tons annually who have less than two tons on hand. Heretofore, deliveries to such consumers have been limited to one ton. Larger consumers may be delivered any quantity, provided the amount delivered, plus stocks on hand, do not exceed a 30 day supply.

Expect Relief Soon.

Parodoxically, some communities reporting short fuel supplies looked for the situation to be relieved when colder weather comes. It was explained that mines which normally supply them now are sending virtually all their output to Great Lakes points in a race against winter's closing of the lakes to navigation. Once lake navigation ends, this output will be turned to other centers.

Pittsburgh, in the heart of the coal producing section, and Richmond, Va., were among cities in this situation. Because of the coal shortage there, A. L. Wolk, Pittsburgh council man, asked that the city issue a pamphlet telling householders how to fire furnaces economically.

This year's series of coal strikes is estimated by government officials to have resulted in lost coal production amounting to 40,000,000 tons. They said output and reserve supplies would meet all needs.

Miners Can Ease Problem.

New York, Buffalo, Baltimore, and St. Louis were among major cities from which there were reports of critically short supplies. In Baltimore and St. Louis many householders could get only a bushel or two at a time.

"If the miners get out the coal, as they should and can, I don't think we'll have any undue suffering," Charles Farrar, executive secretary, said.

Stocks were described as below normal in Detroit and Kansas City, but a recent acute shortage in the latter city was relieved by resumption of mining in the Missouri-Kansas bituminous field.

Only isolated shortages were reported from Indiana, but a spokesman for Nebraska dealers said the shortage in some communities in that state was greater than we imagined.

OFFICIAL WEATHER FORECAST

The United States weather bureau forecast for today and tomorrow and yesterday's table of records follow:

INDIANA: Partly cloudy, warmer today; continued mild tomorrow.

Industry is helping win the war...
industry must help build a peacetime world

The will of our soldiers assures an unconditional surrender...
The will of our people can assure a just and durable peace

Today the United Nations are joined in their determination to win a decisive victory. On every battle front and on every farm and in every production centre a singleness of purpose is speeding "unconditional surrender."

Tomorrow millions of soldiers and workers can have steady employment if they also unite with determination to bring about "a just and durable peace."

Prosperity can be realized only through the will of an informed and a united people. With their courage and their determination, the people's will to accomplish a righteous peace is irresistible.

People here, in common with people of other lands, can prosper materially and spiritually after the war ends—but only if now the peoples of the United Nations make loud their demands for "a just and durable peace."

COURTNEY NIPS PLAN TO SETTLE 'L' LINES' TAXES

Any immediate prospect that the Cook county board could accept approximately 2½ million dollars from the Chicago Rapid Transit Lines in settlement of delinquent taxes was shattered by State's Atty. Thomas J. Courtney yesterday.

In a letter to the board, Courtney said that while the county is in dire need of funds, the offer should not be accepted; that it is not adequate. He recalled that the unpaid taxes total 4¼ millions and penalties add about 3¼ millions more. Acceptance of the bid, he added, would wipe out an unpaid balance of 5 million dollars.

Another reason for turning down the "L" lines' offer, Courtney said, is the fact that litigation is in progress for a 12 cent fare instead of the present 10 cents. He concluded that the taxing bodies might discover, after making the settlement, that they had favored a prosperous utility company.

The elevated lines have paid current taxes for the last four years on a lower adjusted valuation than that prevailing when the delinquency occurred. The lines contend that the offer is virtually enough to square the entire bill at the new assessed value.

Work on the county's 1944 budget is to begin soon. Several commissioners have said they intend to live within expected revenues, which has not been done in recent years.

DR. WYNEKOOP LOSES FIGHT TO LEAVE ASYLUM

Dr. Gilbert Wynekoop, once a noted surgeon, lost his long fight for release from a mental institution yesterday when Judge John C. Lewe of Superior court dismissed his petition for a writ of habeas corpus and ordered him returned immediately to the Illinois Security hospital at Menard.

At the same time Judge Lewe lashed at what he called an "epidemic" of court actions designed to free mentally unbalanced and dangerous patients from institutional care.

Dr. Wynekoop, a brother-in-law of Dr. Alice Wynekoop, who is serving a 25 year sentence for the murder of her daughter-in-law, has been in and out of state mental hospitals since January, 1934.

Dr. Wynekoop was committed in 1934 after an assault to rape charge, freed in 1936, and recommitted in 1937 on another sex charge.

SCOLDS WOMEN WHO WON'T GIVE MOTHER A HOME

Two women, both well dressed and with homes of their own, faced their mother, Mrs. Maggie Ardueser, 83 years old, in Women's court yesterday and refused to give her shelter altho she has nowhere to go except to the Oak Forest infirmary, county institution for the aged. They did agree to pay $33 a month for her care there, however.

Mrs. Ardueser, shabbily but neatly attired, was a defendant on a technical charge of disorderly conduct. Released from County hospital on Nov. 12 after treatment of a fractured arm, she found a niece, Mrs. Irene Osberg, with whom she had lived at 3308 North Racine avenue, planned to move and had no place for her.

The woman's daughters, Mrs. Lavine Toerpe, 1808 Taft avenue, Berkeley, and Mrs. Isabelle Bolten, 2517 Kimball avenue, told Judge Frank E. Donoghue that their husbands would not permit either to offer Mrs. Ardueser a home.

"You don't have a drop of blood in your veins," Judge Donoghue exploded. "Your mother reared you and gave you the best years of her life. Get out and don't ever come into this court again."

Bootleg Suspect Is Held to U. S. Jury on Tax Count

Simon Schwartz, 31 years old, 1324 Christiana avenue, was held to the grand jury yesterday by United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker on a charge of violating the alcohol tax regulations. He waived examination. Tax agents said they found 125 gallons of bootleg alcohol in his car at 36th street and Indiana avenue.

A TRAP.

Secretary Hull has expressed the hope of the Roosevelt administration that the Republicans and Democrats will adopt at their forthcoming national conventions similar if not identical planks on foreign policy.

Here is another proof—if it were needed—that Mr. Roosevelt sees his only hope for the fourth term lies in controlling the action of the Republican convention next year. If he can get the Republicans to name the stooge candidate of 1940 or another like him and adopt a platform that varies only in minor particulars from that of the Democrats, the people will once again have to choose between the real and the imitation New Dealer and the real and the imitation New Deal. In such circumstances they might well repeat the election of 1940.

It is idle to pretend that the people of this country are in full agreement on foreign policy. That is not the meaning of the recent elections. If the Republicans fall into the trap they probably will lose the election and they certainly will betray millions of voters who have been looking to the Republican party to preserve the independence of the Republic and thereby safeguard its free institutions

The New Deal's bamboozle brigade has never offered a suggestion equal to this one for impudence. They talk endlessly about their complete faith in democracy and democratic processes, but they are seeking to deny to the American people a choice of foreign policies or even a voice in the formulation of foreign policy.

No doubt Mr. Roosevelt is counting upon support from Wall street and its bankers who served him so valiantly in 1940 and who will stand to profit handsomely from the foreign policy he seeks to impose on the country by default in 1944. It should be sufficient in this connection to note that people who sell out the Republican party in 1944 will sell out the nation and will be treated accordingly, all in due time.

AMERICANS IN PART.

John Pierpont Morgan, it was announced the other day, left an estate of more than a million dollars in England, including a handsome silver tankard, which he willed to the Bank of England in appreciation of the bank's "kindness and hospitality." The British treasury collected $200,556 from Mr. Morgan's estate in death duties.

Thruout Mr. Morgan's life he was regarded as an American, and if any one had asked him his nationality he no doubt would have declared promptly and emphatically that he was a citizen of the United States and that he assumed the patriotic responsibilities entailed in such citizenship.

When an American chooses to establish a home in England and leaves an estate of more than a million dollars in that country upon his death, Americans cannot help but consider that part of his interest and part of his loyalty belonged there as well. He may be American born, but he is part English.

This condition is true of many of the wealthy people who live on the eastern seaboard of the United States. They are militant internationalists, seeking to bind our future to Europe's. Their hearts, like their fortunes, know a divided loyalty.

THE NEW HOLY ALLIANCE.

The united nations' relief and rehabilitation administration, which is the title that has been chosen for Mr. Roosevelt's international WPA, could scarcely have made a worse start than it has at its Atlantic City organization meeting. There is every indication that the necessary and humanitarian task of relieving famine in postwar Europe is to be subordinated. The food for which American taxpayers will pay a large part of the bill is not regarded by the conferees as the simple gift of charity which it should be, but as the cement for a new Holy Alliance such as kept the lid on Europe after the fall of Napoleon.

The choice of former Gov. Lehman for the director generalship was hardly a fortunate one. Whatever his previous personal reputation, he placed an irremovable blemish on it when he quit his office in New York in order to make way for the radical tool, Poletti, who immediately disgraced the governorship by his pardon of the arsonist and labor racketeer, Hoffman. More than that, the great banks inevitably will benefit from the great transactions in relief supplies. However correct Gov. Lehman's decisions and acts may be, he will be suspected of favoring the banking house with which he formerly was connected. The appointment might as well have been given to the house of Morgan.

The American officials suggest that the member nations contribute 1 per cent of their annual national income to the relief fund. So far there has been no enthusiastic indorsement of this principle by the other conferees. High politics may, indeed, have been involved in the selection of Dean Acheson as the chairman of the conference, but there is a more likely reason for this unprecedented action of giving both of the principal posts in the international organization to one nation. This is the confidence of the delegates that the financial burden is going to be borne largely by the United States and that the allocation of the offices will make it easier to place that burden where it was intended from the beginning that it should be placed.

Food in starving Europe will be a more powerful political and economic weapon immediately after the war even than armies. A nonpartisan organization with the best intentions in the world would have an extremely difficult course in steering its way between the contending political and economic factions in the liberated countries. The conference has no intentions of acting impartially. Instead of setting up its own organization, the UNRRA is going to turn the distribution over to the governments of the nations that need relief. This, of course, will include the exile governments, including those princelings and princesses who have been living in luxury in Washington or London while their people were tortured by Hitler, and it will include, also, those who, before they were forced to flee their countries, maintained their power by brutal dictatorships.

Charitable objects are best accomplished when they are treated purely as charity. It would be a mistake for the United States, if it were undertaking relief alone, to try to mix its political objectives with the distribution of aid. It is pure folly to turn the aid over to the international bankers and the discredited royalty of Europe in order that they may reward their friends and punish their enemies at the expense of the American taxpayer.

MR. ROOSEVELT DRAFTS A CANDIDATE.

The national anger at the administration's neglect of the Pacific war is being felt in Washington. The official reaction, however, is not to remedy the neglect but to attempt to deceive the people.

Naval leaders have been talking about an offensive for a year, and daring the Japanese fleet to come out and fight. An assertion Monday in London by Rear Adm. Young, the navy's paymaster, that the Pacific forces are getting such a flow of supplies that they will soon be able to mount a major offensive apparently so stretched the truth that Col. L. A. Diller, the official spokesman for Gen. MacArthur, felt obliged to answer Rear Adm. Young.

The facts are, Col. Diller said, that somewhat less than 5 per cent of American military resources are in the Southwest Pacific and that less than 10 per cent of what America is sending overseas is going to that area, with the percentage for air resources somewhat lower than this. This, obviously, is not the force necessary for a major offensive against an enemy of 90 million people, in a theater in which our only effective allies are a few million Australians and a devastated and underarmed China.

Gen. MacArthur is doing wonders with what he has, and the navy has demonstrated a ship for ship superiority over the Japanese. But after nearly two years of warfare we are still skirmishing on the outskirts of the empire that Japan seized after Pearl Harbor, and Secretary Ickes has the effrontery to tell the American people that we should be grateful for the assistance the British and Russians are giving us in fighting Hitler.

There is a general impression in the country that Gen. MacArthur is being denied sufficient force for a major offensive, and has been committed to a mere holding action against the Japanese, because Mr. Roosevelt fears him as a possible opponent in next year's election. THE TRIBUNE will support warmly any honest American candidate whom it believes capable of terminating Mr. Roosevelt's 12 years of misrule, but Gen. MacArthur has never been put forward as such a candidate in these columns. We have never ceased to demand that he be given adequate support because he is the natural leader against Japan, and the Japanese are, in the opinion of the overwhelming majority of Americans, our most bestial and dangerous enemy.

If the Roosevelt administration is neglecting the national interests for the purpose of heading off a possible MacArthur candidacy it could hardly have adopted a more politically stupid course. Americans want the war pressed against Japan and they are increasingly impatient that it is not being pressed. If Gen. MacArthur continues to be stifled for political reasons, his only recourse will be to resign the command where he is denied the opportunity of exercising his talents and thru political candidacy take the issue to the people. He has repeatedly said that his only ambition is the military defeat of the Japanese, and has disavowed any political plans. Mr. Roosevelt's tactics could not be better designed to force Gen. MacArthur to become a candidate if that were their object.

CALL IT OLEO.

[Elgin (Ill.) Courier-News.]

Whatever decision the house of representatives may reach in the butter-oleomargarine controversy, there is one aspect of the situation that probably will remain as confused as ever. That is the problem of how to pronounce margarine.

Margarine is derived [that is, the word, not the product] from the Latin margarita, meaning pearl, which in turn stems from the Greek margaron, also meaning pearl. Both root words are pronounced with a hard g, as in Margaret, not a soft one, as in Marjorie. Yet almost all of us pronounce it as if it were spelled with a j.

Dictionaries held out for a long time against public pressure. But the latest edition of the Merriam-Webster only adds to the confusion. It gives the word margarin, which is a concoction of fats and greases, as being pronounced with a hard g. But when it adds a final e to the word, and specifies in the definition that the margarin is the kind you spread on bread, then it gives two choices of pronunciation, with the soft g first.

Our own research, carried out with an expenditure of time all out of proportion to the subject's importance, has discovered no precedent for a soft g preceding an a.

Reports from the house butter-margarine committee hearings offer no solution, but do suggest a compromise. It seems that all congressmen and some oleomargarine experts use the popular, or soft g, pronunciation. Purists, especially those from the OPA, bravely give it the hard g as in Margaret.

But the butter men scornfully refer to the rival spread as oleo. In fact, when they want to be particularly derisive, they have been heard to refer to the product as oley.

WAR BY TELEVISION.

The allied campaign in Italy seems to be temporarily stalemated along a line that is not only discouraging from a military point of view but depressing for journalism. The names of the towns thru which the front passes from coast to coast have no association values. The war map brightened for a day when it showed Mondragone at one end of the line and Monfalcone at the other, but those names merely meant Mount Dragon and Mount Falcon.

* * *

The region in classical times was southern Latium, a fag-end of the Romans' home grounds; Samnium, where the toughest of their early enemies lived among rugged mountains, and, toward the east coast, northern Apulia. The scenery, no doubt, is picturesque when not cluttered up with tanks and machine guns, but peace time tourists have never done much exploring in that sector. They merely shuttled thru it on the trip from Rome to Naples.

* * *

The point of land north of Terracina, within the German lines, had a reputation among the ancient Romans. They called it the promontory of Circe and built up a myth that it was the home of the enchantress nymph who transformed the companions of Ulysses into swine. But that story was merely Roman home brew, for Homer, who held all Mediterranean rights in the Circe fable, gave her an island named Aeaea as a hangout.

* * *

On the east coast side of this region the marches of Hannibal may be traced, for Apulia was for some years a stamping ground of the Carthaginian elephants. But the Romans never dreamed of naming a town after Hannibal.

* * *

A girl in the office has received a cameo from a soldier on the Italian front, with a letter stating that it was bought in the City of the Cameos. When asked to pin down this place on the map we could only guess that it might be Naples or a tourist stop close to Pompeii where there was a good place to eat and a better place to buy jewelry, especially cameos. The shop made its own goods.

Success Story, 1943.

Behind a desk piled high with questionnaires, limitation orders, tax blanks, government reports, etc., sat the once portly president of Bigg corporation, J. Sluffingwell Bigg.

Last week his controler had been drafted. This week his personal secretary joined the WAC. His vice president was in Washington trying to obtain release of necessary raw materials—his treasurer in Pittsburgh trying to buy them. And this morning his cook walked out because he asked for an extra slice of toast.

The telephone rang. Nervously he grabbed the tube of his dictating machine. "J-J-J. Sluf-f-fingwell speaking. Hel-lo, hel-lo, hel- . . ."

Kicking the silent machine into a cuspidor, he buzzed for his secretary. Getting no answer, he pushed all the buttons on the panel. Still no answer. Tearing the device from his desk, he tossed it into the wastebasket.

Picking up an order from his desk, he removed the telephone from its cradle. "Take a letter to Balland Chain Stores . . ."

"Num-bah, puh-leese?" asked the operator.

"Don't interrupt," he requested, continuing his dictation. "Because of conditions beyond our control it is . . ."

At that moment the janitor appeared in the doorway. "D'ja ring, boss?"

A queer gleam came into the eyes of Mr. Bigg. "Yes," he replied, with unaccustomed softness. "Call the White House and tell Franklin I can see him at 3 this afternoon. Ask him to bring Hitler, Tojo, and Charlie McCarthy. I'm a little PD-1A. Sound taps and reveille. Bing! Bang! Ack-ack-ack-ack- . . ."

With that he threw the telephone at the janitor, set fire to his desk, and tried to crawl between the pages of the Federal Register.

It took nine policemen to overpower and haul him away to the Refuge for Regulation-Shocked Civilians. There, in straitjacket and padded cell, he is happier than he has been in years. He imagines he is a combination tank corps and bomber squadron for the suppression of all government forms.

And demand, "Bring on the asp"?

DIETARY AND OTHER IRRITANTS IN HIVES.

THE subject of hives may arouse jocular comment but the one who presents grossly swollen and distorted features finds the situation far from amusing. Now and then the manifestations may even be dangerous, particularly when edema involves the larynx and the epiglottis—the lid which closes on swallowing. It is this structure which prevents food from entering the bronchial tubes. When it becomes puffy, breathing may be so difficult that unless a quick acting remedy is immediately at hand, the patient's life may be at stake.

Other than the blotchy skin blemishes, the most common symptom is itching. Despite all that can be done it may prove distracting. About the most useful treatment is to plunge the victim into an oatmeal or starch bath with the water tepid or about the temperature of the body [98.6 degrees F.]. Whether the starch has much to do with relief is not clear, as occasionally the application of heat or cold will allay discomfort.

With the desperate case, a hypodermic injection of a small quantity of adrenalin, while not curative, will abate distress sufficiently so that the interval of hazard will pass.

We know many of the causes, altho all sufferers will not be affected by the same irritant. We can assume, however, that the skin is refractory and that lesions will break out whenever the body absorbs elements which it cannot abide. Thus we have reactions to strawberries, shellfish, meats, etc. Various alkalizing substances and laxatives, while harmless for many, will be objectionable to a few. Infections likewise may be responsible. House dust and the emanations from animals [horses, cats, and dogs] must not be forgotten.

Diet, of course, must always be considered and the common offenders are milk and chocolate. In order to make a good job, if some edible is the culprit, the victim is advised to forego milk products. This includes cheese, cream soups, custards, puddings, and butter. Cocoa is on the forbidden list as well as shellfish such as crabs, shrimps, and oysters. Raw vegetables will need to be shunned, but as a rule greens—when cooked—will be well borne. In addition, nuts and all salt and preserved meats should be sidestepped.

As a general panacea, calcium has been found to be extremely valuable. Ten to 30 grains of some soluble form, such as the gluconate, may be taken by mouth or injected directly into a vein. Spectacular cures have followed this procedure. The introduction into the muscles of a teaspoonful or two of the patient's own blood, two or three times a week, has proved helpful.

It goes without saying that the bowel will need attention. This does not mean strong cathartics—usually none at all. But regularity may be established by water drinking before breakfast.

The time to attack hives is upon the appearance of the first crop. If neglected, the second seizure may be more severe.

NERVOUS DISORDERS.

D. T. writes: Is neurocirculatory asthenia the same as neurasthenia?

REPLY.

Neurocirculatory weakness [asthenia] is known as "effort syndrome." It occurs chiefly among soldiers and is characterized by breathlessness, dizziness, fatigue, and rapid beating of the heart. None of these symptoms appear when the patient is quiet and relaxed. They come on following activity.

Neurasthenia is commonly called "nervous prostration."

SMOKING ANNOYS.

H. D. writes: When I enter a room where any one is smoking, I suffer from shortness of breath. This is relieved as soon as I go into fresh air. What causes this?

REPLY.

Some are acutely sensitive to tobacco fumes. In those who are allergic, symptoms vary from breathlessness to a severe asthma. The ladies are rapidly becoming immune.

Child Story. Beware!

A crowd gathered around a lost boy at 63d and Halsted streets the other day. He was not as afraid as he was mad, and he was very mad, for when friendly persons sought to help him, he yelled, "I told that old fool she was going to lose me if she didn't hang on to me!"

Domestic Note.

A young Chicago bride, now living in Texas, had been telephoning her mother two or three times a week to chat and ask her advice. Her mother, manager of several large tearooms, objected. "Now, you must stop that," she said. "Either stop or reverse the charges, but only call when it is important." The girl held off for six days. Monday she called her mother at work. "Mother," she said, "this is really important. I am having company for dinner tonight, and I'm making Parker house rolls. Now, do I melt the shortening and put it in the dough, or do I put it in solid?"

The Fowls Are Fattening.

With Thanksgiving just around a few corners, and happily back in its same old stall, it seems fitting to relate the tale of a north shore matron and her 1942 Thanksgiving dinner. Her father sent her a live turkey, and, being a touch squeamish about the neck-wringing procedure, she went to the druggist and obtained a bottle of chloroform. When the turkey expired, she plucked him and put him in the refrigerator. On Thanksgiving morning she opened the ice box to clean and dress the bird, and he walked out. A quickly summoned neighbor killed the bird, and eventually her guests, after hoisting a few glasses, were ready to eat. They couldn't. Every bite was a bite of chloroform. The hostess and her guests then repaired to their favorite restaurant.

HE'LL DO HIS OWN GIVING.

Chicago, Nov. 14.—What Mr. Jonas Perlberg starts out today to prove is that we shouldn't object to paying a few extra cents for our movie entertainment, because—look how generous the theaters are to patriotic causes!

What he succeeds in proving beautifully is that the alleged benefactions of business concerns are, in the end, gifts not from them but from their customers. This is what I object to. When I have money to give away, I want to know whom I'm giving it to, and why. I don't want to do my giving in some theater manager's name and discretion.

Corporations are creatures of the state; they can do nothing but what the law empowers them to do. There is really a big means uncovered here for cutting down the high cost of both living and racketeering; just stop empowering business corporations to make "gifts" to anybody. Let them pay their profits, if any, to their stockholders, and let the stockholders do the giving. Then let competition go right on forcing down the dividends and the prices.

"PACIFIC PARADOX."

Chicago, Nov. 15.—Your Pacific Paradox editorial in today's paper brings to mind a luncheon conversation of last week. I happened to sit at a table in a downtown restaurant with a gentleman from Los Angeles. He was outspoken in belief that our great problem was Japan and not Germany. He was exceedingly bitter in criticism of the administration at Washington and attributed their slowdown of Pacific support to the fact that, as he put it, "Some correspondent at Washington suddenly got the idea that MacArthur was a national hero and would make a wonderful candidate to oppose Roosevelt next year."

He went on to comment that one need but turn back to our nationwide newspaper headlines to realize that MacArthur was universally recognized as a great leader and a great general and that a major offensive was in the making for the Pacific and that Japan was doomed. But MacArthur as a great general and MacArthur as a possible candidate for the Presidency were two different things and the entire picture changed almost overnight. The Pacific situation dropped from primary to secondary importance immediately, not because of failure to recognize the strategic and military facts, but purely because MacArthur absolutely must be kept from first page prominence until after next summer's political conventions.

That's why we fellows are over here fighting—fighting against those chiselers and those who disregard the rights of others. If you patronize the black markets it means just that much less for the legal markets. It means that you are a traitor to your grocer, to your neighbor, and to your country. You are also helping the chances of inflation thru uncontroled prices. I have served in Africa and Sicily and there are black markets here, too. But we don't patronize them. If we did then we'd be traitors to the cause we're fighting for.

1. Under the law of agency the principal is liable for negligent performance by an agent where the principal controls the agent's performance, but in cases where there is an independent contract so that the landlord has no such control the landlord would not be liable.

2. Similarly, if the building agent is an independent contractor in his relationship with the decorator, then he would not be liable.

3. It seems probable that the head decorator is an employer with reference to the others and has such measure of control as to justify liability.

SERVICES TELL GIGANTIC GAINS IN OCEAN FLYING

5,000 Crossings During War by Airline.

BY WALTER TROHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 17.—The army and navy today gave the nation the first glimpse into the phenomenal expansion in trans-oceanic flying during the war.

The services authorized release of the information upon completion of the 5,000th trans-oceanic crossing since Pearl Harbor by the Pan American Airways. The record was set when a darkly camouflaged four engined transport circled into an eastern seaport from the Atlantic at dawn this morning.

While the air line's record of crossings is unique in air transportation, it represents only part of the trans-oceanic transport flying. Several domestic air lines also are making trans-oceanic flights regularly and the air transport command of the army air forces is breaking records daily.

1,000 Per Cent Increase.

The 5,000th flight of the Pan American Airways in less than two years marks an increase of more than 1,000 per cent in ocean crossings over peace time operations. Before Pearl Harbor, when Pan American Airways was making all trans-oceanic crossings, fewer than 250 flights were being made a year.

In peace time the air line operated two flights a week across the Atlantic and two flights a week across the Pacific. Today the line is making seven flights a day.

The record, which surpasses many times the total trans-oceanic flying done by all the air lines of the world before the war, includes 2,753 crossings of the Atlantic ocean in the service of the army air transport command, and 481 other crossings for the naval air transport service and by the Clippers on their regularly scheduled runs between the United States, Europe, and the British Isles.

Total crossings over both the North and South Atlantic, including special war mission flights, total 3,259.

Achievement in Pacific.

On the Pacific, at the same time, Pan American crews have completed 1,221 crossings of the North Pacific between the Hawaiian Islands and the mainland, including both Clipper schedules and crossings made with naval transport aircraft operated for the naval air transport service, and 520 flights for the naval air transport service across the long run to the South Pacific.

Flights across the North Pacific between the Hawaiian Islands and the mainland and to and from the South Pacific since the outbreak of hostilities total 1,741.

BRITONS DEMAND FREE INDUSTRY CREATE AIRWAYS

BY FRANK STURDY.

British industry, thru a committee representing virtually all the nation's commercial and transportation enterprises, has declared in favor of a competitive system of development for Great Britain's post war international air line expansion.

The statement of policy, a copy of which was received here yesterday, expressed unqualified opposition to any "chosen instrument" company, dominated and subsidized by the British government, operating the empire's air lines.

Private Enterprise Urged.

Issued by the joint air transport committee of the Association of British Chambers of Commerce, the Federation of British Industries, and the London Chamber of Commerce, the statement said:

"The committee is convinced that air transport has developed to such an extent during the war and the possibility of its further growth is so great that no single company or corporation should handle it, and emphasizes therefore the importance of private enterprise, with all the energy it can provide, being allowed to play its part in the development of air transport, as in the case of shipping, railways, and road transport in the past. The value of comparison between different undertakings operating different services should not be overlooked."

Ship Firms' Share Asked.

"In this connection it would be natural that organizations like shipping companies and other interests which have developed and operated transport in the past and have gained experience on a particular route or in a particular part of the world should be allowed to participate and to apply for a license to operate."

William Benton, vice president of the University of Chicago, who returned recently from England and a series of conferences with British business leaders concerning international post-war commercial relations, commented yesterday that the attitude expressed in the statement represented an important reversal, probably strongly influenced by the position of the United States domestic air lines.

Monopoly Urged Earlier.

English business men with whom he talked last summer, Benton said, indicated a preference for a monopoly empire air line, in the same vein as the trade cartels favored for industry in general.

An international air authority "vested with very considerable powers" is advocated by the British committee to license and control international flying, but no suggestions were advanced in the statement for a delineation of its authority.

ASSERTS 95% OF U. S. FARMERS OPPOSE ALL FEDERAL SUBSIDIES

A blistering denunciation of the government's proposed farm subsidy legislation was made before the 29th annual meeting of the Illinois Agricultural association yesterday in Hotel Sherman by P. O. Wilson, manager of the National Livestock Producers' association.

"When farmers are given a subsidy," Wilson said, "they almost automatically lose their independence. I've talked to farmers of all types in every section of the country, and more than 95 per cent of them are opposed to subsidies of any kind."

WAR PLANTS
Making Containers for Overseas Shipping have been forced to cut Production Schedules for lack of WASTE PAPER

Without your waste paper, mills cannot make enough overseas shipping containers. Without containers, the supply lines carrying food, medical supplies, and military equipment to the fighting fronts will fail to deliver on schedule. Today, the shortage of waste paper is so acute that many war plants making containers and other weapons of war have been unable to operate on full schedules. Some have had to cut down to 2 and 3 days operation per week. It is everyone's patriotic duty to relieve this shortage that affects every phase of the war effort!

Mills need an additional million tons this year. Save every scrap of waste paper to help win the scrap. Help America "deliver the goods" to the fighting fronts!

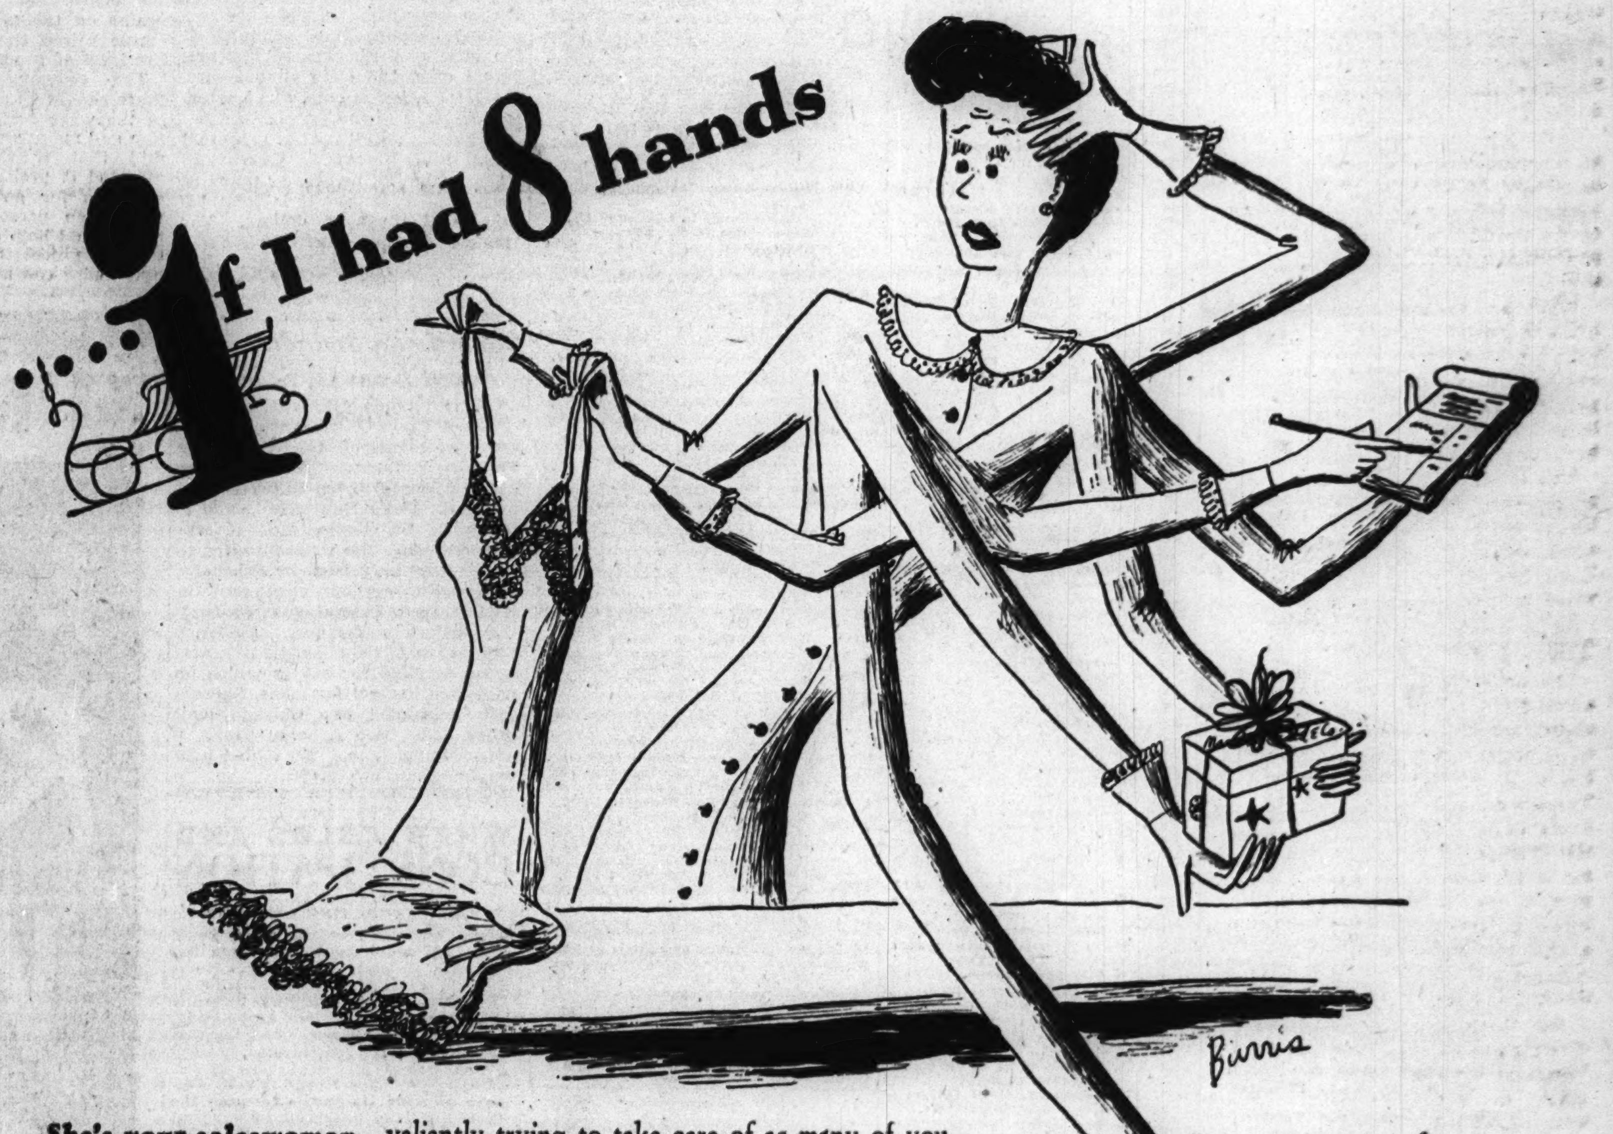
The Store of the Christmas Spirit

Marshall Field & Company



She's your saleswoman—valiantly trying to take care of as many of you as two or three salespeople took care of, other Christmases. It isn't her fault, nor ours, that there aren't more of her—over 2,600 of our people are at war. But we're the Store of the Christmas Spirit—and none of us forget it, from stock boy to president. It is with great pride in our salespeople and the job they are doing, that we ask your help and understanding.

Have a heart!
Give her a hand!

- Shop with a list—have a second choice, and a third.
- Try to look at gifts on display and make your selection before the salesperson gets to you.
- Allow salesperson to divide her time between you and another customer.
- Know the correct size—this will save everyone time and trouble.
- When gifts are to be shipped, have accurate addresses.
- Be patient with new and inexperienced salespeople.
- Carry as many packages as you can—this saves double handling.
- Come early in the day—we can give you so much better service before noon.

1,500 TELL HOW FAMILY GRAVES ARE NEGLECTED

Protest Misuse of Funds by Cemetery Boards.

Atty. Gen. George F. Barrett, who is investigating the financial status of Cook county cemetery perpetual care funds, announced yesterday that he has received more than 1,500 complains from citizens since the probe began Sept. 1.

"A favorite method of the cemetéries is to put in small print in their agreement or deed the words that 'the purchaser buys this lot subject to the rules, regulations, and by-laws of the cemetery now in effect and hereafter in effect,'" said Barrett.

"At the time of purchase there are no rules which impose any great restrictions upon the lot purchaser, but many years later, the cemetery usually being in control of one or two persons, a new rule or by-law is passed whenever those persons wish. These rules become more and more restricted against the lot purchaser."

Control Monument Purchases.

In some instances these rules provide for annual assessments, and if these are not paid the lot is forfeited and no further burials can be made until the assessments are paid, he said. This is done despite the fact that at the time the lot was purchased there were no such charges or assessments provided by the rules, he added.

"Some of these rules provide that only those persons selected by the cemeteries may take care of graves," said Barrett. "Others provide that tombstones and foundations must be purchased from the cemetery and not from an outsider. In some instances, rules provide that a lot owner cannot sell the unused portion of his lot to any one. Certain cemeteries send out bills and advise lot owners that graves have been charged with annual assessments for grass cutting and watering, regardless of whether the owner ordered it."

Funerals Halted at Gates.

Barrett said that one funeral was halted and not permitted to enter the cemetery until a widow paid $20 which had been assessed against her lot. Another person was not permitted to disinter the remains of his father and remove them from the father's lot to another cemetery until charges assessed against the lot were paid, he said.

Many persons have complained that despite their payment for perpetual care, and even annual care, the grass never is cut and no attention is given to the graves.

"There is no set fee for perpetual care," said Barrett. "Cemeteries extract from lot owners as much as they can. This usually is from $25 to several thousand dollars. The 'racket' consists chiefly in making charges against the lots and then using this unpaid bill as a club over the lot owners."

Stove Loan Swindler Freed from U. S. Prison

East St. Louis, Ill., Nov. 17 [Special].—Arthur O. Spoeneman, former president of the Enterprise Foundry company at Belleville, has been released from the federal prison at Terre Haute, Ind., and is living in St. Louis, Mo., it was learned today. He was sentenced to four years in prison in February, 1942, following his conviction in East St. Louis federal court of using the mails to defraud. Evidence showed that thru fictitious warehouse receipts for stoves which he used as collateral for loans, Spoeneman defrauded two Chicago mail order firms, two national banks, a steel company, and 280 of his own employes out of $350,000.

Mrs. Mamie Lander and Harold T. Landeryou.

Mrs. Eva Holland Hamilton of Chicago was one of the officers elected and installed yesterday by the general grand chapter of the International Order of the Eastern Star at closing ceremonies of its 24th triennial assembly, which had been in session since Monday in the Medinah temple. Mrs. Hamilton, whose new post is that of right worthy grand conductress, formerly was secretary of the general grand chapter board of trustees and had been a member of that governing body for nine years.

Elevated to the office of most worthy grand matron was Mrs. Mamie Lander of Orlando, Fla. Harold T. Landeryou of Omaha, Neb., was elected most worthy grand patron. The two, respectively, succeed Mrs. Effie Easton of San Francisco, Cal., and Charles Townsend of Casper, Wyo.

Others elected were: Mrs. Olga Philips, Hays, Kas., right worthy associate grand matron; R. Donald Stewart, Hariland, New Brunswick, right worthy associate grand patron; Mrs. Minnie E. Keyes, Washington, D. C., and Olivet, Mich., right worthy grand secretary; Mrs. Flora E. Campbell, Washington, D. C., right worthy grand treasurer, and Mrs. Abbie Hanson, Hammond, Ind., right worthy associate grand conductress.

800 AT HARVESTER PLANT STRIKE TO SPEED WLB CASE

Approximately 800 maintenance and other employes struck for three hours yesterday at the McCormick works of the International Harvester company in an effort to hasten a decision in a wage dispute before the war labor board.

The strikers, members of the United Farm Equipment Workers' union, CIO, earlier this year were awarded varying wage increases by the board, but the company appealed on the ground that the increase raised their wages close to the level of production workers.

The company contended that there should be a wider differential in the wage scale between production and maintenance employes, and said that if the increase were affirmed it probably would lead to demands for an increase for the production personnel and this in turn would help contribute to inflationary processes. The appeal is now under consideration.

Friend of the Yanks

[The Friend of the Yanks department will answer questions about the draft and military service, both in the daily columns and by mail, if stamped, self-addressed envelopes are sent with queries.]

M. L. M. writes: "I have two insurance cases I'd like an opinion on. One soldier, killed last April, named his mother principal beneficiary and his father contingent beneficiary. The mother and father are divorced and the father wants to know why he doesn't receive half of the premium payments. The other soldier named his mother and father as principal beneficiaries, sharing equally, and named a sister as contingent beneficiary, not stating any amount. What division would be made in the second case? Would it make any difference if the parents were separated or divorced?"

ANSWER: In the first case, the father would not be eligible to participate unless the mother died because, as contingent beneficiary, he may receive payment only after the mother's death. In the second case, the mother and father would receive payments equally, irrespective of separation or divorce. However, if one of the principal beneficiaries died, the survivor would have to share equally with any sisters or brothers surviving the insured.

C. A. J. asks: "With considerable experience in foundries, would I receive a rating in the navy? At present I am deferred, but I am expecting a reclassification card any day."

ANSWER: Men with general foundry experience such as molders, pattern makers, etc., can qualify for petty officer ratings in the navy's new ship repair units. You cannot enlist before you are reclassified unless you get a statement of availability from your employer. You should visit the navy recruiting office, 321 South Plymouth court, to discuss a rating. It is suggested you take with you several letters of recommendation as to your skill in the trade.

W. R. G. writes: "Four months ago, I appealed my 1-A classification and was given 3-D by a vote of 4 to 0 by the board of appeals. My draft board called me in a week ago and told me to get ready for induction Dec. 15. Can the draft board go over the heads of the appeal board and cut my deferment short? Will I have another chance to appeal?"

ANSWER: When you are reclassified to 1-A, you will have 10 days in which to appeal if you wish. The local board may rescind or shorten any deferment if it is determined that the conditions under which the 3-D classification was given have changed. For example, some of the border line financial dependency cases will have been eliminated by the increased allotments. Then, too, as the pressure for man power to meet draft quotas increases, there will be a tendency to go over the hardship cases again and again and weed out the less extreme cases.

NOTE: The navy department announced that discharge buttons will be available Nov. 30 for the navy, coast guard, and marine corps. Application may be made to any naval training station, receiving station, or hospital or by writing to the bureau of naval personnel, navy department, Washington, D. C., or commandant of the coast guard or marines, Washington. Certified or photostat copies of discharge papers are required.

U. S. FLYERS NEED GAS, ICKES TELLS PLANT BUILDERS

Winter fuel needs of the United States army air forces require the earliest possible completion of 100 octane aviation gasoline plants now under construction, Petroleum Administrator for War Harold L. Ickes declared in a letter delivered yesterday to every worker employed in such construction.

"This is not just another war job," Ickes wrote. "Men of the greatest air force in the world are depending on you as an individual for the fighting fuel they must have this winter to complete their job."

A copy of the letter was delivered to each of the 1,700 workers employed in the construction of the 100 octane plant the Standard Oil Company of Indiana is erecting in Whiting.

In Harmony!

Please let your imagination run rampant for a moment or two. You're sitting in a symphony hall. There in front of you is an orchestra of 100 or more pieces. There are the wood winds and brasses, and strings, drums, and timpani; and a harp and a piano. Each instrument is played by an artist—perhaps a virtuoso in his own right, because this is a great orchestra.

Now here comes the conductor! He takes his stand on the podium, and he has a "formula" before him—a score of music. Or, perhaps, he needs no score; he knows that symphony by heart. He raps for attention. Listen to the music—the harmony—that comes out of those instruments!

Forgive me, won't you, but this man on the podium is a "blender." He takes "ingredients"—different characteristics of instruments and men who play them—and blends them together into a harmonious whole—in proper sequence and "values" intended by the composer—and you have an end-product that arouses your enthusiasm.

And, hearing is only one of our senses; tasting is another. We have the most educated taste buds of any people on earth, because our standard of living is higher. Who, in America, doesn't know the taste of the best eggs, the best milk, the best butter and the best cuts of meat? Perhaps that's the answer to the lack of high seasoning and condiments and fancy sauces in our national cookery. Most of us prefer our viands au naturel.

Well, I am off the track. What's all this got to do with a symphony conductor, or blender? I wanted to make an analogy in spite of the knowledge that comparisons are sometimes dangerous. A skillful blender of whiskies also seeks the "harmony" of ingredients. His ingredients are many varied types of whiskies of different ages and dominant characteristics. He finds them in the Distiller's "Library" of Whiskies. Perhaps many of these whiskies are quite palatable by themselves, but the blender by deft, sequential "arrangement" can take a number of fine individual whiskies and blend them to create an end-product which may be infinitely superior in taste and aroma, mellowness and mildness, to any single "ingredient" he employs.

Rarely does the master blender actually know what you pay for your whiskey. He works objectively. But he does know that he is pleasing your palate when you continue to buy, time and time again—by name—the blend he created.

POLISH LEADERS DOUBTFUL ABOUT STALIN'S PLEDGE

Fear 'Free Vote' Will Be Meaningless Gesture.

Distrust of the kind of vote which Russia will permit in Poland and the Baltic states when and if she reconquers them was expressed by Polish-American and Lithuanian American civic leaders in a survey completed yesterday. Others took Premier Josef Stalin's promise of self-determination at face value, and were not greatly disturbed over the post-war boundaries question in eastern Europe.

"Two hours after the Russian armies move into the reconquered countries they will set up puppet governments among the Communistic elements," said Leon T. Walkowicz, president of the 20th district of the American-Polish council. "A vote among the people will be meaningless, because many Poles already have been deported from eastern Poland."

Believes Election Meaningless.

This deportation of Poles also was mentioned by Sigmund J. Stefanowicz, editor in chief of the Polish Nation, official organ of the Polish Roman Catholic Union of America. He doubted whether the people of Poland, even those who are left, would have a genuinely free election.

"When Russia takes Poland," he said, "she first will establish her rule, then after a while allow the people to vote."

He did not think this kind of an election would mean much.

Some Polish and Lithuanian leaders believe the influence of America and Britain will be a powerful factor in settling eastern European disputes.

Looks to Atlantic Charter.

"I am confident that Roosevelt and Churchill will fulfil the principles of the Atlantic Charter and help persuade Stalin to restore Poland's 1939 boundaries," said Albert F. Soska, for 27 years president of the Polish Alma Mater of America.

Leonard Simutis, president of the Lithuanian-American council, called the promise of the right to vote and to elect officials "a good step ahead."

"The chance to vote will give the Lithuanian people an opportunity to assert themselves," said Dr. Pius Grigaitis, editor of the Lithuanian Daily News, "but this privilege will be meaningless unless Lithuania's complete independence first is guaranteed."

He fears the voting may be under the aegis of the soviet union.

CHICAGO POLES PLAN PROTEST RALLY SUNDAY

A protest rally designed to bring to public attention the fate of the Polish children dispersed all over the world will be held next Sunday at 2 p. m. in the Polish Women's Alliance hall, 1309 North Ashland avenue, Jozef Staniewicz, Polish vice consul, announced yesterday. The rally has been organized by a committee of representatives of the leading Polish-American organizations in Chicago. Principal speakers will be Alojzy Adamczyk, member of the Polish National council in London and president of the Polish Labor unions; Dr. Francis X. Swietlik, dean of the law school of Marquette university, Milwaukee, and president of the Polish-American council, and Dr. Karol Ripa, consul general of Poland.

A Present for Michigan City, Ind.

A City Hall

Mrs. Catherine Barker Hickox of New York City, once known as the world's richest girl, will deed the $384,000 family residence of her father, the late John H. Barker, in Michigan City, Ind., for use as a city hall, Mayor R. C. Fedder announced yesterday.

Mrs. Hickox has agreed to issue a quit-claim deed, with reservations as to the use of the elaborate structure and grounds. The council will meet Monday night to ratify the plan, Mayor Fedder said. The city will spend about $12,000 in remodeling and will occupy the new quarters—in the midst of one of the city's best residential districts—about May 1.

The mayor will occupy a front room that formerly was Barker's library, which, by terms of the agreement, will continue to house a statuary group of three nude women. On the second floor, the city's health laboratory will occupy what has been an Italian bath, with tiled floor. The city never has had a city hall, but has rented space in the La Porte county courthouse.

TAX BILL STAYS AT TWO BILLION, ASSERTS GEORGE

More Would Shatter Morale, He Holds.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 17 (AP).—Chairman Walter F. George [D., Ga.] of the senate finance committee today torpedoed any treasury hopes for tax increases substantially above the 2 billion 142 million dollars voted by the house ways and means committee.

Saying that the pending 2 billion dollar measure would increase federal collections to a rate of 45 billions annually, George told a press conference he approves of the house bill in its present form and believes that further increases would "shatter business morale."

Makes Burden 55 billions.

The chairman, whose views carry heavy weight with other members of the committee and with the senate, estimated that enactment of the measure would raise the annual tax burden of the people to 55 billions when state, county and local levies are included.

"I do not think we can raise total revenue above the figure where it would be placed by the house bill," George said. "I don't mean that our economy would not stand additional taxes without breaking, but I am morally certain that it would shatter the business morale of this country."

Fears Peace Time Crack Up.

"If the war should end in March, a substantial number of the American people might be broke because of the tax liability for that year," he commented.

Already, he said, taxes are approaching the point where—unless there is a reduction in the cost of government—there will be little incentive for taxpayers to save anything out of what they make.

"If that happens," he said, "we will have superimposed on our economy a financial looseness that will be a severe strain on government."

FOUND SHOT TO DEATH.

A Circuit court jury yesterday returned a verdict for $15,000 for Arthur B. Schmidt, 26 years old, 1335 Calumet street, Calumet City, who sued the Alton Railroad company, charging malicious prosecution. Schmidt, who was represented by Atty. Victor G. He was arrested, indicted twice, and acquitted when tried in Criminal court April 30, 1942.

HITLER ADMIRER JAILED; CANCEL HER CITIZENSHIP

Admiration for the Hitler system cost Mrs. Meta Stohr, 42 years old, 5828 Winthrop avenue, her American citizenship yesterday when, on her written consent, Federal Judge William J. Mrs. Stohr refused to take an oath when placed on the witness stand by Assistant United States Atty. Francis J. McGreal, but affirmed that her written statement was true.

She is the owner of an apartment building in much bombed Bremen where she was born, and always will be a German, she said. She came to the United States in 1935, and was naturalized in 1937, but became a citizen only to aid her husband politically, she explained. MARIGNY DENIES NEW CHARGE ON GASOLINE CACHE Faces Court Again; Two Friends Guilty.

NASSAU, Bahamas, Nov. 17 (AP).—Alfred de Marigney, acquitted last week of the slaying of his wealthy father-in-law, was brought back into court today on charges of illegal possession of gasoline which figured in the murder trial.

De Marigny pleaded innocent and the hearing in Magistrate's court was recessed until tomorrow.

It was the same drums of gasoline which witnesses at De Marigny's trial for the murder of Harry Oakes said were taken to the son-in-law's Nassau home July 8, the day the baronet's beaten and burned body was found.

Visdelou Found Guilty.

Marquis Georges de Visdelou, De Marigny's close friend, pleaded guilty to similar charges and was released under £100 [about $420] bond. De Marigny was not formally arrested and was at liberty on his own recognizance.

Bruce Peinder and Dan Knowles, friends of De Marigny, joined him in pleading innocent to the charges, but John H. Anderson, a banker friend of De Marigny, pleaded guilty to a lesser charge of violating gasoline rationing laws by assisting in disposal of the gasoline and was fined £50 [about $210].

John Hutton, head of the gasoline rationing board, testified that none of the defendants had a license to handle gasoline and Flight Lt. Kenneth Williams, in charge of royal air force gasoline supplies, said one drum carried a number indicating it was part of a lend-lease supply.

Liable to 6 Months Term.

The offense with which De Marigny is charged carries a maximum penalty of six months imprisonment.

De Marigny explained today that the reason he did not go thru with his plan for remarriage Monday in a Catholic church to his pretty wife was that the legal age for marriage without parents' consent in the Bahamas is 21. Nancy is only 19.

'LITTLE HARLEM' REBELS; SNOOP SQUADS GIVE UP

'Drive' by La Guardia Called Whitewash.

New York, Nov. 17 [Special].—The detail of police snoopers which Mayor Fiorello La Guardia sent into Brooklyn's "Little Harlem" area to inquire about lawlessness—his rebuttal to a grand jury report blaming him for conditions there—struck a snag today when so many residents refused to answer personal and impertinent questions that a house-to-house canvass was abandoned as useless.

Meantime, civic leaders were bluntly impatient with the mayor's conduct in what is considered a serious matter and termed his action an attempt to whitewash himself of the grand jury's charges.

Following the jury's criticism of his laxity, La Guardia sent 420 detectives and plain clothes men into the Bedford-Stuyvesant area, not to give additional protection to the citizens complaining of terrorism, but to investigate the charges made by the jury.

Short 1,447 Policemen.

Moreover, the assignment, which grumbling policemen termed a "pencil and paper beat," was made at a time when there is an overall shortage of 1,447 officers and patrolmen in the police department.

Three hundred members of the detail, armed with mimeographed questionnaires, began ringing doorbells last night in carrying out the mayor's order, but by 2 p. m. today they had made so little progress it was decided to drop that part of the survey.

The questionnaires asked for such information as color, marital status, employer's name and address, relief status if any, place of worship and whether attendance is regular or irregular.

County Judge Franklin Taylor attacked by La Guardia and Police Commissioner Lewis J. Valentine for the snooping and accused the mayor of "playing to the mob to hold those districts in line for their support."

Altho this survey was given up, other phases of the mayor's inquiry were continuing. An inspection of the neighborhood's 348 bars and grills, 30 cabarets and 10 dance halls, to check on licenses and owners, was completed this afternoon.

Valentine Ready to Quit.

At police headquarters there was considerable discussion of a report that Commissioner Valentine, angered at his inability to use strict enforcement methods because of ham-stringing by the mayor, had been considering resigning when the situation was clarified by the grand jury action.

The jury said lawlessness and vice in the area was so rampant that school children have been beaten and robbed, that churches have been forced to suspend evening services because parishioners dare not venture from home after dark, and that prostitution is rife in the section. In laying responsibility in the mayor's lap, the jury said he failed "to invoke all the powers at his command and take all the steps necessary to prevent the lawlessness."

NO EXTRA GAS FOR CHRISTMAS TREE HAULING!

Washington, D. C., Nov. 17 (AP).—The nation's Christmas tree growers were confronted with transportation restrictions tonight.

The office of defense transportation instructed its motor transport district offices to deny truck operators extra gasoline for hauling Christmas trees.

It was emphasized there is no prohibition against hauling the trees. Trucks which have been used in previous years for that purpose, and which have enough gasoline from regular allotments, may be used. Previously the Association of American railroads announced that rail shipments of the trees would be limited to rough box cars.

SCHOOL STRIKE WINS SANCTION OF LEWIS' UNION

New York, Nov. 17 [Special].—John L. Lewis' United Construction Workers, part of the United Mine Workers, representing custodial employes in New York City's primary and secondary schools, has authorized a strike which, by shutting off the heat and halting cleaning and engineering work, could force the closing of one or all of the city's 800 schools tomorrow or any time thereafter, it was learned tonight.

Board of education regulations require that schools be closed if the room temperatures cannot be maintained at safe and comfortable levels. The union holds that school custodians are not war workers and do not come under the Smith-Connally act.

There are more than 3,000 custodial workers in the city's schools who are employed not by the board of education but by the custodians themselves, who are members of an AFL union. The custodians receive lump sums from the city out of which they must pay their own salaries and whatever wages are necessary to additional employes to keep the school running efficiently.

ASK TAX TO DRIVE OLD WHISKY OUT OF WAREHOUSES

OPA Plans Campaign on Liquor 'Gangsters.'

Washington, D. C., Nov. 17 (AP).—Twin moves to drive liquor out of warehouses and the "gangster element" out of the whisky business developed here today.

On top of senate approval of a $10,000 fund for a committee investigation of the business, the office of price administration said a growing "gangster element" is complicating the liquor price and supply problem, and Chairman Walter F. George [D., Ga.] of the senate finance committee announced that his group will consider a plan to impose excise levies on liquor held in bonded warehouses more than four years.

Would Force It Out.

Sen. Frederick Van Nuys [D., Ind.], chairman of a judiciary subcommittee named to investigate the liquor situation, has asserted that big distilling interests are creating a scarcity by holding good liquor off the market. He said taxes are evaded thereby, and consumers are compelled to resort to black markets.

George did not relate his tax announcement to the current reports of hoarded whisky, but imposition of the tax would have the effect of driving at least some liquor out for consumption.

Van Nuys said part of the shortage resulted from holding liquor in bonded storage in the hope of higher prices. The tax would make such storage expensive on older whisky.

Return of Hijacking.

An OPA official said his agency is working out plans to combat a criminal element which has seized on the shortage to stage an encore of the hijack and blackjack era.

The liquor industry, meanwhile, thru Owsley Brown of Louisville, Ky., president of the Distilled Spirits Institute, announced it welcomed the congressional investigation.

Brown's statement said:

"We of the distilling industry are convinced that the judiciary committee investigation will serve the double purpose of having the American consumer know the truth about the whisky shortage and in making clear that no other industry has coöperated more effectively with the government in the production of war essential materials. We are hopeful that the real truth about the dwindling whisky stocks will be revealed."

TWO EX-WIVES GET BEQUESTS; TWO GET NONE

Two former wives of Gerald A. Barnhart, Aurora insurance agent who died Oct. 21, share in his estate, but two other ex-mates were left nothing, admission of his will to probate disclosed yesterday. Barnhart, 40 years old, died of injuries suffered in an automobile accident.

Under the will, probated in the Kane county Probate court at Geneva, a son, Robert, receives an unspecified sum in personal property and life insurance. Barnhart's will then provided that the profits of his three insurance agencies in Aurora should be divided as follows: His son, 26 per cent; his father, Ora Barnhart, and his mother, Mrs. Blanche Barnhart, each 16 per cent, and two former wives, Mrs. Jeanette Kartheiser and Mrs. Maxine Ellington, 26 and 14 per cent, respectively.

Barnhart's will specified that "nothing whatsoever" should be bequeathed to his other ex-wives, Mrs. Dorothy Brennan and Mrs. Nellie Culver.

DUMPS COMBED BY BOOTLEGGERS FOR OLD BOTTLES

New York, Nov. 17 [Special].—As the liquor drought continues, bootlegging interests are gaining still another stranglehold on a badly crippled industry by gathering up millions of empty whisky bottles as a step in their organized campaign to flood the market with illegal spirits, spokesmen for the liquor industry reported today.

STORES KEEPING LIQUOR HIDDEN TO CONSERVE IT

Retail liquor stores have liquor but are keeping most of it out of sight to save it from "cruisers," Thomas Engel, president of the Illinois Liquor Stores association, said yesterday in his headquarters in Hotel Sherman.

"Cruisers are visitors from other states who go from store to store buying supplies they can sell elsewhere at a profit," Engel explained. "We are better off on supplies than any section of the United States, particularly New York, where there is a severe shortage."

GUARDS TESTIFY HAMMER SLAYER ACTS 'RATIONAL'

Five guards at the Illinois Security hospital at Menard testified yesterday before a jury and Judge Rudolph Desort in Criminal court that Paul Harrison, hammer slayer of three men and a woman more than a decade ago, conducted himself like a rational man.

Harrison is seeking his release from the institution on the ground that he is recovered from his mental ailments. If he is found sane, he is liable to prosecution for the killings.

Because they are not medical experts, the guards were limited to telling their observations of his day by day work.

A Message about Coffee

To the Coffee Trade and Coffee Consumers of America

Dear Friends:

THE NATIONAL COFFEE DEPARTMENT OF BRAZIL is pleased to announce that the new crop of Brazilian coffee has just been harvested. In the opinion of experts, this year's crop is one of the finest, if not the finest, in QUALITY, ever produced in Brazil.

A further reassuring statement from the National Coffee Department of Brazil is to the effect that necessary steps have already been taken to make this new, and finer, crop of coffee immediately available to American Importers in the ports of Santos, Rio de Janeiro, Angra dos Reis, Paranagua and Victoria.

In addition, the utmost is being done to permit buyers to make up their shipments, without delays, of all grades from the new crop.

As a result, Brazil is now in a position not only to supply the increasing demand for fine coffees on the part of the American Consumer, but further, to enable its customers either to increase the percentage of Brazils in their blends, or to maintain a high standard of quality in their hundreds of "Straight Brazil" or "Straight Santos" brands.

Cordially yours,
EURICO PENTEADO

An Invasion Force the Enemy Never Sees

As these thrusts become stronger . . . more widespread . . . the job of American railroads grows bigger and bigger. For backing up every attack is an unseen army . . . the men and women of American railroads. Toward every front, these workers must move an ever mounting flow of troops and supplies . . . guns, ammunition, food . . . all things our fighters need to assure Victory.

To this load is added the mammoth home-front job. War plants must be supplied gigantic quantities of raw materials, fuel. The folks at home need consumer goods to keep in working trim. Increasing numbers of war-service and essential civilian travelers must be carried.

This year American railroads already have handled five-million more cars of freight . . . nearly four times the passenger traffic . . . as in the same period of 1940. With less equipment, railroads are meeting increased demands with new methods . . . new efficiencies. Trains move faster. Each car carries a bigger load . . . makes more round trips than ever before. America can count on the railroads, like the Baltimore & Ohio . . . its 70,000 men and women . . . to carry this growing load . . . deliver the men and materiel necessary to win this war!

In the coming months, the railroads will be called on to carry an even greater load. Can railroads meet this increase? Yes! We will move the tonnage and personnel necessary to win this war!

Your milk supply is costing more to produce and distribute

THIS STATEMENT on behalf of milk companies in Chicago and suburbs who supply most of your Grade "A" milk, cream, and milk products, is to explain to our customers, to our employees, and to the farmers from whose herds comes our supply, why the milk companies are appealing to the Office of Price Administration for an increase in milk prices, based on increased costs of operations and the determination to insure a continued safe and ample supply.

Increased Costs of Operation

WAGES INCREASED. Average wages and earnings of our employees have increased at least 15% since January, 1941. Awards which include retroactive pay increases to May 1, 1943, and will further increase wages and overtime rates of our employees, are now waiting final action by the National War Labor Board.

RESTRICTED SALES TO CIVILIANS INCREASE UNIT COSTS. As most customers know, the War Food Administration has restricted the amount of milk, cream, and essential milk products which may be sold to civilians in order that the armed forces may be fed and Lend-Lease requirements met. Curtailment of civilian sales has brought about higher costs per unit which the milk companies can no longer absorb in the face of rising farm, labor, and other operating expenses.

MAINTENANCE COSTS INCREASED. Because of the scarcity of certain machinery, equipment, and supplies so necessary in the efficient handling of such perishable food as milk, replacements, if any, have had to be made with more costly, sometimes inferior, substitutes under War Production Board restrictions. Thus the continued use of present equipment under such strained operating conditions is causing maintenance expenses to mount steadily.

FARMERS' PRICES INCREASED. Prices paid farmers by Chicago milk dealers are fixed under Federal Order No. 41 by the Secretary of Agriculture. Under this Order the price paid to farmers for milk increased 18% in the year between September, 1942-1943. Also under Order No. 41, the price paid farmers for all Grade "A" milk purchased by dealers for resale as milk, cream or milk products, has increased more than ½c per quart in the past few weeks. This was caused by an increase in prices paid by certain Wisconsin milk condenseries not subject to OPA price ceilings. Unless OPA places on these condenseries restrictions identical to those imposed on Chicago fluid milk operators, or makes it possible for the operators to pass along this increase, they will lose the supply now required for Chicago and suburbs.

Prices at which milk, cream, and milk products (including butter and eggs), may be sold by milk companies are fixed by the Office of Price Administration. Milk companies are quite aware that OPA is endeavoring to keep down the price of items which make up the nation's cost of living. And because we have not been insensible to the part milk plays in the nation's diet, we have cooperated to the utmost in an effort to "hold the line." Yet, faced with restrictions and regulations at every turn in our operations, the companies are powerless to withstand the rising cost of raw products, material and labor.

We have reached the point where OPA and the Office of Economic Stabilization must assume the responsibilities for greatly increased costs which have developed under regulations of other Governmental agencies. Therefore, the dealers have applied to OPA to increase the price of milk and milk products to reflect the increase in farm prices, labor, and other operating costs which have developed since February, 1943, when OPA last fixed the resale prices of milk for the Chicago area.

Work by Day, Worry by Night —That's German Woman's Life

BY P. E. BRIQUET.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

GENEVA, Switzerland, Nov. 17.—Total mobilization of German women has disrupted home life but has failed in its aim of completely replacing men in war industries, according to Berlin correspondents of Swiss newspapers.

A total of 9,200,000 German women were engaged in civil work and war industries previous to the total mobilization order last spring. In January, 1942, 1,300,000 more women were employed than in 1939, with the female employment index rising from 100 to 250.

These high figures still are below present needs, but a Berlin report to the Swiss newspaper Basler Nachrichten said: "One only need visit the factories in order to realize that several million women have been mobilized during 1943. Tens of thousands of others have been called into state railways, street cars, underground railways, ticket offices, postal clerks, and mail service. There is hardly one profession where women, replacing men, have not taken up the main task."

Total war has invaded every nook and cranny of private life, dispatches say, and those not busy in war factories and civil service must care for children of working mothers or visit numberless families whose parents are always absent. The German women now stand in the midst of a "hard life."

This was started in 1935 with the institution of female work service, which enabled the calling up of many women in the rearmament industries. However, according to the Nazi plan, the climax should have been reached in 1942, and the number of women called would then be gradually decreased. Nazi ideology pretends that the woman's place is in the home, but the military situation has forced a different course.

The hard life of the German woman is described in the dispatches. She must rise at 5 to 6 a. m., eat a hurried breakfast, and then ride a street car to her factory, where she must stay till 4 or 5 p. m. before she starts on her long journey home. After a hard day's work she must stand in long queues in front of stores for her food supplies.

Tired in body, at home she must perform her household duties, for maids have long disappeared. She worries about her husband and sons at the front, who do not write, or sorrows over the dead. Over her head hangs always the fear of death in an air raid.

Benefit Aid

Miss Eleanor Lambrechts is one of the young women assisting with the annual party the Illinois Club for Catholic Women will give Saturday night at the Drake hotel for the benefit of the Mrs. Frank J. U. S. Well Fed in War Time, Expert Asserts

Some of your favorite foods may be hard to get, but on the whole civilian America is better nourished now than it was in the pre-war period, Frank L. Gunderson, executive secretary of the food and nutrition board of the National Research council, told the postgraduate assembly on nutrition in war time yesterday. The assembly is sponsored by the Institute of Medicine of Chicago and is meeting at the Stevens hotel.

"There is no nutritional crisis," Mr. Gunderson said, "and the probabilities are there will be none."

He explained that altho the supply of beef, lamb, and mutton for civilian use is lower, the supply of pork is about the same and the amounts of other meats and of poultries available are considerably greater. Moreover, eggs, fresh fluid milk, margarine, citrus fruits, tomatoes, white and sweet potatoes, dried beans, and peas are all available and are being eaten now in quantities greater than before the war.

"At present approximately 75 per cent of our total food supply is available for the nourishment of our 127 million civilians," Gunderson said. "The other 25 per cent is allocated to our own armed forces, to lend-lease, and as much as possible to relief uses abroad. . . . According to good authority the average protein consumption in the United States at present is nearly 50 per cent over the amount recommended as essential for good diets."

American pre-war standards of nutrition as reflected in selective service statistics were the subject of a paper by Col. Leonard G. Rowntree, chief of the medical division of the national headquarters of the bureau of selective service. Three and two-tenths per cent of a group of inductees examined during peace time were suffering from such nutritive disorders as beriberi, scurvy, pellagra, rickets, night blindness and underweight. Such deficiencies, Col. Rowntree explained, contribute to the severity of a great many other diseases and conditions of the eyes, teeth, vital organs, skin, blood, and nerves.

"If such diseases are included in estimates of nutritional deficiency, then the incidence of such defects becomes multiplied many times," he said. "Collectively, they represent an incidence of 43 per cent, including defects directly attributable to nutritional deficiency."

Women in War Work

By Kate Massee

Betty Eggenberger, who was one of the first Chicago young women to be sworn into the marine corps women's reserve, has been promoted to the rank of sergeant and is now stationed in the corps' accounting department in Washington, D. C. Before her enlistment last March she was attending Northwestern university.

Sgt. Betty Eggenberger.

Sgt. Eggenberger, who resided at 8 West Oak street, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Eggenberger of Kempton, Ill. One brother, Philip, is a marine on duty in the Pacific, and another brother, David, is an army lieutenant.

So urgent is the need for child care aids to assist professional workers in day nurseries thruout Chicago that the volunteer bureau of the office of civilian defense and council of social agencies has arranged with busy instructors to help new enrollees in the child care course to catch up with the current classes.

The day nurseries which need additional workers are those which care for pre-school youngsters while their mothers are employed. Volunteers are being trained by experienced faculties on both the south and north sides.

The classes meet Wednesdays and Fridays from 1 to 3 p. m. in the graduate school building of the University of Chicago, 5835 Kimbark avenue, and at the National College of Education in Evanston.

Women interested in the course may apply at either school and, when training is almost completed, should telephone Wabash 0528 for an interview about placement in a nursery.

The U. S. O. activities division of the Chicago B'nai B'rith Women's council has prepared an extensive program for the winter and spring. Members already have started a series of breakfast and supper parties at U. S. O. centers in the Chicago area, and further activities include three benefit parties to raise money to provide recreational facilities for men and women in uniform.

Next week 450 members of the council are scheduled to visit the Red Cross blood donor center. Many of these women have made more than three trips to the plasma bank. The organization delivers cakes and cookies daily to the Chicago service men's centers, army and navy hospitals, and U. S. O. clubs. Mrs. Adelle Jeffe is president of the council, Mrs. Daniel Miller is chairman of the U. S. O. committee, and Mrs. I. Ackerman is blood donor chairman.

The third company of Illinois WACs recruited in the current all-state campaign will leave Chicago Saturday to enter basic training in Florida. The new enlistees will stop over in Peoria as guests of Mayor Edward N. Woodruff that afternoon and participate in a parade. The WAC company from Camp Ellis also will be in the line of march.

Col. C. J. Otjen, commanding district 3 of the 6th service command, will address the company in Peoria. Mayor Woodruff and members of his civilian WAC recruiting committee also will speak.

[This department reports on women's war activities and answers questions regarding such activities.]

Thru the Looking Glass

The best tended, and therefore the prettiest, hair to be seen anywhere nowadays belongs to the college girls. It has sheen and elasticity. After doing some quiet but thoro research on the subject, we think we know why. It's because they brush and brush and brush some more every single day. They brush their hair while they study or listen to records and every night they give it the good old fashioned treatment of a hundred strokes before they do up the ends in flat pin curls.

Their favorite brush seems to be one with sunburst-set bristles, slanting outward from the center, that penetrates to the scalp, grips the hair, and rolls smoothly thru their waves. We can recommend it for all women. And, more earnestly perhaps than we have words to convey, we recommend the habit of using it.

The world is full of a number of unguents and ointments and treatments and lotions to help us court hair beauty, but it is our conviction that hair beauty starts at the scalp and that only deep, frequent brushings and massage give the scalp the stimulation it needs to function healthfully. In addition, brushing removes the surface dust and grime that obscures sheen.

Of all grooming aids, your hairbrush is one of the most important. Time was when the good brush was expensive; that is no longer true. You can buy excellent ones, that will give you good service for years, for a few dollars. The college girl pet, for example. It's the kind of brush that fits the hand and its bristles are the scientifically placed, springy type that help you to "exercise" your neglected scalp and give the hair strands the polishing they need. Your hair, no matter how drab, can take on gleaming beauty if you brush it vigorously and religiously. A test of two weeks will prove it; try it and see.

Sally Requests a Wheel Chair, Toys, and Yarn

[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.]

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

We feel sure our readers will be interested in helping to find simple puzzles and stories for a little girl of 10. She has experienced a prolonged period of hospitalization and will undergo an operation some time in the future. She finds time heavy on her hands, and she misses her younger brothers and sisters, who are too small to visit the hospital. If any reader has toys or reading matter which would help amuse this child this department will be glad to provide the address.

If it is at all possible to locate a self-propelling wheel chair, we would like very much to have it for Mrs. H., who recently had both legs amputated. She makes her home with her only son, his wife, and two small children. The family always had been self-supporting until her son was injured in a serious accident, resulting in paralysis from the waist down. After a long period of hospitalization, he is now being sent home. The family receives only a small income.

Perhaps other readers would be interested in sending yarn and crochet thread to Mrs. R., who lives in a small town in Illinois. Due to illness, she must spend much of her time in bed and finds crocheting and knitting very helpful in passing the time. Since she has two small sons and only a small income, she cannot afford to purchase much material. If any women readers have surplus material which could be sent to her, the name and address will be provided.

STAR Quality

Barbecued Star Ham—It's Extra Zesty!

A good cook gets extra zest into every meal. And that's why Barbecued Ham and Cabbage is a good cook's favorite! For a tangy sauce points up the fine flavor of hickory smoked ham.

Ask for the shank or butt half of a Star Ham weighing about 5-6 pounds. (Ample for a big dinner and three or four leftover dishes, too.) We recommend Armour's Star Ham because it's mellowed in fragrant hickory smoke . . . is deliciously tender.

Wrap ham in waxed paper and set on rack in open roasting pan. Roast in 325° F. oven 25 minutes to the pound. Remove paper and rind, score fat in squares and brush with this barbecue sauce:

Mix and heat together 2 tbsps. butter, 1 chopped onion, ½ tsp. pepper, 3 tbsps. sugar, 2 tsps. dry mustard, 3 tbsps. Worcestershire Sauce, 2 tsps. Tabasco sauce, 1 cup catsup, ⅛ cup vinegar and ¾ cup water.

Return ham to oven to glaze. Add second coat of sauce 15 minutes later. Serve with extra barbecue sauce and wedges of cooked fresh cabbage.

Chicago Symphony Will Play John Alden Carpenter Work

BY JUDITH CASS.

CHICAGOANS will be particularly interested in the program of the Chicago Symphony orchestra at its concerts tonight and tomorrow afternoon, for John Alden Carpenter's Symphony No. 2 will be having its Chicago premiere. Mr. and Mrs. Carpenter, who returned recently from their summer home at Pride's Crossing, Mass., will be among the guests tonight of Mrs. Charles H. Swift, who is entertaining at dinner before the concert for Mrs. Carpenter's former sister-in-law, Mrs. Zlatko Balokovic, and Mr. Balokovic, of New York. She is the former Joyce Borden of Chicago, and Mr. Balokovic, well known violinist, also is president of the American Croatian congress. Mr. and Mrs. Balokovic are staying with the Carpenters.

Mme. Désiré Defauw, whose husband will conduct the concerts, also will be a guest of Mrs. Swift. The Carpenter symphony had its world premiere last season in New York with the New York Philharmonic, Bruno Walter conducting. It is based on a quintet for piano and strings, and was written by Mr. Carpenter in Algiers in 1934.

Also entertaining at tonight's concert, at which the famed cellist, Gregor Piatigorsky, will be guest soloist, will be Mrs. William Sherman Hay. The Clarence Seipps and the Herman Felbers will be her guests.

On Today's Calendar.

Mrs. William B. Hale, Mrs. Ernest S. Ballard, Mrs. George F. Spaulding, and Mrs. C. J. A Decorative Bonnet for Evening Wear

Dramatic contrast is effectively achieved in this decorative evening hat. A white fuzzy fabric, resembling caracul, is deftly folded high on the headline, while around the lower edge and up the divided front is a spectacularly colorful band of handmade beadwork and sequins. It is available in a Chicago store.

Evening Hats Are Tiny and All a-Glitter

BY REA SEEGER.

Shimmering, shining headdresses to be seen at theater and dinner parties from now on until long after Christmas, are the newest evening hats. They are invariably small; many are high, to add inches to a silhouette; many are neat little tufts of feathers or ribbon, no more than six inches across. The most effective models are those lavishly shining with beads, sequins, and combinations of both. Sequins are used in from six to 12 different colors, the brighter the better.

Huge tear drop pearls, large round pearls, and iridescent sequins the size of a penny, in metallic greens, reds, golds, saffron, and amethyst shades are all combined in one hat. This effulgent trim flashes on white, pastel and black fabrics resembling fur and on fur, usually of flat, short haired texture as well as on velvet, satin, braid, and even wool crepe. All such glittering hats are smoothly fitted to the head, with dramatic height achieved thru folds and tucks of the materials.

Other evening hats are made of fluffy bits of feathers, marabou, ostrich coq, and combinations of each. Shell pink and white feathered trifles are the newest and most exciting. Some of the delectable pinks are spiked with bows and bands of cerise and a pale pink veil, while the snow white models feature long curving feathers way out front and down at the side.

Very smart all black evening hats accentuate a long flattering side line with flowers spangled with jet beads or black sequins. A tiny toque has a dozen or so short silk tassels festooned all over the top. No matter how you dress your hair, there are special curved hats to dramatize it.

White Collar GIRL

BY RUTH MAC KAY.

Letter to the Boss.

Dear Boss: The other day at lunch two of the office girls and I had a colossal idea. We know how busy you are. More than once lately you've scarcely glanced thru a pile of letters in your haste to sign them and get them in the mail. But that places quite a responsibility on the stenographers and one which we'd gladly assume if we only knew something about what we're writing.

Do you know what we discovered? Not one of the office girls has been out in the mill. "Slag" . . . "ingots" . . . "pigs"—these are just words to us. Sometimes when a letter isn't coherent it's because the substance of it doesn't mean anything to a willing but uninformed secretary.

Please, Boss—couldn't you arrange a short tour of the plant for us office workers? It wouldn't take much time and ultimately would result in time saved. If we could see the plant in operation and see some of the manufacturing processes about which we write letters it would be a big day! Besides, Boss, we're told we're doing 100 per cent war production [and we're willing to take your word for it] but wouldn't we glow with pride if we could see it with our own eyes . . . wouldn't we?

THE GIRL WHO ANSWERS THE BUZZER.

An Old Fashioned Christmas.

Service men in Alaska were asked what kind of Christmas entertainment they would like to have. Their answer was: "An old fashioned Christmas, with decorated tree, hard candy and popcorn just like what we had back home."

Thanks to the Dearborn chapter of the National Secretaries association [which coöperated with the U. S. O.], 70 pounds of shelled popcorn and 30 pounds of hard candy are en route to Skagway, Alaska. Just one more evidence of the thoughtfulness of Chicago white collar girls.

I Can Dream, Can't I?

I wish I were able
To take dictation from Gable.
I think it might be racy
To be secretary to Spencer Tracy.
To take a letter from Robert Young
Would be dreams undreamt . . . and songs unsung.
M——

Thrilling Movie Tells Story of Guadalcanal

GUADALCANAL DIARY."

Dear Miss Tinee:

You missed a nice time the other night when you were unable to attend the 168th birthday party of the United States marines, where the preview was given of "Guadalcanal Diary." But your scout had a grand evening and here is her report:

It is a thrilling piece, based on Richard Tregaskis' book by the same name. As the title indicates, it's a story of the heroic invasion and stand on Guadalcanal Island. Action under fire has its tense moments, with the landing units making breath taking leaps for cover, the bomb shelter where boys bare their hearts, and the final drive on the Japs. Yes, I know it's a war picture, and each grim reality fills minds with the horrors that were endured by these gallant marines, but the boys know where to find laughter, and all in the intent audience found their quota of it, too.

Typical of many boys in the fighting forces today is "Chicken," played by Richard Jaeckel. He's a sweet boy, amusing and convincing, and you take him to heart at first sight. The others in the cast are good, especially William Bendix and Preston Foster.

As the music at the close of the picture faded, a marine in the audience remarked: "Well, it was good, but I heard that when the marines moved out, they didn't march off like in the movie. No sir, they ran, pushed, and even tried to swim out to the ship. None of that slow stuff for them, for they—a lot of them—were going home." O. M. G.

Looking at Hollywood

By Hedda Hopper

Hollywood, Cal., Nov. 17.—H. Allen Smith, author of "Low Man on a Totem Pole" and "Life in a Putty Factory," has been batting his brains out in an office cell at Paramount. So far he's turned out three original story ideas, but his boss, Buddy De Sylva, hasn't told him whether they're good or lousy. In the meantime, he's got a reprieve and is doing additional dialog for Bob Hope and Bing Crosby in "Road to Utopia." . . . Don Hartman, writing "Treasure Chest"—a pirate period story with ships and things—for Bob Hope, says it could be the end of an era. Now that Madeleine Carroll is ready to return and do another picture, might I suggest, since she's done so much for the merchant marine, she come back and transfer her affections to pirates? Pirate Hope sure has a hankering for that blonde. Then, too, "My Favorite Blonde" cleaned up. . . . Bonita Granville checked into R. K. O. for "Are These Our Children?" and feels she's arrived. She's got Ginger Rogers' dressing room, and Charlie Koerner had welcomed her with flowers. . . . Ginger Rogers will be on hand for opening of "Lady in the Dark" in New York the middle of January.

Entertainment Plus.

The Humphrey Bogarts are off to New York. They will be joined by Zero Mostel and then a 10 week tour of overseas army bases. We love 'em—call them "the battling Bogarts." If they'll only put on a family row for the boys over there, it will be a knockout. . . . Item here that Patsy Mace was going to New York to wed Jack Warner Jr. was slightly premature. Patsy's going to New York all right, but to do modeling and perchance a play—with no thought, so far, of matrimony. . . . Winnie Sheehan, Eddie Rickenbacker, and the three writers of Rick's story staged quite a celebration in New York, with Mrs. Rick, the night the story was approved. Winnie expects to have it in work by Jan. 15.

Showmanship.

Since Mary Martin is the sensation of New York, it's kind of smart of Metro to send Lucille Ball, Kathryn Grayson, and a bunch of beauties on a personal appearance tour. Nothing gives you so much assurance as a real live audience that can laugh, cry, applaud, or howl, as the impulse hits 'em. . . . Nils Asther leaves for New York Theater Guild's "Jacobowsky and the Colonel"—Franz Werfel's story which Clifford Odets put into play form. Then what happens to Signe Hasso? That's become a closed corporation. . . . Since returning from Maurice Evans and Shakespeare for our men in Honolulu, Judith Anderson will play the mother in "National Velvet," which stars Mickey Rooney and Elizabeth Taylor. . . . Jane Darwell trained out for the big town to do "Suds in Your Eye." . . . Our kids could learn from "Grandma" Adeline De Walt Reynolds. Besides pictures, she did a radio audition—an evening in grandma's home. She brought down the house when she announced she was going to learn to ride a horse so she could do a western—she wants to be a pistol packin' grandma! That one never misses a trick anywhere.

Magic Lingers On.

Orson Welles ordered a little memento made up for Marlene Dietrich. It's a crystal ball, held up by gold hands, set in a base of black magic. Aggie Moorehead gets gold winged victory earrings. Rita Hayworth ordered for Orson a replica of his circus wagon—Orson Welles' Wonder Show—in gold cuff links. They're museum pieces, with exact words on the links that he had on the wagon. Everything works, including wheels. Everything, that is, except the window with Orson's head stuck out, saying, "Obediently yours." Nothing was ordered for Rita.

SYNOPSIS: At the funeral of Stuart Lane, homesteader, the appearance of Austin Reynolds, a big cattleman and owner of the Triangle R, is resented by a group of rustlers, who accuse him of ambushing Lane. Jess Blackburn tries to incite the men to violence, but Neal MacGowan, who plays a lone hand, implies Blackburn is swayed by a personal grievance, and averts trouble. Reynolds is not grateful, and accuses Neal of being the leader of the cattle thieves and outlaws. Neal is regarded as a renegade by other cattlemen. From Janet Lane, now father as well as mother to her young brother and sister, Neal learns Lane had no personal enemies, but on returning from Squaw creek, where he had cut a box elder, he was unusually absorbed.

INSTALMENT IV.

TRACING TRACKS.

A very different kind of young woman from Janet held the center of Neal's meditations, a longlimbed young sylph whose provocative and mocking glances courted excitement and adventure. All he wished was to make life easier for Janet.

He rode thru the knee high grass to the creek and followed its sinuous bank into the hills. There had been no rain since Stuart Lane had driven a wagon up the little-used road and in places the wheel tracks were still plain. The rider picked them out 20 times in the first five miles. As he got deeper into the foothills it became more difficult to read sign on a path getting continuously more rocky.

More than once he lost the tracks, but at each draw where Lane might have left the creek Neal swung from the saddle and made a careful examination of the ground. At the third attempt he found the place where the homesteader had swung to the left into a small mountain park skirted by a rim rock. Here Lane had evidently left the wagon and had ridden up a steep slope. The torn sage showed where later the trunk of the box elder had been snaked down to the wagon by the horse.

He rode up the shoulder and reached the summit by way of a break in the rim rock. A plateau stretched before him upon which a few cattle were grazing. From the farther edge of the plateau the terrain rose to the rocky defile known as Rustlers' Gap.

Since he was a cattleman Neal rode close enough to the grazing stock to read the K-B branded on their flanks. The spring rains had helped the grass and the cows looked plump and sleek. Not far from them his glance fell on the stump of the box elder Stuart Lane had chopped. It had to be the same one, since here and there signs showed where the trunk had been dragged along the ground recently.

MacGowan found another sign, the tracks of four horses heading for Rustlers' Gap. He looked at the hoof marks a long time, his thoughts sweeping over possibilities. The Sheridan stage had been held up and the shotgun messenger killed the day before the murder of Lane. Either four or five men had been in the robbery, according to the two passengers and Hank Baldwin, the driver. These might be the tracks left by the bandits. If so, they must have been passing pretty close to the time when the homesteader was snaking the box elder back to his wagon. He might have seen and recognized them.

Why go all round Robin Hood's barn to find another cause for the death of Lane when the logical one stood out like a sore thumb? Detectives of the Cattlemen's association had within a few months shot down two rustlers and left pinned to their breasts papers upon which the words Cow Thieves Beware had been roughly printed. On Stuart Lane's coat the same warning had been found. The homesteader was, of course, no rustler, but he was more in the way of two or three of the big ranchers than any brand blotter.

Neal hesitated for several minutes. Then he turned and followed the prints toward the Gap.

Before he had ridden a quarter of a mile he made a discovery. One of the riders had been chewing tobacco.

"If the gent is traveling on an iniquitous errand he oughtn't to sign his name all along the way, Keno," he drawled to his horse.

The Gap was a narrow pass strewn with boulders thru which horses could pass only in single file. In front of it was a table-shaped crag that completely concealed the opening. From the summit of the defile Neal looked down on a panorama so rough and torn that few travelers ventured into it.

MacGowan guessed where the tracks led. He wound down to a canyon which brought him to a pocket almost hidden by a thick growth of aspen. A path led thru the young growth to a grassy flat upon which horses grazed. Close to the high rock wall inclosing the little park nestled a one-room log cabin.

He hailed the house and a man showed in the doorway with a rifle in his hands.

"'Lo, Dunn," he said. "Been checking up on some strays."

The K-B man shook his head smilingly. "Not here. But since I was close to the Gap——"

"You figured you would drop in and say hello," the lanky rustler jeered.

Jess Blackburn's bulky body joined Dunn in the doorway. Together they blocked it. Neal wondered if there was something in the cabin they did not want him to see.

"I wanted to ask you a question. The day before he was killed Stuart Lane drove up Squaw Creek to cut a box elder to use in his smoke house. He mentioned to his daughter that he had met Reynolds. I'm wondering if they had some kind of a quarrel. Any of you happen to see Reynolds or Lane that day?"

"What made you think we might have seen them?" Dunn inquired.

"I didn't say I thought so," MacGowan replied mildly. "I asked if you did."

Blackburn's gaze found a flat rock about three yards from the door and he spattered it with tobacco juice. "So Lane told the girl he met Reynolds and had a row with him," he said. "What else did he tell her?"

"He did not mention any trouble. I guessed they might have had some."

"Where did they meet?"

"I don't know. Maybe on Squaw creek. Does it matter where?"

The big outlaw slid a look at his lean swarthy companion. "Not to us, it don't. Far as I know none of the boys was out of the Gap that day."

Neal had reason to know that was a lie, but he did not say so.

An irritable voice from the cabin called querulously. "If that's the doc don't keep him gabbin' out there."

"Nels sick?" asked the owner of the K-B.

Sulkily Blackburn gave information. "Got throwed from a bronc and busted an ankle."

Dunn added detail. "The broomtail put its foot in a gopher hole and had to be shot."

"I've seen that happen two-three times," the ranchman, admitted. "I reckon Nels wasn't too unlucky at that. He might have been put out of business instead of the horse. Well, so long, boys. Be seeing you in Sunday school."

"If you get anything more on Reynolds be sure to let us know," Blackburn blurted out. "I'll join a party any time to rub out that fellow."

Children Also Teach Parents Thing or Two

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1943: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

Naturally enough, I suppose, we grownups think of ourselves as able to teach our children everything they need to know.

We are older; we have lived longer and experienced more, and are, we think, entirely mature in our attitude toward life. For all those reasons we feel ourselves wiser, and so in a position to teach, to sit in judgment, to mete out praise and disapproval as the occasion and their behavior seem to demand.

But how many of us believe our children have anything to teach us? How many of us are aware that we can learn many things from our children: their honesty, their frankness, their simplicity, their sense of justice, their closeness to nature and to many spiritual truths? Some of us do. And once in a while a mother or a father will put that awareness into words.

"I try to teach my child, but I find that he teaches me many things: joy in greeting a new day; living in the present with little thought of past or future; responding eagerly to whatever comes his way, and accepting with fairly good grace the rules and regulations that are imposed upon him. These are only a few of the qualities of children.

"You are right; children need the understanding, companionship, indulgence, and love of their parents. But how the parents need children! What a bunch of long-faced stiff-necked men and women some of us would soon become without them."

Contact with youth tends to make us more flexible, more alive in many ways. This is especially borne home to those who have had children and young persons in their homes, and then find themselves without them.

Fresh Spinach Plentiful Now; Serve It Often

[Copyright: 1943: By The Chicago Tribune.]

There's a lot of spinach around these days, enough for salads, steamed spinach, spinach ring, and a lot of other good dishes. Spinach is one of the important leafy green vegetables which rank so high on our list of foods needed every day for good nutrition.

The spinach we get these days is pretty well washed when we buy it. But more thoro washing, by lifting the leaves up and down in several changes of water, is necessary when we get the vegetable home. A careful inspection of each cluster of leaves is a good idea, too. To cook spinach the healthful way, steam it, or cook it in a covered kettle, using only the water which clings to the leaves after washing. As soon as it has wilted the spinach is ready to serve. Color should be really green, not olive drab. Add salt, pepper, perhaps a spoonful of bacon drippings, and a little vinegar before serving.

I can't think of a better salad than a bowlful of coarsely shredded spinach, wilted with hot bacon dressing. A man I know consumed two or three large servings of such a salad recently, and then asked "What kind of salad was that? It was swell!" Informed that he'd been eating spinach, he exclaimed in surprise "Why, I hate spinach!"

Spinach Salad, Hot Bacon Dressing.

Wooden bowl of shredded spinach
4 strips bacon
4 green onions, with tops, chopped
¼ cup vinegar
2 teaspoons sugar
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon black pepper

Shred spinach with scissors. Cut bacon with scissors into small pieces and cook gently until crisp. Push the cooked bacon aside in the pan and add onion, cooking about a minute. Add vinegar, sugar, salt, and pepper. Heat thoroly and pour over prepared spinach. Toss and serve at once. Dressing may be made ahead of time, and heated just before the salad is to be served. But do not let spinach stand more than a few minutes with the dressing on it. Tarragon or wine vinegar enhances the flavor of the salad.

The dressing may be made with bacon drippings alone when you do not wish to use strips of bacon.

Cooked spinach makes attractive nests for baked or poached eggs. Grease muffin cups if you want eggs baked in spinach nests. Line the cups with well seasoned cooked spinach. Break an egg into each, and add a tablespoon of cream. Bake in a 350 degree oven until egg is set. Serve plain, sprinkled with parmesan cheese, or covered with white sauce, cheese sauce, or tomato sauce. This is a good luncheon dish for school children.

Spinach Ring.

[Serves six.]

3 cups chopped cooked spinach
2 tablespoons fat
1 small onion, minced
½ cup soft bread crumbs
2 cups thick white sauce
3 eggs, separated
Salt, pepper, paprika

Cook onion in fat several minutes, then combine all ingredients but eggs. Beat yolks slightly and add. Beat whites until stiff, and fold into well seasoned spinach mixture. Turn into greased ring mold, place in pan of hot water and bake 30 to 40 minutes, or until firm, at 375 degrees. Unmold on a hot platter.

To make thick white sauce, use ⅓ cup flour, blended with ⅓ cup margarine, ½ teaspoon salt. Add 2 cups milk gradually and stir until smooth and thick.

Cream of Carrot Soup.

[Serves five.]

2½ cups sliced carrots [1 large bunch]
½ cup chopped celery, leaves and stalk
7 thin slices onion
2½ cups water
1 teaspoon salt
4 cups scalded milk
2 tablespoon margarine, melted
2 tablespoons flour

Simmer carrots, celery, and onion in the water, about 30 minutes. Add salt and drain off liquid, boiling down to about ½ cup. Force vegetables thru coarse sieve or ricer. Meanwhile add milk to margarine and flour, blended together and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Add vegetables and liquid and reheat thoroly.

According to Culbertson

[Copyright: 1943: By Ely Culbertson.]

Perhaps the best thing to be said for duplicate bridge [and there are many good things that might be said] is that "big card-holders" have no advantage over their less fortunate brethren. In duplicate contests, aces and kings take back seats; it is sound bidding and play that counts. By way of illustration I cite this deal.

South, dealer.
Neither side vulnerable.

At two tables of this match-point duplicate game the powerhouse South hand was held by players who were twin souls in the matter of optimism. Swept off their feet by the magnificent array of top cards, and choosing to ignore the question of losers, both of these players opened the bidding with the sensational, if not sound, call of six no trump! Other Souths, correctly enough, were satisfied with the more modest and sufficiently inviting bid of three no trump.

One of the optimists promptly proved that his eyes were bigger than his skill. Getting a spade lead from West, he won, cashed the ace and king of diamonds, then led to the diamond queen. He was thoroly disgusted when the suit failed to break, altho what good that break would have done him [except to save an unimportant undertrick] is more than I can say. Even with four diamonds, he would have taken only 11 tricks.

The other optimist was made of sterner stuff. He permitted East to win the first trick with the spade king! That little maneuver, all by itself, was sufficient to swing the outcome from failure to success. East returned the heart jack, not that it mattered. South won and cashed his two spade tricks. Immediately, East was put under pressure: he could not discard twice without wrecking his own hand and his side's chances. Actually, it did not make any difference what he let go, if declarer shifted his attack to meet East's discards, but as it happened he chose to give up one club and one diamond. Thereupon declarer ran four diamond tricks, and East was squeezed again! If he discarded a heart, declarer would cash four heart tricks; if East surrendered another club, declarer would ditch the heart six and take the fulfilling trick with the club eight.

Wedding News.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Daniel Lawlor of East Scott street announce the marriage last Sunday of their daughter, Mary Elizabeth, to Ensign Dudley Riordan Sullivan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Timothy P. Sullivan of Providence, R. I. The ceremony took place at 5 p. m. in the Holy Name cathedral with the Very Rev. Msgr. Daniel F. Cunningham officiating, and a reception followed at the Woman's Athletic club.

The former Miss Lawlor and the young naval officer met in Chicago while he was attending the naval reserve midshipmen's school at Northwestern university, from which he received his commission in 1942. Young Mrs. Sullivan attended the convent of the Sacred Heart and was graduated from Pine Manor. Ensign Sullivan is a graduate of Brown university and studied law for two years at Harvard. He and his bride have gone east, where she will remain until he returns to active duty, after which she will return to Chicago.

Here and There.

There has been a round of small parties for Mrs. Robert Schwab, who is here from Dixon, Ill., with her young daughter, Ellen, to visit her parents, the Irving Florsheims.

Mrs. Herbert R. Keith and her daughter, Carol, hope to join Lt. [j. g.] Keith in Seattle, Wash., as soon as he is settled at his new navy post. Meanwhile they are staying with Mrs. Keith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Vested, on the south side.

Mrs. James T. Van Voast has returned from the west coast to spend the winter with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Horace E. Fritschle of Sheridan road. Before her marriage last December in Miami, Fla., she was Miss Marie Fritschle. Lt. Van Voast, a graduate of Yale university, is the son of Dr. and Mrs. R. A. Van Voast of Cincinnati, O., and Lake Worth, Fla.

William W. Clore, on duty with the army air forces in India, has been promoted to a captain.

On the Aisle

By Claudia Cassidy

Jeanette MacDonald.

Devotees of le jazz hot will have a feast next month when the afternoon of Dec. 12 brings Hazel Scott in piano recital at Orchestra hall, and the night of Dec. 19 lures Duke Ellington and his orchestra to the Civic Opera house. Miss Scott will be challenging her rival, Dorothy Donegan, on the home front, while Mr. Ellington will present to Chicago the kind of music he recently played at New York's Carnegie hall. The evening of the 12th, by the way, has been snared by Harry Zelzer for Jeanette MacDonald's Civic Opera house recital, postponed from last Sunday because of the star's illness. Tickets for the original date will be honored without necessity of exchange.

Julia Thecla, described by some connoisseurs as the Degas of modern ballet, will design the setting and some of the costumes for Berenice Holmes' "Pandora," one of the four productions to be presented at the début of the Ballet Repertory company at the Eighth Street Theater Nov. 29. Miss Thecla was discovered at an outdoor art show, and recently had a prosperous show of her own at the Art institute.

"The Waltz King" will call it a run at the Civic Opera house a week from Saturday night, and plans to move on to Detroit in its quest of a season. Except for concert bookings, the big house probably will be dark until Ballet Theater arrives at Christmas, with Olsen and Johnson set to follow Jan. 3 in "Sons O'Fun."

There was a groping instant of bewilderment in the music department yesterday when a telephone voice wanted to know where Paderewski would be playing his cello. The voice was quite satisfied with Piatigorsky, on deck tonight with the Chicago Symphony orchestra, playing the Montagnana he calls "The Sleeping Princess" because he rescued it from shelf space in an unused collection.

Adrienne Gessner is disturbed because I credited Elizabeth Neumann, of "Tomorrow the World," with creating the role of Bertha in "Claudia," and no wonder. Miss Gessner did that job herself. Miss Neumann was in the southern company, which may be why she looks like such a good cook.

Then there was the man who walked out of the opening of "Oklahoma!" singing something that sounded like this:

O, what a wonderful show,
O, what a time I've been havin',
Sorry I have to go.

RECIPE
KNOX SPREAD
Make ½ lb. Spread with ¼ lb. of Butter
1 teaspoonful Knox Gelatine
1 tablespoonful cold water
¼ pound butter
¼ teaspoonful salt
½ cup fresh milk or evaporated milk
1. Soften gelatine in cold water. (If fresh milk is used, soften gelatine in 1 tablespoonful milk, instead of cold water.) Dissolve thoroughly over hot water.
2. Cut butter into small pieces and heat over hot water until soft enough to beat, but do not melt the butter.
3. Add dissolved gelatine and salt to the milk (having milk at room temperature). Gradually whip milk into butter with a Dover (or rotary) egg beater or electric mixer, until milk does not separate. Add coloring, if desired.
4. Pack into dish or container and place in refrigerator until hard. Keep in refrigerator when not in use.
Note: To make 1 lb. spread with ½ lb. butter, follow same directions, but double ingredients called for in ¼ lb. recipe.
Note: The above recipe may also be used with Oleomargarine, as well as with ½ butter and ½ Oleomargarine combined.

LET US GIVE THANKS
Thanks that we have the men, the materials, the faith and the will to fight to a finish a war we did not make but that we are determined to win . . . Thanks that our forefathers bequeathed us a way of life that we will defend to the limit of our strength . . . Thanks that on this most meaningful of American holidays, in the midst of war, there is food for all, for our sons in foreign lands, for those of us at home, and even for the peoples we have helped to liberate.

TURKEY STUFFING
5 quarts bread cubes
½ cup Certified Margarine, melted
1 tsp. sage
½ cup minced onion
2½ tsp. Wilson's B-V dissolved in ¼ cup boiling water
4 Clear Brook Eggs, beaten
Milk or water to moisten
Mix well and stuff into cavity after seasoning inside of bird well with salt and pepper. If a fluffy stuffing is preferred, omit eggs and milk (or water) and increase margarine to 1½ cups. (Enough for a 14-lb. turkey.)
Cook and mash the sweet potatoes, make the sherbet and pie on Wednesday. Ever try this? For each cup of mashed sweet potatoes, add 1¼ tbsp. Wilson's Clear Brook Butter or Wilson's Certified Margarine, ½ tsp. salt, ½ tsp. grated orange rind, 1 tbsp. brown sugar, 3 tbsp. orange juice. Place in baking dish and sprinkle with brown sugar and paprika. Cover and bake 30 min. in a moderate oven, 350° F. Remove cover and brown. An extra-special partner to turkey, this!
Add Something Extra
To lift pumpkin pie, way, way up, add chopped walnuts to the pumpkin mixture. Super! And as man to woman, let me get a word in here about cheese with pie. It's an old American custom worth fighting for and I hope you aren't skimping on points when it comes to Wilson's Certified American Cheese.
Better prepare plenty of cauliflower, for here's a trick that makes it a "second helping" dish. Add half a clove of garlic to 4 tbsp. Wilson's Certified Margarine (melted), swish it around and pour over cauliflower. Does Something!

KEEP 'EM FIGHTING

ILLINOIS DADS GAIN LITTLE BY CHANGE IN DRAFT

Supply of Childless Men Virtually Exhausted.

Agreement of senate and house conferees on a compromise draft measure designed to prevent calling of fathers until available childless married men have been inducted will have little effect on Illinois fathers.

Illinois draft boards virtually exhausted their supplies of childless married men before induction of fathers was permitted last month and boards thruout the state have been ordering fathers for induction.

At most, national selective service officials said, approval of the congressional compromise can mean a delay of only from 30 to 60 days for fathers. Those already ordered for induction are not affected by the measure.

Dependency Reason Eliminated.

Change in draft regulations eliminating dependency as a reason for deferment, except in extreme hardship cases, has resulted in reclassification of all registrants who were in 3-A by reason of family status and in 3-B by reason of dependency and activity.

Reclassified status of registrants now is determined solely upon contribution to the war. Men in 2-A are those considered necessary "in support of the war effort" and those in 2-B are those considered necessary in war production. Government employes may fall in either classification and registrants engaged in agriculture are put in either 2-C or 3-C, according to family status.

Employers Are Confused.

With increasing numbers of family men being reclassified 1-A, employers who have had such men's services by reason of family status rather than their contribution to the war are becoming confused over obtaining deferments for necessary men.

Some months ago employers were asked to file manning tables and replacement schedules showing what men were necessary to their production and how much time would be required to train replacements.

In conjunction with the tables, employers had the privilege of filing form 42-B telling of the registrant's occupation and its necessity and requesting local boards to notify them 15 days in advance of the reopening of a registrant's file for possible reclassification.

Form 42-A Important Evidence.

When employers have received notice that a necessary man is about to be considered for reclassification they should at once file form 42-A for those workers for whom deferment is desired. The sworn statement of an employer on form 42-A is the most important evidence on which local boards base occupational deferments.

Draft regulations provide specifically that, when a local board receives a form 42-A bearing certification by the employer under a replacement schedule, it will consider the form as new information and will therefore reopen and consider anew the classification of the registrant unless an order to report for induction already has been mailed to such registrant.

Altho boards must reconsider a draft registrant for deferment upon receipt of Form 42-A they are not bound to grant a deferment.

The maximum time for which deferment may be granted to registrants for occupational reasons is six months. At the expiration of this period the employer may request an additional deferment.

When a local board is of the opinion that information accompanying a request for reopening a registrant's classification does not present any new facts, or if new facts presented would not justify a change in the registrant's classification, the board will not reopen the case and is required only to advise the registrant of its decision in writing.

Registrants have 10 days after receipt of notice of classification to appeal.

NEW DRAFT RULE MAY PUT 20,000 IN LIMITED SERVICE

Reclassification of 20,000 Illinois men, rejected for army service because of inguinal hernia, to permit their induction for limited assignments, was predicted yesterday after receipt of new war department orders here.

Inguinal hernia, according to Lt. Col. E. Mann Hartlett, state selective service medical director, has ranked second as cause for rejection at the Chicago induction station, being exceeded only by mental unfitness.

Acceptance of men so reclassified will tend to defer the induction of fathers, it was said, but Col. Hartlett said he had no information on what percentage of such men the army is willing to receive each day.

YANK ON TRIAL IN BRITISH GIRL'S MYSTERY DEATH

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 17.—Sgt. Michael Pihosh of Cleveland, O., today went on trial before a United States court martial in the death under mysterious circumstances of Louisa Price, 18 years old, of the British auxiliary territorial service.

The uniformed body of the girl had been found in undergrowth near a pavilion in Shropshire the morning after she had attended a dance with United States soldiers on Sept. 8. Nearby were found a khaki handkerchief, a khaki tie, a brassiere, a white handkerchief, and four stones.

Charged with Murder.

Pihosh, 22 years old, a military policeman attached to the United States 8th air force, later was arrested and charged with premeditated murder. It was contended that he killed the girl by striking her head with a stone. Pihosh pleaded not guilty.

Preliminary to hearing the testimony of some 30 witnesses, members of the court martial visited the death scene today at the request of counsel for Pihosh. The accused soldier walked between two military policemen while a detective sergeant pointed out to the court martial where the body and items of apparel were found.

Secrecy Complaint Refuted.

Meantime, it was learned at United States army headquarters here that a complaint by the British press that the army concealed the ultimate disposition of criminal cases involving American soldiers was not in agreement with the facts, at least in the case of Lee Davis, Negro soldier, recently found guilty of murder and rape by a court martial and sentenced to be hanged.

Confusion of the press resulted, it was explained, from the delay necessary for a reviewing board to decide whether to approve or change the findings and the sentence of the court martial.

MISSING BOY, 6, FOUND WITH HIS GRANDMOTHER

Arthur Duffy, 6 years old, the object of a court fight for his custody, is in the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Louis Borkowski, 2663 Nelson street, Cragin police said they learned yesterday. The child's mother, Mrs. John Duffy, 2742 North Laramie avenue, had reported that Arthur disappeared Monday. Arthur, born out of wedlock to Mrs. Duffy, was reared by her parents, the Borkowskis, as their son. After the boy's mother was married, the Duffys obtained adoption papers last Sept. 26. This precipitated the custody battle between the Duffys and the Borkowskis.

CAPACITY CROWD SEES C. Y. O. BOXING FINALS

NOTRE DAME EXPECTS 50,000 FOR SEAHAWK BATTLE

WISCONSIN PIN ACES VIE FOR ALL-STAR BID

Two Bowl for Place in Tribune Meet.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Wisconsin, one of the more hale and hearty centers of American bowling, has narrowed its battle for a place in the third annual All-Star National match game tournament here next month down to two men, according to an announcement by Charles Nevada of the Milwaukee Journal, which has been sponsoring the Badger trials since October.

The Wisconsin finalists are Joe Dumesic of Kenosha and George Andro of Marshfield, Joe and George already have completed one-half of their duel for the top Badger role in the Big Show, to be conducted by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., and the Bowling Proprietors' Association of America over the alleys of the Auditorium Service Men's Center from Dec. 4 thru 12.

Sixteen District Winners.

Last week, Dumesic won the first seven game block between the two on his home drives in Kenosha. Saturday night Joe will attempt to retain his advantage over Andro in the final set over the Hub City drives in Marshfield.

Dumesic averaged 206 in the first block against Andro. Furthermore, the slim Joe has averaged better than 196 in 19 games for the final phase of the Journal tourney. Andro's average was 190.

The Journal tournament brought together 16 district bowling champions for the finals in Milwaukee on Nov. 6 and 7, and from those 16 only Dumesie and Andro remain.

Several stars fell by the wayside in the Milwaukee trials and the finals. Bert Barkow, Milwaukee city titleholder, was eliminated in the first round of the finals. Prior to his defeat, Rudy Pugel, Pete Marino, Edgar Koch, and John [Lefty] Mihlsimer had lost.

Tomorrow Is Deadline.

The Chicago district preliminary phase is nearing its conclusion, tomorrow night being the deadline for the five local centers. For several weeks each of the five sites has been carrying the names of the eight high scorers on permanent scoreboards. Every bowler in Chicago is eligible to compete in these trials, with the top eight men in each establishment after tomorrow night's bowling going into round robin competition.

These five round robins will be held this Saturday and Sunday, and Saturday, Nov. 27, and Sunday, Nov. 28. Each of the eight men in each of the five plants will meet each of his seven rivals in four game blocks. These blocks must be rolled at 2 p. m. and 7 p. m. this Saturday and Sunday and on the 27th, and the seventh and final block at 2 p. m., Sunday, Nov. 28.

Can Use Substitute.

If a qualifier is unable to be present, he may send a substitute for two of the seven blocks, said substitute's performance to count on his record in the final standings. The fee for entering the three game, total pin series now transpiring is $2 and bowling. The two leaders in each of the five round robins will gain places in the main event in the Auditorium center next month.

The five qualifying sites are: Bowling Lanes, 5221 Broadway, Ralph Olsen and Jack Samuelson; Cascade, 3825 West Madison street, Lloyd Wevang; Garden Recreation, 4074 Milwaukee avenue, Lyman Bolger and Michael Hechinger; Monte Carlo, 2263 North Lincoln avenue, Al Long, and Rose Bowl, 11517 South Michigan avenue, Paul Young.

Twinkle, Twinkle, Bowling Stars—

And twinkle they will when the third annual National All-Star Bowling tournament for the individual match game championship rolls around. The dates are from Dec. 4 thru Dec. 12 and many stars of the tenpin firmament will compete on the lanes of the Auditorium Service Men's Center during those nine days and nights. Don't miss bowling's No. 1 show!

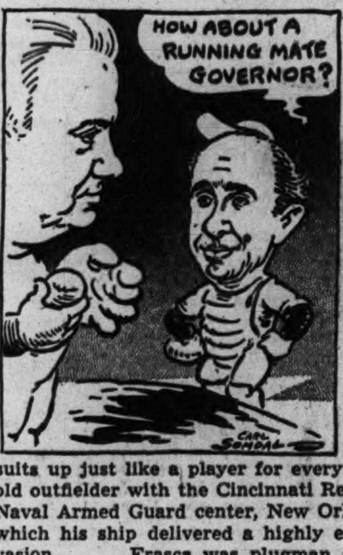
In the WAKE of the NEWS

BY ARCH WARD.

JOHN W. BRICKER, thrice elected governor of Ohio, and George Trautman, president of the American association, once were battery mates at Ohio State university. . . . A linen supply company reports that more table cloths come to them penciled with "x's" and "o's" than with battle maps, and that 99 per cent of the football plays indicate touchdowns have been scored. . . . Notre Dame and Tulane may meet in a Sugar bowl basketball game this winter, which may be a forerunner of a football series between the two universities. . . . New Orleans fans have been clamoring for several years to see the Irish eleven on a New Orleans gridiron. . . . In four world series the St. Louis Cardinals have hit only one home run in their home park, which was contributed by a pitcher, Jess Haines in 1926. . . . In the same four series the Yankees clouted 12 there. . . . The field goal with which John Stungis defeated Illinois, 29 to 26, at Columbus Saturday was his first. . . . Before the 1943 football season becomes history how about a hand for Ray Eliot, whose Illinois eleven has enjoyed success far beyond the hopes of the most optimistic supporters last September. . . . George Munger, Pennsylvania coach, suits up just like a player for every game. . . . Johnny Frasca, 22 year old outfielder with the Cincinnati Reds' Tucson club, has returned to the Naval Armed Guard center, New Orleans, after 10 months at sea during which his ship delivered a highly explosive cargo during the Sicily invasion. . . . Frasca was plugman and gun captain of a dual purpose gun credited with bagging a Nazi plane during the two and one-half day effort of the Germans to halt the invasion.



HOW ABOUT A RUNNING MATE GOVERNOR?
CARL SONDAL

Red Dawson, assistant to Dr. George Hauser, Minnesota football coach, plans to spend the winter in the New Orleans area. . . . Slip Madigan of Iowa will return to his Oakland, Cal., home immediately after the Big Ten meetings in Chicago next month. . . . Madigan likes Iowa and Iowa likes Madigan, so it's likely he will lead the Hawkeyes in 1944, if he can arrange to get away from his Pacific coast interests. . . . Lt. Comdr. Mal Stevens, coach of the Sampson Naval Training station football team, says he has a 220 pound, 6 foot back named Straight who has extraordinary gridiron potentialities. . . . "The only other All-America I spotted early was Larry Kelley in his freshman year at Yale," says Stevens. . . . Some major league magnates continue to be obstinate about night baseball, but watch them dash for the electrical contractors as soon as lamps are available. . . . Clyde Flowers, 4-F captain of Texas Christian's eleven, turned in one of the finest defensive performances ever seen in the Southwestern conference against Texas last Saturday. . . . Blind in one eye and afflicted with a heart murmur, Flowers plays right tackle and in the game against Texas was used as line backer. . . . Texas Christian lost the game, but at the final whistle members of the victorious Texas team crowded around Flowers to pay their respect to a "one man" line.

"To Eddie, with Love from Mom."

A letter today from a mother,
A most quietly moving one,
She asked would I mail my yearbook
To her absent soldier son;
And she told me the date of his birthday,
Then shyly went on to say,
How very much she would like it
If the book could reach him that day.

And then, as if asking entirely too much,
She said if I possibly could,
Would I write a few words on an inside page—
She'd be so happy if I would;
And the few words she asked me to write therein
Sang in my heart like a psalm,
Just a simple line, tender and fine:
"To Eddie, with love from Mom."

Sometimes striving for dash and aplomb,
But the happiest thing I've written, I think,
Was that: "To Eddie, with love from Mom!"

A Wisconsin Lament.

If Harry Stuhldreher only could shuffle a few football scores in a black hat, wave a wand and say—"Presto." Now we have Wisconsin's 7 to 5 victory over Iowa in place of Wisconsin's 6 to 0 loss in 1942 to give the Badgers an undefeated season. Last year Iowa was Wisconsin's only conqueror. In 1943 Iowa is Wisconsin's only victim.

An Indiana Mother.

'Twas not without a pang that she gave up
Eight of her children for the nation's need,
And who shall know the gall that filled her cup
Or how her mother's heart was made to bleed!
And yet she wore a smile upon her face
And never let her inner grief erase

Mothers have been the heroes of all wars,
In every fray they play the major part,
And none may ever look upon their scars
Because the battlefield is in their heart;
And when there comes a time of tragic loss
They bravely stand with Mary at the cross.

Please tell him, Lord, he's in our thoughts,

IRISH FAVORED TO RUN STREAK TO NINE IN ROW

BY WILFRID SMITH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Notre Dame, Ind., Nov. 17.—Notre Dame's young football team, unanimous choice as the nation's No. 1 aggregation, will meet the Iowa Seahawks, the No. 2 team in the same national poll, here Saturday afternoon. Both are undefeated and this fortunate climactic pairing is expected to attract a crowd of 50,000.

The attendance estimate is furnished by Herb Jones, Notre Dame's ticket manager, who has been deluged this week in orders by telephone, telegraph, and mail. Other officials, despite the number of tickets still available today, are insistent that a capacity crowd of 56,000 will attend the battle between the unbeaten teams in which the Irish hope to win their ninth game to continue their spectacular record.

Notre Dame Favored.

Even if the stadium is not sold out, this game has established a record in the university ticket office. Never before has such a large number of tickets been moved in such a short space of time. Larger crowds have seen Notre Dame play this season, and in other years, but the sales were divided. For instance, among New York, West Point, and Notre Dame for the 72,000 crowd which saw the Irish whip the Cadets two weeks ago.

Moreover, this will be a Chicagoland crowd coming to see the midwestern teams which have soared to the top of the nation's football competition. Notre Dame, quite logically, has been made the favorite because of its scoring record already acclaimed as the greatest in Notre Dame history. But there is the undercurrent, even with the most vociferous of Irish supporters, that the Seahawks may topple the Irish.

Maznicki Is Out.

Frank Maznicki, the one time Boston college star, who also played superbly for the Chicago Bears last season, has been eliminated by injury from Saturday's Seahawk lineup. But Irish scouts have reported to their boss, Head Coach Frank Leahy, that other personnel losses announced this week will not materially affect the Pre-Flight varsity. They point to the invaders' rugged line and to former professionals who hold key positions at end, guard, center, and half back.

The place kick for the point after touchdown is one of Leahy's primary concerns this week. Johnny Lujack has taken Angelo Bertelli's place successfully as Notre Dame's passer and field general, but so far no player has matched Bertelli's consistency in place kicking. Bertelli, for example, kicked all five points after touchdowns against Michigan. Last week at Northwestern the Irish did not score a point by kicking, altho Lujack rushed the ball over for one point after a kick was blocked.

John Yonakor Returns.

John Yonakor, 6 foot 4 inch Irish end who has been the particular target this year for forward passes, returned to practice this afternoon after yesterday's session with marine physicians who pulled a tooth and patched up his lip, mementos of last week's game.

Notre Dame spirit never has been higher. Keyed by their eight victories, the players are determined to maintain their record, but Irish success has pointed the Seahawks' objective.

FAUROT NAMES LINEUP.

Iowa City, Ia., Nov. 17 [Special]. —Coach Don Faurot today assembled a tentative starting Seahawk lineup for the Notre Dame game Saturday, but there were question marks behind the names of a couple of cripples.

Faurot is not sure whether Nick Kerasiotis, guard, or Ted [Duke] Curran, half back, will be in shape. Both have been limping. The lineup:

N. U. EXPECTS ILLINI TO SCORE

Strong Offensive to Be Wildcats' Defense.

The old football adage, the best defense is a strong offense, will be employed by Northwestern Saturday when it attempts to close out the 1943 season with a victory over its traditional rivals from Illinois in Dyche stadium.

Coach Lynn Waldorf said yesterday that the Wildcats hardly can expect to keep the free wheeling Illini from scoring and that hopes for a Purple victory rest in outscoring the downstate eleven. Waldorf's respect for Illinois' offensive threat stems from the latest conference statistics, which reveal that the Illini rank third in ground gaining with an average of 253 yards per game.

Suiting action to his words, Waldorf sent the Wildcats thru another offensive drill yesterday in which blocking was stressed. He was far from satisfied with the manner in which this fundamental was executed against Notre Dame and feels that improvement must be shown if the Wildcats hope to win Saturday.

Last Game for Graham.

The Wildcats boast a jackrabbit half back of their own in Joe Scriba, 167 pound junior who has filled the right half back position following the departure of Herman Frickey and Dud Kean. In two games as a regular, Scriba has led the Wildcat ball carriers with a 4.8 yards average. Against Notre Dame he gained 52 yards in 11 tries.

Scriba's backfield mates will be Otto Graham, who rounds out three years of stardom at left half; Lynne McNutt, quarter back, and Nick Vodick, full back. Sharing the full back assignment will be Tom Saracino, marine transfer from Denver, who has shown steady improvement.

ILLINI TO SELECT CAPTAIN.

Champaign, Ill., Nov. 17 [Special]. —Coach Ray Eliot has been appointing a captain for each Illinois game this season, but today he said he will let the players name their man for the Northwestern game in Evanston Saturday.

"I'm going to pass out a slip of paper to each man on the squad and ask him to write down his choice this last game," said Eliot.

Since the elected leader, John Genis, went to Purdue with the marines, Eliot has been using an acting captain. He even had an acting captain who acted for another captain in one game. Here's how: Bill Krall had been appointed for the Notre Dame contest, but he was called in the navy V-5 before the kickoff, so Don Greenwood took over. Other captains week by week have been Ralph Palmer, Bob Prymuski, Sam Grider, Larry Forst, Jack Kane, Eddie Bray, Eddie McGovern, and Ralph Serpico.

MICHIGAN WHETS OFFENSE.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 17 [Special].—Michigan will pin its hopes for a victory Saturday over Ohio State on a stout defense and the ground gaining ability of Full Back Bob Wiese and Half Back Bob Nussbaumer, the latter replacing the injured Elroy Hirsch.

Wiese was the game's leading ground gainer when Michigan was beaten by Ohio last year, 21 to 7, and will be the only Wolverine regular Saturday left from that Michigan team.

PURDUE DRILL SECRET.

PLAYERS', CLUBS' SERIES SHARES ARE DISTRIBUTED

Commissioner K. M. Landis announced yesterday that checks, representing the players', clubs', and leagues' shares of the 1943 world series receipts had been distributed. The Yankees, winners of the series, drew $204,962.41 and $136,641.61 was apportioned among the defeated Cardinals.

The American and National leagues and the two contending clubs each received $76,831.25. The commissioner's office retained $102,079.80 and $308,373.48 was turned over to War Relief and Service Fund, Inc.

The Washington Senators and Cincinnati Reds, both second place finishers, each received $36,600.43, the third place Indians and Dodgers $24,400.29 each, and the fourth place White Sox and Pirates $12,200.14 each.

HAWKS SEEK 4TH IN ROW TONIGHT

They'll Battle Bruins on Stadium Ice.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The Boston Bruins, who started the Blackhawks on a big scoring jag a week ago, will be back for more in Chicago Stadium tonight. The Hawks, hotter than that mama's pistol, can hardly wait.

Beginning with a 6 to 4 victory over the Bruins last Thursday night, their first home victory of the season, the Hawks have won three straight contests, registering a total of 20 goals.

Five Goals for Mosienko.

Bill Mosienko, who became the National league's high point scorer in Sunday night's 10 to 5 Hawk victory over the New York Rangers, will go into tonight's game in possession of a tie with one of his opponents, Bill Cowley. Doug Bentley, who went into second place among the league's scorers in the Sunday night contest, now is a point behind Mosienko and Cowley. Cowley caught up with Mosienko in the Boston-Montreal game Tuesday night.

Mosienko has scored five goals and has made seven assists. Cowley has made two goals, both against the Hawks, and 10 assists. Bentley has made four goals and seven assists.

All Teams in Action.

Mosienko and Bentley are on the same line, with Clint Smith at center, and the combination is the high scoring trio of the league. The line has scored 13 goals and 18 assists. The Hawks' second string, composed of Bill Thoms, Cully Dahlstrom, and Mush March, also is among the leaders with 10 goals and 17 assists.

Every team in the league will play tonight and the individual scoring records as well as the league standings are susceptible to a big shuffle. Any of eight players who will play in the Stadium tonight might emerge the leader. Besides Mosienko, Cowley, and Bentley, Art Jackson is only two points off the pace and Herb Cain, also of the Bruins, is only three points back. Smith, March, and Thoms are four points behind the leaders.

16 CHAMPIONS EARN AWARDS BEFORE 3,500

13th Annual Affair Full of Action.

BY FRANK MASTRO.

Eight new Catholic Youth Organization open champions were crowned in the finals of the 13th annual C. Y. O. amateur boxing tournament before 3,500 cheering spectators who filled Ashland auditorium to capacity last night.

Only two of last year's title holders were back last night and both were beaten, Eddie Kaminski losing to Joe Lindsay, and Sam Washington losing to Al Prislinger. The 1943 open winners follow:

112 POUNDS—James Sarenella, St. Philomena.
118 POUNDS—Al Nero, St. Ferdinand.
126 POUNDS—Lloyd Watts, Corpus Christi.
135 POUNDS—Tim Dalton, St. Ludmilla.
147 POUNDS—Al Prislinger, St. Vincent.
160 POUNDS—Collins Brown, St. Anselm.
175 POUNDS—Charles Kuchars, St. Ann.
HEAVYWEIGHT—Joe Lindsay, Corpus Christi.
Corpus Christi won the team trophy.

Sarenella Beats Boyd.

Sarenella, finalist in the city Golden Gloves tournament last spring, captured the flyweight medal by outpointing Jackie Boyd, rangy blond puncher from Precious Blood.

Nero, 17 year old student at Steinmetz High school, made it two championships in a row when he defeated Andy Wrobleski of Sacred Heart. Last year Al walked off with the novice C. Y. O. bantamweight honor.

Watts also scored his second consecutive trophy by defeating Louis Kick of St. Joseph, Libertyville. Lloyd, 1942 open 118 pound winner, had too much experience for Kick, who gained a novice Golden Gloves championship last February.

Tim Dalton Wins.

Tim Dalton, this year's city Golden Gloves lightweight, won the 135 pound prize in one of the most exciting fights on the spectacular program. He outpunched Abe Lee, Chinese student of St. Rita High school, after three of the stormiest rounds of his career.

Prislinger's conquest of Sam Washington developed into the roughest battle of the evening. Al, who will report for duty as a soldier at Fort Sheridan this morning, floored Washington in the first round, but Sam scored a knockdown in each of the second and third rounds. His roughhouse tactics probably cost him the bout.

Brown was given the middleweight title by default when Tim Turner, war plant worker, his foe in the middleweight open final, was unable to appear.

Horace Kick of St. Joseph parish in Libertyville was the first novice boxer to be crowned. He was awarded a decision in three rounds over Ted Kolesnik of St. Nicholas for the flyweight title. Kolesnik was substituted for Roger Stevenson, St. Elizabeth, when the latter was rejected by Dr. James V. Russell, chief medical examiner for the C. Y. O.

Aguirre Forfeits Bout.

Bill McLaughlin, Queen of Angels 182 pounder, won the heavyweight medal by forfeit from Joe Aguirre, who was refused permission to box because of a cut eye.

There were two knockouts in the novice battles. Shin Oya, American born Japanese from Holy Name, stopped Anthony Moncardo, Filipino from St. Anthony, in the second round, and Henry Rafacz of St. Michael, Orland Park, stopped Bob Hepman, St. Jarlath, in the third.

Omar Kaihatsu, another Japanese who calls the United States his country, captured the light heavyweight prize when he outpointed Dan Erakovich, rugged, aggressive fighter from St. Susanna.

Tribute Paid to Service Men.

Between the fighting in the two divisions Pierre Andre paid tribute to 700 C. Y. O. boxers and representatives now in the service. He was assisted by the C. Y. O. band and a versechoir, consisting of students of

BADGERS' LINE SHAKEN UP FOR GOPHER BATTLE

Madison, Wis., Nov. 17 [Special].—With Pat Weber and John Eulberg, ends, both nursing injured ankles, Coach Harry Stuhldreher today shifted his regular right tackle, Fred Doar, to right end in an effort to bolster the line for the Minnesota game Saturday. The placing of Doar at end sent Penn Carolan to tackle with Dick Prins as his running mate and brought John Davey and Gil Pellett in as first string guards.

The Badgers held a lengthy scrimmage and looked good. Bob Piper, shelved the last two weeks because of a badly cut hand, returned to right half back and may replace Don Kindt in the starting lineup.

GOPHER GUARDS PICKED.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 17 [Special].—Howard Langpap is expected to start at right guard for Minnesota in Saturday's game with Wisconsin, which would leave Bob Graiziger in a reserve role. Graiziger had held the starting position up to the time he was injured in the Northwestern game. Harry Weber is scheduled to be at left guard.

Coach George Hauser today concentrated on a pass defense drill. The Gophers have been rather weak in this department in previous games.

Minnesota's season will end with two tough assignments. After meeting their traditional rivals Saturday, they will encounter the Iowa Seahawks the following week.

DRILL ON KICKING.

Marty Keib, a 200 pound full back from Pittsburgh, who formerly played at Duquesne, was the center of attraction yesterday as Fort Sheridan stressed kicking in preparation for the sixth service football game with the Camp McCoy, Wis., engineers in Wrigley field Sunday.

Lt. John Phills, Sheridan coach, spent considerable time coaching Keib both in punting and kicking extra points from placement. Keib has demonstrated his kicking ability in earlier games and will share the punting assignments with Bill Sims, Chicago half back and the team's top ground gainer.

MEISTER BRAUS TIE SHIRTS FOR CLASSIC LEAD

Monarch Beers, defending champions, continued their winning ways by sweeping three games from the United States Brewery, making it 13 victories in the last 15 games. Dick Winsberg of the Monarchs had the high single game of 245. The scores:

Georgia Tech Passing Star Leads Nation

New York, Nov. 17 (AP).—Away down south they say you can't keep a good man down. Big Eddie Prokop of Georgia Tech is one example of this 1943 season. In the first few games Eddie was just another football player. Then he started to go places. Each Saturday he climbed up in the official football statistics released by the National Collegiate Athletic bureau.

This week Prokop is leading the nation's passers and is threatening to overhaul Bob Hoernschemeyer of Indiana as collegiate football's top back in total offense. Prokop's 14 completed passes against Tulane last week enabled him to jump from fourth to first place in attempts for a percentage of .492 and 729 yards.

Georgia Freshman Moves Up.

Hoernschemeyer has gained 1,502 yards in 324 plays and Prokop 1,276 yards in 245 plays. Others high in yardage are Johnny Cook, the sensational Georgia freshman, with 1,271; Steve Van Buren, Louisiana State, 994, and Stan Koslowsky, Holy Cross, 997.

Hoernschemeyer is runner-up to Prokop in passing with 60 complete pitches in 139 tries for an average of .432. Next comes Cook, with 56 out of 129 for .434, followed by Tony Tubka of Temple, 51 out of 98 for .520 [the best percentage], and Lucas, with 46 out of 119 for .387.

Van Buren Holds Lead.

Van Buren continues to lead in gains from scrimmage. Tony Butkovich of Purdue and Bill Daley of Michigan, tho they haven't played for two weeks, still hold second and third place, with Creighton Miller of Notre Dame fourth. Miller picked up 151 yards rushing against Northwestern Saturday. His total now is 760, or 57 yards less than the 817 credited to Daley.

Neill Armstrong of Oklahoma A. and M. continued first among pass receivers. He has caught 28 in five games for 238 yards. Marion Flanagan of Texas A. and M. remains in second place with 21 caught for 298 yards.

Aschenbrenner Moves Up.

Frank Aschenbrenner of Marquette moved from sixth to fourth to show the best gain of the week among the punters. His figures are 25 kicks for an average of 41.44 yards. Bob Bacock of Brown continues to lead with 19 for a 43.42 average. Next comes Bob Kellogg, North Carolina Navy, 21 and 42.14; Roxie Rankin, Arkansas, 12 and 41.74; Aschenbrenner, and Harold Cox, Arkansas, 30 and 41.40.

Lane Tech Wins City Prep Soccer Crown

Lane Tech won the soccer championship of the City High School league for the fourth consecutive season yesterday by defeating Tilden, 6 to 4, in Gage park, in an overtime contest.

Phillips Seeks 10 Straight in Title Play-Off

BY FRANK NORRIS.

Phillips will enter the City High School league football championship play-off game Saturday afternoon in Soldiers' field a 2 to 1 favorite over Steinmetz, its opponent. If Phillips is successful it will mark the first time an all Negro football team ever won the league's championship. Victory would send Phillips into the 10th annual Mayor Kelly bowl game against the Catholic league champion in Soldiers' field on Nov. 27.

The championship shield which will hang in the portals of Phillips entrance, however, will not be the first ever won by the school. Back in the early part of the century before Phillips was converted exclusively into a Negro school, its teams competing in the south section of the league tied for two championships. In 1913 it tied Englewood for the title and two years later figured in a three way tie for the championship with Englewood and Lane Tech.

Phillips Is Unbeaten.

The Negro lads are undefeated in nine straight games. Steinmetz has won seven of its nine. Phillips opened the season with a 26 to 0 triumph over Roosevelt of Gary, Ind., and then swamped Kelly, 28 to 0, in nonconference games. Off to a winning start, the Cats went to work on their central section rivals. They routed Farragut, 49 to 0, beat Lindblom, 13 to 0, disposed of Tilden, the defending champion, 6 to 0, Gage Park, 38 to 6, Englewood, 52 to 2, and Du Sable, 36 to 0. The last victory sent Phillips into the play-offs. Tilden's defeat was its first in three years in the central section.

Lou Tortorelli is the coach of the prospective champions. Tortorelli has done a fine job moulding this team. He planned from the start to build his team around a lightning fast human named Claude [Buddy] Young. Young is the state high school 100 yard dash champion and is a triple threat left half back.

Young Holds Scoring Title.

The Negro flash captured the league's individual scoring title with 96 points tabulated on 16 goal line crossings. He scored three more when Phillips eliminated Amundsen for the play-offs, 19 to 0, last Saturday. These three in addition to two others scored in the Kelly game gives him a total of 21 for the season.

Luckman Last Game Report Proves Hoax

BY EDWARD PRELL.

Either a practical joker or one with an ulterior motive wasted a handful of telephone slugs yesterday calling Chicago daily and neighborhood newspapers with the information that Sid Luckman, the Chicago Bears' quarter back and record breaking forward passer, had played his last game of the season.

The telephone artist even called the Bears' office and tried to establish communication with General Manager Ralph Brizzolara. The report gained such headway that it drew the attention of the United States maritime service in Chicago.

Bears Rule as Favorites.

The caller represented himself as a member of the merchant marine headquarters staff in the old postoffice building and gave a telephone number which proved to be that of a chain grocery store. Luckman, he said, would fly to New York Saturday to go into active service with the merchant marine. Even Luckman, the caller said, didn't know about it, but he would get his orders in the mail tomorrow.

One theory advanced was that gambling interests were trying to spread the report to affect the betting odds. The Bears are slight favorites to win. At even money, Bear fans are offering 6½ points, with Washington supporters asking for 7½ points.

This false report did result in good news for Bear fans, tho. Lt. F. L. Edwards, public relations man for the maritime service in Chicago, checked with New York and learned that Luckman will finish the season with the Bears. Then he will report for duty at Sheepshead Bay maritime service school, possibly as an athletic officer. He recently was sworn in as an ensign. He is married, has a child, and engages in the trucking business when he's not throwing touchdown passes.

Drills in Chicago.

Sid was back in Chicago yesterday for the team's first workout since the spectacular 56 to 7 victory over the Giants Sunday in the Polo Grounds. The squad will drill today and tomorrow, then leave in the afternoon for Washington for the National league game of the year against the champion Redskins.

Luckman, who shattered two of Cecil Isbell's league passing records in Sunday's game, is on the trail of at least another one. Last year, Isbell's passes gained 2,021 yards in 11 games. Luckman's current figure for eight games is 1,808 yards. He needs 214 yards in the Bears' two remaining contests to crack the record.

Last season Luckman threw only 105 passes. This year he has pitched 158, completing 91. He has thrown more passes, completed more, for more yardage, for more touchdowns, and for a better percentage, in blanketing all league rivals this year.

Bears Lead in Offense.

The statistics show what was generally known—the Bears shade the Redskins on offense, with the opposite holding true on defense. The Bears have played eight games, the Redskins six. The Bears have averaged 32⅝ points a game to the Redskins' 29⅓; 16¼ first downs to 11 5/6; gained 421 yards to 311; scored 4⅝ touchdowns to 4⅓. The Bears have completed .532 per cent of their passes to Washington's slightly superior .537. The Redskins' punt average is 45.2 against 37 and they've been penalized only 271 yards to Chicago's 579.

Opponents have averaged only 9⅝ points against the Redskins, while the Bears have yielded 14. Running plays against the Bears' line have averaged 3.7 yards and only 2.2 against the champions. The Bears are superior in pass defense percentage tho, .312 to .394.

"DOLLAR TO DIG IT OUT!"
"WHY?—MY RADIATOR'S SAFE!"

COLD meets defeat!—because this Anti-Freeze holds out against HEAT

$29.41 is the average price, among popular cars, for a new radiator alone...if you can get one. But even supposing that you could get free repairs on your present radiator after a freeze-up, the manpower shortage still might lay up your car for a week or two. Just your inconvenience would be costly.

Same old "scare stuff," do you say? Yet here's what may be all new to you: You could easily sacrifice your car to the cold, unless your anti-freeze is able to save itself from the HEAT!

In Winter car operation, heat is fully as much a factor as cold, and Super Pyro anti-freeze is ready for both. Because Super Pyro won't be all "gone with the heat" every time, you needn't keep adding a lot to give your car safe passage through a whole string of cold spells.

You don't pay anywhere near a top price for Super Pyro. And yet how it lasts. So will your cooling system, because this highly heat-safe, cold-safe Super Pyro also protects against dangerous clogging rust. Now—while most dealers still have some—get your Super Pyro.

OPA CUTS PORK RATION VALUES BY TWO POINTS

Extends Hog Price Floor Thruout U. S.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 17 [Special]. — The government tonight slashed ration point values of all pork cuts by two points.

At the same time, to keep farmers' returns on hogs from being driven too low, it extended price supports to all hog markets. Heretofore, such support has been in effect only at Chicago.

The reduction in ration point costs of pork, described by Price Administrator Chester Bowles as temporary, is effective at 12:01 a. m. eastern war time Friday.

The cut will make some pork items point free, it was said. The higher valued cuts will be reduced at least 20 per cent and the average point reduction will be one-third.

Lard Is Not Affected.

The reduction applies only to pork and 100 per cent pork sausage and does not change the present point value of lard, sausages not made exclusively from pork or any other products rationed under the meat-fats order. Canned meats made from pork remain unchanged.

A decline in wholesale hog prices in Chicago and other major live stock centers below the $13.75 per hundredweight level at which WFA more than a year ago promised it would support the hog market prompted today's action. Record hog receipts have overtaxed meat packing facilities causing hog prices to decline.

[Meat production in federally inspected plants last week was 406 million pounds, a 4 per cent increase over the preceding week, the war meat board announced.]

Marvin Jones, war food administrator, declared that "every power of government" will be used to maintain prices of live hogs "at not less than" the support prices of $13.75 "Chicago basis."

May Withhold Subsidies.

One of these powers, he disclosed, would be the withholding of government meat subsidy payments from any meat packing establishment that buys hogs at a price below the support price during December and for such further period as such payments are provided.

Jones said that in addition to reducing pork ration values to encourage consumption and withholding subsidy payments from uncoöperative packers, WFA would take the following steps immediately to assure a $13.75 Chicago hog market:

1. Farmers will be authorized for a period of 90 days to slaughter on their farms any hogs owned by them and to deliver this pork to consumers without first obtaining a federal slaughter license.

2. Farmers will be urged to get in touch with their marketing agency before shipping their hogs, because slaughtering facilities have been overtaxed.

3. The government will stand ready to buy "and is buying" federally inspected products "at prices which will enable slaughterers to pay not less than the support price."

Explains Support Price.

"The support price at Chicago for good to choice butcher hogs [barrows and gilts], 200 to 270 pounds weight range, is $13.75 per hundredweight. Prior to Nov. 29, 1943, the support price at other markets shall be the support price at Chicago, adjusted by the normal price differential, as affected by present conditions, between Chicago prices and prices at such other markets."

PRICES STRONGER

Altho packing plants thruout the nation were loaded with more animals than they could butcher yesterday, prices of some classes rallied at the Chicago stock yards as receipts fell off from the high records established last week. Top lambs advanced 25 cents. Steers and yearlings were strong, and cows advanced 25 cents. Hogs sold steady to 10 cents.

Mine Owners Meet Union in Wage Parley

Washington, D. C., Nov. 17 (AP).—A new start was made today toward negotiation of a contract between John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers and the owners of soft coal mines. At the invitation of Harold L. Ickes, secretary of the interior, now operating the mines for the government, Lewis and operators representing a majority of the soft coal tonnage sat together for two hours, then adjourned after agreeing to meet tomorrow.

Anthracite operators are ready to undertake negotiation of a contract and may meet with UMW representatives next week.

New Lineup Foreseen.

Some operators are ready to withdraw from the Appalachian wage conference, the principal agency for soft coal wage contracts, and a new agency may be established tomorrow.

Ickes has indicated the UMW and mine owners must agree on a contract before the government will relinquish control of the mines, seized after the general strike of Nov. 1.

Since any contract agreement must be submitted to the war labor board for approval, the renewal of negotiations may mark the first step toward a new coal crisis.

Three public members of the WLB have openly expressed doubt that they could approve a union-owner contract embodying the temporary working agreement which Ickes and Lewis signed.

Miners' Time at Issue.

The question raised by the WLB members concerning the Ickes-Lewis agreement is how much additional working time it actually requires of miners. Under the old contract, which expired last April, the miner's basic wage was $7 for a 7-hour day of time actually spent at the coal face. In negotiating a new contract, Lewis demanded pay for time spent in underground travel.

Coal men, talking of a possible new wage conference, said Harry Moses, spokesman for the captive mines [owned by steel companies], had withdrawn from the Appalachian conference. Moses told reporters this was not true, that the men who met with Lewis at Ickes' invitation did not represent the Appalachian conference, and there was no way he could withdraw when it was not in session. He said he did not intend to participate in the current negotiations.

It was said a new conference might take in Illinois, Indiana, and Alabama operators, who in the past have negotiated separate contracts.

CHICAGO FIRM'S RAPID RIVETER GETS WAR TRIAL

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 17 [Special].—A pneumatically operated hand tool, said to drive rivets six to eight times faster than heretofore deemed possible, was introduced to the army and navy and west coast aircraft industry today by Walter G. Mitchell, chief engineer of the Independent Pneumatic Tool company, Chicago, to speed bomber production.

The new device will drive four "blind" rivets a minute for installation of deicers and instrument panel assemblies, Mitchell said. It is designed to replace slow operating hand cranks and believed adaptable to numerous processes.

Weighing only 4¾ pounds, the device is portable and easily handled. The company's factories are in Aurora, Ill., and Los Angeles.

DISTILLERY SHARES.

Answer: Earnings of the big distilling concerns have been well maintained despite the complete stoppage of whisky production, and the smaller companies' shares have reflected the purchase offers of the major companies.

Distilleries currently are producing industrial alcohol needed for war uses. Voluntary rationing of liquor sales has been offset by lower distribution costs and concentration on the more profitable brands.

To assure the continuity of their principal brands, some of the big distillers have purchased or made offers to purchase smaller companies and thereby obtain their whisky stocks. Aside from the high prices tendered, these offers have had the additional attraction, to the small companies, of a possible maximum tax of 25 per cent on the gain realized if the business is sold intact, as compared with the far higher corporation income tax, surtax and excess profits tax on ordinary earnings.

MOST OF ACTIVE STOCKS DECLINE ON TAX SELLING

New York, Nov. 17 (AP).—Stocks declined today altho some prominent issues managed to pare earlier losses. Liquor, chemical, steel, rail and motor shares felt the weight of liquidation, some reflecting transactions made for tax purposes.

This type of selling, together with uncertainties emphasized by new wage demands on Ford Motor company and indications other manufacturers would get union requests soon, weighed on sentiment.

Allied Mills, which has a liquor subsidiary, was one of the most active issues, touched a new 1943 peak and finished ⅜ ahead at 35⅜. American Distilling lost 4½, Schenley 1⅜, Park & Tilford 2⅛ and Hiram Walker 1¼.

CHICAGO PRICES DIP.

Declines became more general on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday with some increase in activity. Among volume leaders Chicago corporation was up ⅛, Commonwealth Edison steady, and Libby, McNeill & Libby and Midland United A preferred down small fractions.

BOULEVARD BANK CALLS VOTE ON STOCK DIVIDEND

A special meeting of National Boulevard Bank of Chicago stockholders was called yesterday for Dec. 14 to vote on a plan for the distribution of a 50 per cent dividend payable in stock. J. De Forest Richards, president, said the distribution would be carried out provided congress does not cancel the income tax exemption on such dividends, a contingency set up by several other Chicago banks in planning similar stock distributions.

Richards said the directors intend to continue dividends at $4 annually on the increased number of $100 par value shares. Capital is to be increased from $500,000 to $750,000 under the plan, surplus from $500,000 to $600,000, and undivided profits from $50,000 to $100,000.

Ford Workers Ask Pay Over Wage Ceiling

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 17 (AP).—Wage increases for approximately 160,000 employes of the Ford Motor company thruout the nation, with a consequent scrapping of the "Little Steel" formula, were asked today by the CIO United Automobile Workers.

The union already has before the War Labor board demands for wage and other adjustments in its contracts with General Motors, Chrysler, and other large manufacturers in the automotive industry.

Today's demand upon the Ford company followed the adoption of a resolution by the CIO national convention in Philadelphia early this month calling for a scrapping of the "Little Steel" formula.

Ask Post-War Security.

Richard Leonard, national Ford director for the UAW-CIO, and Percy Llewellyn, chairman of the union's national Ford council, presented it in a letter to Harry H. Bennett, company personnel director, asking that negotiations be begun on Dec. 1.

Besides wage increases, the union asked for the establishment of a post-war security fund, revision of the vacation bonus payment to provide for increased benefits, and subsidization of employes' insurance premiums.

No specific rate of wage increase was suggested in the letter to Bennett. The union's announcement of the demands brought from I. A. Capizzi, of counsel for the Ford company, the statement that the demands were the same as those made several months ago upon other large companies.

Principle Called Wrong.

Leonard, discussing the demands said:

"The entire principle of the 'Little Steel' formula is basically wrong. This is evidenced by the fact that President Roosevelt has appointed a committee, including R. J. Thomas, president of the UAW-CIO, to find out what the cost of living actually is.

"Labor's wages have been frozen by this formula, while no adequate curbs were placed on executives' salaries, on prices, or profits.

"We therefore are demanding that the Ford company negotiate with us new rates without regard to the 'Little Steel' formula."

Ask Textile Pay Hike.

New York, Nov. 17 (AP).—A general wage increase of not less than 10 cents an hour for all textile workers was demanded today by the national executive council of the Textile Workers Union of America [CIO].

Cook Electric to Hoist Army-Navy 'E' Today

The Cook Electric company yesterday received the army-navy "E" award at ceremonies held in the Lane Technical high school auditorium. Today the "E" flag will be hoisted over Cook's main plant by a marine corps color guard. The Globe company Saturday will receive the United States maritime commission's award of merit for outstanding production achievement.

PEAK DEMANDS FOR WAR PAST, SAYS MOULTON

Harold G. Moulton.

The peak of war production requirements is past, Harold G. Moulton, president of Brookings institution, Washington, D. C., yesterday told the American Finance conference at its 10th annual meeting in the Palmer House.

"While the volume of production and employment has not reached the total estimated to be necessary, it is none the less clear that the peak of requirements is already past," Moulton said. "The termination of contracts for certain classes of war products has been under way for some months, and in recent weeks the rate of cancellations has been steadily increasing.

Some Output Exceeds Needs.

"Of more significance is the fact that the situation with respect to many raw materials has been greatly eased, and in some cases there is concern over the increasing size of the so-called stock piles.

"Current production of numerous strategic materials is now exceeding current requirements. Moreover, the process of disposing of surpluses has already begun, giving rise to no little apprehension as to the effects upon commercial markets."

Modifications in the war production program and easing of the raw materials and available plant capacity situations are making it possible to begin "even now the process of reconversion from war to peace," he said. Increased allocations of materials are being made for civilian needs, "and already production and employment are increasing in some civilian lines."

Freedom Outlook Brighter.

Moulton predicted the process of demobilization and transition to peace time production would extend over two years. The gradual process, he said, will ease the shock of readjustment and also the employment situation.

Moulton said that "private enterprise, involving the assumption of long term risks in the hope of gain,

Bankers Ask Congress to End Farm Co-Op Credit Subsidies

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 17.—Organized banking today urged congress to end government subsidization of agricultural coöperative credit agencies. It proposed that government capital either be withdrawn from the agencies or a minimum of 3 per cent interest be charged for its use.

The request was made by members of the American Bankers' association to the select committee of the house committee on agriculture assigned to investigate the activities of the farm security administration. The association's attack was aimed primarily at the production credit system.

Held Challenge to Banks.

W. L. Smith, vice president and cashier of the First National bank, Lake Geneva, Wis., testifying for the association, told the committee that "continuation of a government subsidized credit system constitutes a threat to the survival of our whole system of rural banking and the free enterprise system of which it is a part."

"From my knowledge of the farmer in my community," he added, "I know that he would prefer to have both a farmer owned coöperative credit system and a country banking system from which to obtain his credit needs, instead of a government dominated and controled system as the only place he could go."

Not a Dollar Returned.

Smith said the government created the production credit system with 120 million dollars of capital from the United States treasury. He asserted the system had been in operation 10 years, and during those years farm prices have risen steadily but "not a dollar of this government capital has been returned" even tho it has been "the most favorable economic period in which a coöperative credit organization could operate."

Rep. John W. Flannagan [D., Va.] told the bankers that if they "jump on" the production credit agencies, they should remember the government "has been generous" with the banks. He said he "would like to see the federal government get out of the production credit associations" but that the withdrawal of government capital from the system now "would be fatal" to many of the 529 production credit associations.

HIGH COURT MODIFIES RULING KILLING PART OF SMALL LOANS ACT

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 17 (AP).—The Illinois Supreme court modified today its September nullification of an entire section of the Illinois small loans act by ruling invalid only the challenged provision of the section.

The original opinion upheld a Cook county Superior court decree enjoining enforcement of the provision which prohibits small loans licensees from pledging notes or securities except with state authorized banks. It sustained a complaint by the Metropolitan Trust Company of Chicago that the provision discriminated against trust companies.

The section also provides against misleading advertising and sets up various licensing requirements. Today's ruling leaves these provisions in effect.

Approve Equipment Note Sale by Nickel Plate Road

Washington, D. C., Nov. 17 [Special]. — The interstate commerce commission today authorized sale by the Nickel Plate railroad of $2,025,000 of 2⅛ per cent equipment trust certificates to Halsey, Stuart, & Co., Chicago, at 99.39 per cent and accrued dividends.

ICC AUTHORIZES C. & O. TO BUY WHEELING STOCK

Washington, D. C., Nov. 17 (AP).—The interstate commerce commission today authorized the Chesapeake and Ohio railway to purchase 60,000 additional shares of the common stock of the Wheeling and Lake Erie railway. The acquisition will give the Chesapeake and Ohio and the Nickel Plate railroad, an affiliated company, approximately 67 per cent of the stock of the Wheeling and Lake Erie.

The C. & O. is acquiring the Wheeling stock thru Blyth & Co., New York, at a price of $52.21 a share, or a total of $3,132,000. The same order authorized the C. & O. to acquire later 14,357 shares of Wheeling common or preferred stock, stipulating a maximum price of $65 a share, about the current market price. Negotiations have not been completed for these shares.

BLACK MARKET IN FISH TERMED NATION'S WORST

Washington, D. C., Nov. 17 (AP).—J. J. Babb, of the Booth Fisheries corporation, Chicago, told a congressional committee today he believed "we have in the fisheries industry the worst black market in the United States today." He estimated 50 per cent of total production, and 75 to 80 per cent of fish under OPA price ceilings, were going into illegal channels.

READY CAPITAL BIG ADVANTAGE TO WAR PLANTS

Current High Profit Level Deceptive.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

The corporations that have ready capital to shift quickly back into civilian production are expected to have a distinct advantage in the competition for markets after the war.

The high level of war time profits gives a deceptive appearance of financial health to many corporations, in the opinion of men specializing in appraising business risks. Scores of concerns, particularly smaller companies, that are reporting the largest profits in their history, will find it difficult, if not impossible, to finance the conversion of their operations to civilian lines.

Many highly successful producers of war materials are already strapped for cash. Notwithstanding the fact that their profits are higher than before the war the financial outlook for many of these concerns is not promising. A check of the financial statements of a dozen typical companies heavily loaded with war contracts emphasizes this fact.

Will Lack Needed Cash.

With the termination of war contracts many companies that have enjoyed high profits during the war will find themselves without the cash and other quick assets needed to resume their former civilian production or embark on new enterprises. This is strikingly demonstrated by the balance sheet position of many smaller enterprises. But it is a situation not peculiar to small companies. Many large successful manufacturing companies

ALL DELIVERIES OF WHEAT RISE TO NEW PEAKS

Distillers Enter Market for Big Purchases.

Removal of hedges against sales of cash wheat estimated above 2,500,000 bushels in leading markets advanced futures ¾ to 1⅜ cents yesterday on the Chicago Board of Trade, all deliveries reaching new seasonal highs. December sold at $1.60½, a new peak for the delivery since 1925 and closed at the top.

Other grains moved upward on the strength in wheat. Oats advanced ¼ to ⅝ cent, rye ¾ cent, and barley ¼ to 1⅛ cents.

Distillers Reënter Market.

Reports that the office of price administration would announce a ceiling on hard winter wheat shortly and offer a subsidy estimated at 75 to 100 million to mills to prevent an advance in the flour ceiling attracted wide attention. As a result, distillers were said to have entered the market for large supplies of wheat, believing that if the price went to the prospective $1.66 ceiling there would be little grain for sale. Mills were also said to have bought wheat, altho flour sales were reported small because of the squeeze between wheat prices and the flour ceiling.

Under Government Control.

Altho the department of agriculture reported a large stock of wheat on hand on Oct. 1, brokers contended that so much of the total is under control of the government thru outright ownership or loan pledges that commercial interests have had to bid up the price to obtain grain.

Belief was expressed by brokers that trading in wheat, oats, and barley futures will soon be a thing of the past, if the OPA promise to create ceilings becomes effective. Operations in corn and soybean futures have been banned by government decree, the government itself having purchased the entire soybean crop at $1.80 a bushel for No. 1 and No. 2 yellow at country loading points.

PEAK OF DEMAND FOR WAR GOODS PAST—MOULTON

Raw Material Supply Meets Needs.

cannot possibly operate effectively or at full capacity so long as doubt exists as to the permanency of the system," but added that its future "seems to be much less uncertain now than for many years." Two factors chiefly responsible for the change, he said, are the remarkable war production achievement of private enterprise and the fact that the public "is getting fed up with regimentation."

He said world economic rehabilitation would be facilitated by the Moscow declaration "which opens the way to the preservation of peace by means of international organization, backed by adequate police power."

Palyi Discusses Debt Danger.

The national debt is the outstanding factor in trying to gauge the post-war economy, Dr. Melchior Palyi, consulting economist of Chicago, told the conference in an earlier talk. He predicted a national debt of approximately 300 billion dollars which would mean, because of its short term character, just that amount of accumulated purchasing power in the hands of the public and of corporations.

He predicted a buying rush lasting two weeks to a month after the war ends, to be followed by a period of "restrained purchasing," which may last four months to a year. This recession will be a period of falling prices thruout the world and those in the consumer financing field will have a period of expansion to bridge the interval to a succeeding period of rising prices, he said.

READY CAPITAL BIG ADVANTAGE TO WAR PLANTS

now are working on an extremely slight working capital margin. Even liberal treatment in the way of termination credits and speedy settlement of government claims will not solve the financial problems of these enterprises.

The premise on which the war department and other procurement agencies of the government have proceeded is that manufacturers could afford to produce war goods on a small margin of profit. This policy is the basis of the present repricing procedure under which the war contractor is told what profit he retains after completing the job. This review of contract prices is said to shield industry against the charge of profiteering. At the same time, it is noted, it protects the government procurement agencies against possible criticism of their pricing policies.

Challenge Paul's Comment.

Randolph E. Paul, general counsel for the treasury, is authority for the statement that corporations will find themselves in an "enviable" financial position if the war ends this year. That statement is challenged directly by those familiar with the finances of a large number of companies handling war contracts in this area.

Testifying Oct. 27 before a senate military affairs subcommittee, Paul stated that corporations increased their holdings of currency and bank deposits by 19 billion dollars in 1941 and 1942. By the end of this year, he indicated, the increase in the liquid assets of corporations for the three year period would reach 33 billions. There was no reference in the testimony to the growth that has occurred in the current liabilities of corporations.

Liabilities Mount Fast.

An independent check of a dozen well known companies shows that in every case current liabilities have increased more rapidly than the quick assets. The ratio between current assets and liabilities had declined during the war years for all but one of the dozen concerns. The corporation that had the most favorable current ratio before the war had current assets at the end of 1940 that were 5.4 times its current liabilities. On June 30 this year its ratio was 2.7. It is the only one of the dozen companies whose present current ratio is better than 2 to 1. The present current ratios of the other 11 concerns, based on latest reported figures, ranges from 1.1 to 1.9. Immediately prior to the war most of them had current ratios of 3 to 1 or better.

Dividends Are Smaller.

The figures presented to the subcommittee by Paul disclosed that corporations in the aggregate have net increased their dividends to stockholders. Distributions in 1942 were estimated at 4 billion dollars or 426 millions less than in the preceding year. Total dividends this year are expected to be less than 4 billions, the treasury estimates showed. The treasury figures presented to the committee emphasized the increase in "retained" earnings of corporations. After dividends and taxes, corporations were estimated to have retained 5 billions, 100 million of their 1942 earnings. The amount this year, it was estimated, will slightly exceed 6 billions.

Evidence suggests that these retained earnings have found their way into inventory, fixed property, and other investment necessary to war production. Working capital funds have shrunk in most instances.

INVESTING COMPANIES

WHAT THEY EARNED

Reliance Manufacturing company set aside 78.1 per cent of its earnings in the first nine months of 1943 for federal taxes, the report of the work garment manufacturer, now busy on war contracts, disclosed yesterday. After deducting $3,400,000 for income and excess profits taxes, the profit was $953,992, equal to $4.06 a share, against $843,615, or $3.55 a share in the 1942 period, when the tax reserve amounted to $2,700,000, or 76.2 per cent of earnings.
